

Library of

Southern Illinois University

PROPERTY OF
SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

SA3
N5
1946
July-Dec.

PROPERTY OF
SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Special to Southern Illinois

Carbondale, Ill., July - June was dry but the temperature ranged from cool to hot in Southern Illinois, a Southern Illinois Normal University weather observer-reports.

Records at the U. S. airway weather station here at the University showed the thermometer climbed from 47 degrees to 96 in June, as compared to a high of 84 and a low of 43 in May, and 71 and 48 respectively in June a year ago.

Rainfall here on the University campus totaled only 1.19 inches, a fourth as much as in May and about a tenth of the June, 1945, precipitation. In May 4.86 inches of rain fell here while in June a year ago the rainfall totaled 11.24 inches.

The University weather station, directed by Dr. Thomas F. Barton, professor of geography, takes weather observations every six hours, filing them with the U. S. Weather Bureau for immediate distribution to airports all over the country. Although a network of such weather stations is spread all over Illinois, this is one of about a half dozen in the state which takes six-hour readings.

"We are a 'sending' station, not a 'receiving' one," Dr. Barton explained, "so our reports show the weather conditions right here on the campus.

"It is likely that our temperature readings correspond fairly well with those for a substantial section of Southern Illinois, but the rainfall may vary from light showers in one locality to a heavy downpour a few miles away."

###

Carbondale, Ill., July - Miss Lelah Allison, instructor in English at Southern Illinois Normal University, has been notified that her article, "Folk Speech from Southeastern Illinois," has been accepted for publication in an early issue of Hoosier Folklore, published at Bloomington, Ind.

###

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

From Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July - The Southern Illinois Normal University All-Stars took it on the chin from the Alton Onized nine by a score of 6 to 3 on the loser's diamond here Saturday, June 29. The winners garnered eight hits off the offerings of Edwards, the losing hurler, while the locals touched Lester, the Alton twirler, for only five.

The All-Stars were made up of a group of the University's intramural players who were selected by the captains of the intramural squads. This contest marked the first of the season for the All-Stars.

Alton's big gun was Lovo Dallape, former basket ball star, who rapped two of his team's eight hits and scored two of their tallies. For Southern, Salmons connected twice, driving out two doubles.

The contest started off as a slugfest, with Alton counting two runs in the first half of the initial inning and Southern ~~same~~ roaring back with three runs in the home half of the first, but both pitchers settled down after that and runs were scarce.

Edwards was touched for two in the third and two more in the seventh, but Lester had evidently found the right combination as he shut the door in the face of the Southerners for the remainder of the game.

Edwards walked one and struck out one, while Lester fanned seven and gave only one man free transportation.

###

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Carbondale, Ill., July - A three-day Aviation Education Conference will open at Southern Illinois Normal University Wednesday, July 10.

Theme of the meeting will be "Education for the Air Age," the program being designed to show how aviation progress affects public school education, according to Delmar J. Olson, program chairman.

Conferees--school teachers and administrators from Southern Illinois--will be welcomed by University President Chester F. Lay.

Wednesday morning speakers will be Ward N. Black, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, on "Education for the Air Age," and Horace Gilbert, Civil Aeronautics Authority educational consultant, on "The Federal Government and Civilian Education."

Arrangements have been made at the local airport for those attending the conference to take plane rides during the afternoon Wednesday.

On Thursday, a demonstration of Army Air Forces training aids will be shown prior to the opening session at 10 a. m.

Roy Mertes, associate director of the school and college service of United Airlines, will be the featured speaker at the joint program for conference delegates and University students at the 10 o'clock Student Assembly period.

A representative of the Army Air Forces will lecture on "A.A.F. Training Aids for the Public School," at 11 o'clock.

Group discussions on aviation in the public schools will occupy the afternoon, and conferees will attend a dinner at the University cafeteria at 6 p. m., at which Mr. Mertes will speak on "Social-Economic Implications of Aviation Progress."

On Friday the conference will move to the Parks Air College in East St. Louis, for a tour of the college, the air terminal and aircraft sales center, lunch at the college cafeteria, and informal discussions led by college staff members on "Present and Future Developments in Aviation," "Personal Flying," and "Airport Planning."

The conference is sponsored jointly by the University College of Education and the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Sessions on the campus will be held in Shryock Auditorium."

The first part of the book is devoted to a general history of the United States from its discovery by Columbus in 1492 to the present time. It covers the period of the early settlement, the struggle for independence, the formation of the Constitution, and the development of the Union. The second part of the book is devoted to a detailed history of the United States from 1789 to the present time. It covers the period of the early Republic, the War of 1812, the expansion of the Union, the Civil War, and the Reconstruction period. The third part of the book is devoted to a detailed history of the United States from 1865 to the present time. It covers the period of the Reconstruction period, the Gilded Age, the Progressive Era, and the modern period.

Carbondale, Ill., July - An exhibit of books and educational supplies will be shown at Southern Illinois Normal University July 9-11, Dr. Emerson Hall, associate professor of rural education, has announced.

More than 60 companies have sent in materials to be shown in the exhibit, the 11th annual one held at the University and the largest ever held here, Dr. Hall explained.

School administrators from all over Southern Illinois have been invited to attend the exhibit. A banquet has been arranged for Wednesday evening, July 10, at 6 p. m. in the University cafeteria.

Classes of University students training to become teachers will also attend the exhibit in order to become familiar with the books and other teaching supplies which are on the market.

###

Carbondale, Ill., July - Southern Illinois school teachers and administrators enrolled in the Health Education Workshop at Southern Illinois Normal University will go to the opera--as part of their classwork.

A group of the Health Education Workshop students who are particularly interested in recreation as a phase of health education will charter a bus this week to go to St. Louis to see "The Merry Widow" on July 13.

Other University students, members of the Association of Childhood Education, will also join the party. About 45 or 50 are expected to make the trip.

###

The first part of the ...

The second part of the ...

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July - Appointment of Dr. Maurits Kesner, native of Holland, who combines extensive professional musical experience with high academic training and broad teaching experience, as professor of music and chairman of the music department at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

Dr. Kesner obtained the master's diploma from Royal Conservatory in Amsterdam, then took the master's and doctor of philosophy degrees from the State University of Iowa.

A professional violinist, he has been a member of the Amsterdam Symphony Orchestra, the Royal Dutch Orchestra, the Wiesbaden Symphony Orchestra, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and the New York Stadium Orchestra.

In addition he has had experience as a choral director, and has published numerous musical compositions.

He will come to Southern this fall from Augustana College at Rock Island, Ill., where he has done outstanding work as director of the school of music. He formerly taught at Phillips University, Enid, Okla.

#####

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July - A faculty of 12 members to serve in conducting workshop, tutorial and seminar courses--particularly for veterans--during the period August 5-30 has been appointed at Southern Illinois Normal University, President Chester F. Lay announces.

Two of the members were appointed some months ago--Dr. Douglas E. Lawson and Dr. Ted Ragsdale, professors of education--but due to the demand on the part of student veterans for additional work the University president requested the Teachers College Board for permission to make further expansion of the August offerings.

Other faculty members to serve during August are: Fount G. Warren, professor of education; Dr. John R. Mayor, professor of mathematics; Leland P. Lingle, associate professor of physical education; Dr. William N. Schneider, associate professor of English; Dr. William A. Pitkin, associate professor of social science; John I. Wright, associate professor of history; Robert W. English, assistant professor of industrial education; Dr. Raymond W. Esworthy, assistant professor of business and economics; Ben Watkins, assistant professor of art; and Dr. E. C. McDonagh, assistant professor of sociology.

####

1871

...

...

...

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July -Dates for the annual homecoming of former students at Southern Illinois Normal University have been set for November 1 and 2, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

One of the major features of the reunion celebration will be the football game on Saturday afternoon between the Southern Maroons and Eastern Illinois State Teachers College.

Dr. Orville Alexander, professor of government and director of alumni services, is faculty chairman of homecoming arrangements.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July -The Fulkersons really have a flair for figures!

Three members of the same faculty family at Southern Illinois Normal University were initiated into Delta Rho, professional mathematics fraternity, here this week, joining a fourth member of the clan elected several years ago.

Elbert Fulkerson, assistant professor of mathematics in University high school, and his son and daughter--Ray and June, both University students--were initiated at the same time, Mr. Fulkerson as an honorary member.

Merle, a 1940 graduate of Southern, who has been teaching mathematics at Belleville high school and was recently elected to teach speech in Belleville Junior College, was elected to Delta Rho while in school here.

#

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

1870

Blank lines for additional information or a signature.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

1870

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Ceramic sculptures by Lois Mahier, assistant professor of art at Louisiana State University, are being exhibited in the Little Gallery at Southern Illinois Normal University by the University art department throughout the month of July.

Art exhibits are held at various intervals in Southern's Little Gallery, located on the second floor of the Main Building, and all visitors are welcome.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July --A County Superintendents Conference, called by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Vernon L. Nickell, will be held at Southern Illinois Normal University, Tuesday, July 30, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July --Dr. Robert E. McNicoll, associate professor of history at Southern Illinois Normal University, has been appointed editor of the section, "Colonial Hispanic America," in the Handbook of Latin American Studies, according to recent announcement from the President's Office.

This publication, which is published annually by the Library of Congress, was established in 1937 and was published for five years by Harvard University.

In 1941 it was taken over by the Library of Congress and the Joint Committee on Latin America. The book is a guide to the material published each year on Latin America.

#

1870

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --A one-day health conference and school of instruction sponsored by the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held at Southern Illinois Normal University July 26.

The conference-school is conducted annually at the University for teachers and for ICPT officers and committee chairmen dealing with such fields as safety, exceptional children, mental hygiene, health and parent-education.

A symposium on the topic, "Building for Tomorrow," will comprise the program for the morning session, under the direction of Mrs. P. E. Peterman of Downers Grove, vice president of the ICPT department of health and home service.

Speakers will include Mrs. Frank Dowd of Winnetka, ICPT safety chairman; Ray Graham of the Division of Special Education, State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Lon Morrey of Chicago, director of health education for the American Dental Association; Mrs. W. F. Krahl of Chicago, ICPT mental hygiene chairman; Mrs. Everett F. Butler of Alton, ICPT health and summer round-up chairman; and Dr. Marie Hinrichs, director of health service and professor of psychology and health education at the University.

A parent-teacher school of instruction for local leaders will be held in the afternoon, and a number of round table section meetings will be conducted

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service

†
#

Miss Madeleine Smith, assistant professor of languages at Southern Illinois Normal University, is en route to France on a good-will trip as a guest of the French government.

She was one of 100 American teachers of French chosen by the Cultural Counsellor of the French Embassy in this country to make the two-months' tour. Several of the teachers will make the trip together.

Miss Smith joined the Southern faculty in 1929. From April, 1943, to November, 1945, she was a member of the Signal Corps of the War Department in Washington, D. C. She returned to Southern last December.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --A Southern Illinois Health Conference and school of instruction for officers and committee chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, and for teachers themselves, will be held Friday, July 26, at Southern Illinois Normal University.

Friday morning the conference will meet jointly with the Health Education Workshop currently in session at the University, and in the afternoon will hold a parent-teacher school of instruction for local leaders and round-table sessions on safety, the exceptional child, parent education, mental hygiene, and health.

Speakers at the morning session will be Mrs. F. E. Peterman, Downers Grove; Mrs. Paul Barrett, Carbondale; Mrs. Frank Dowd, Winnetka; Mrs. W. F. Krahl, Chicago; Mrs. Everett F. Butler, Alton, all of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers; Ray Graham, Springfield, Division of Special Instruction, State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Lon Morrey, Chicago, director of health education for the American Dental Association; and Dr. Marie Hinrichs, professor of physiology and health education at the University.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July --Three classes at Southern Illinois Normal University took a three-day trip over the past week-end to study the natural life at Roelfoot Lake near Tiptonville, Tenn.

A graduate class in limnology (fresh water life), an undergraduate class in birds, and a high school biology class made the trip by chartered bus.

Accompanying the students were faculty members Dr. Willard M. Gersbacher, Miss Hilda Stein, Miss Martha Scott, William Merberry and Mrs. Audrey Lindsey.

#

1. Name of the author or publisher
 2. Title of the book or article
 3. Edition
 4. Date of publication
 5. Place of publication
 6. Number of pages
 7. Price
 8. Subject
 9. Language
 10. Notes

11. Name of the library
 12. Date of acquisition
 13. Name of the donor
 14. Name of the librarian
 15. Name of the collector

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Representatives of the Federal Public Housing Authority and Belleville contractors employed by FPHA for the Southern Illinois Normal University veterans housing project were here today and informed University authorities the FPHA would start operations on the project August 1, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

The only work to be done by the University prior to moving in the housing units, University officials were informed, will be to smooth the site. Electrical, water, sewer, and gas facilities can be installed as the units are being remodeled, it was explained.

Negotiations were completed early this week between the FPHA and University and State of Illinois officials for the location of 35 barrack-type units, just west of the campus, to house 105 student veterans and their families.

Early award by the State Department of Architecture and Engineering of contracts for installation of utilities and construction of roads and walks for the project is expected.

The FPHA will convert each of the barracks into three two-bedroom apartments.

#

1871

...

...

...

[Faint, illegible text covering the main body of the page]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Southern Illinois

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July -There are approximately 1,500 crippled children in the 16 counties of Southern Illinois, Miss Grace Borah, of Mt. Vernon, district orthopedic nursing consultant of the University of Illinois Division of Services for Crippled Children, told a Southern Illinois Normal University Health Education Workshop here Tuesday.

Miss Borah pointed out that four out of each 1,000 children are crippled, and only one of the four shows up at the crippled children's clinics for diagnosis and treatment.

She declared that teachers and nurses are not exerting enough care to encourage parents to bring crippled children to the clinics.

Among the cases brought to the Southern Illinois clinics at Mt. Vernon, Shawneetown and Cairo are children with cleft plates, hearing difficulties, epilepsy, rheumatic fever, heart ailments, etc.

Miss Borah was one of several experts in the care of handicapped children brought to work with the students in the Workshop during the first three days of this week.

The others were Miss Jeannette Frasier, supervisor of speech and hearing rehabilitation of the University of Illinois Division of Services for Crippled Children; Miss Martha Black from the State Office of Public Instruction; and Mrs. Jewell Hopkins of the Carbondale public schools, who with her class presented a demonstration of corrective techniques for speech defects.

1877

1878

1879

1880

1881

1882

1883

1884

1885

1886

1887

1888

1889

1890

1891

1892

1893

1894

1895

1896

1897

1898

1899

1900

1901

1902

1903

Faint, illegible text in the right margin, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

-2-

Miss Frasier attributed the majority of speech defects to the following causes: poor speech models (in the family), poor teaching methods; bi-lingualism in the home; efforts to change left-handed children to right-handed ones; emotional difficulties; ill health; hearing deficiencies; mental deficiencies; short span of memory; organic mal-formations of lips, mouth, teeth, throat, nose; accidents and injuries; aphasia caused by injury to the brain; endocrine disturbances; poor motor coordination.

She said that the commonest types of speech defects are: poor articulation--about 85 per cent of all defects found in school children are due to poor articulation; cleft palate, lack of muscular coordination, stuttering and hearing losses.

She urged the use of state services for remedial treatment and the development of community and parental recognition of the need for such treatment.

Miss Black described the processes by which counties and schools may obtain the services of state agencies in the care of handicapped children.

The Health Education Workshop, one of the two being conducted in the State of Illinois this summer by the U. S. Office of Public Health and the State Department of Public Health, has brought more than 50 school teachers of Southern Illinois here on $100 scholarships to study health education methods.

Administrators from 34 Southern Illinois counties will attend the last three days of the workshop session next week, with expenses paid by the State Department of Public Health. All county superintendents of the 34 counties are invited and 45 city superintendents, high school principals and elementary school principals.

#

The first section of the report is a general statement of the purpose and scope of the study. It is followed by a description of the methods used in the collection and analysis of the data. The results of the study are then presented in a series of tables and graphs. The final section of the report is a discussion of the findings and their implications for the future.

The study was conducted over a period of six months. The data were collected from a sample of 100 subjects. The results show that there is a significant correlation between the variables studied. This finding is consistent with the theory proposed in the introduction. The implications of these findings are discussed in the final section of the report.

The study was supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation. The author wishes to thank the following individuals for their assistance in the collection and analysis of the data: [Name], [Name], and [Name].

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Many rare books once owned by Dr. Delia Caldwell, former physician at Southern Illinois Normal University, are now located in the University's Clint Clay Tilton library here, according to Dean E. G. Lentz, director.

Dean Lentz made a visit to the Caldwell home in Carbondale about two weeks ago to obtain some documents concerning early history of Southern, and was surprised and pleased to be told that he could take any of Dr. Caldwell's books that he might wish to. He accepted approximately 96 books and pamphlets.

Three volumes of which he is especially proud are illustrated by Gustave Dore, who also illustrated Dante's Inferno. They are Edgar Allen Poe's The Raven, a huge volume; a copy of The Wandering Jew; and The Fables of Jean de La Fontaine, translated into English verse by Walter Thornsbury, a limited edition.

A curiosity is The Schoolmaster's Assistant by Thomas Dilworth, a volume published in 1812 with title page bearing the legend, "containing a compendious system of practical guaging."

McGuffey's Third Reader, an early edition, is there, as is an 1810 edition of Thompson's The Seasons.

Dr. Caldwell's diploma of her graduation from Southern Illinois Normal University, dated 1878, is singularly interesting and is also of historical significance. It states that she was graduated from the "classical" course, a few of the requirements of which were study of astronomy, advanced mathematics, three years of Latin, two years of Greek. At that time students entered Southern from the eight grade, since there were very few high schools in Southern Illinois.

A June 13, 1878, copy of the Carbondale Observer gives the names of the graduating class of that year.

Dr. Caldwell's posthumous gift is the most recent addition to the Clint Clay Tilton library. Mr. Tilton, 76, retired Danville newspaperman, died at his home in Danville recently. He made the gift of his library--some 2,000 volumes--to Southern in October, 1944. Also included were 20 sectional bookcases, many pictures, plaques, and busts.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July -Appointment of Miss Elizabeth Opal Stone as assistant professor at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

Miss Stone will be assigned to the Wheeler library.

She holds the bachelor of science degree from Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, and the bachelor's and master's degrees in library science from the University of Illinois.

Miss Stone has taught and served in the libraries at the University of Illinois and the University of Southern California, and comes to Southern from the University of Dubuque, Iowa, where she has been head librarian.

She was on the Southern staff from 1929 to 1936.

#

Faint header text, possibly containing a date or page reference.

First main paragraph of faint text.

Second main paragraph of faint text.

Third main paragraph of faint text.

Bottom section of faint text, possibly a signature or footer.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July -The role of two State departments-- public instruction and public health--in the school health program was discussed before an Administrator's Workshop in Public Health Education here at Southern Illinois Normal University Monday.

The workshop will run through Friday, with 34 county superintendents, 39 city superintendents and high school principals, and six building principals in attendance.

The administrator's workshop concludes a six-weeks' Health Education Workshop conducted at the University during the summer term by the U. S. Public Health Service, the State Department of Public Health, the State Department of Public Instruction and the University.

University President Chester F. Lay welcomed the administrators Monday morning. Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of the College of Education, acted as chairman for the morning session which developed the them "Joint Planning for School Health in Southern Illinois."

Speakers were Dr. Leslie W. Knott, medical administrative assistant for the Illinois Department of Public Health, and Foster Keagle, assistant director of health and physical education for the Illinois Department of Public Instruction.

At the afternoon session, presided over by Miss Florence Denny, Faint header text at the top of the page, possibly containing a title or page number.

Main body of faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, possibly a footer or a separate section of text.

assistant professor of physiology and health education, speakers were Glen Fiscus, Lawrenceville, Lawrence County school superintendent, who presented films on health education and a field day in Lawrence County, and Dr. Douglas E. Lawson, University professor of education, who spoke on "An Educator Views the School Health Program."

Round table discussion groups were held Tuesday morning on nutrition, mental hygiene, social hygiene, planning of school health curriculum, and recreation.

On Wednesday morning, Dr. Eleanore Aldworth, teaching supervisor of Onondaga County Health Association, Syracuse, N. Y., a visiting associate professor of physiology and health education at the University this summer, will speak on "The Present Status of the School Health Program."

Panel discussions of the school health program will follow on Wednesday morning and Wednesday afternoon.

On Thursday afternoon, Lester F. Boyd, chief, Division of Local Health Administration, Illinois Department of Public Health, will speak on "The School and the Community Working Together for a Better Health Program."

Friday morning a panel discussion on "Evaluation of the Public Health Education Workshops as a Stimulating Factor in Promoting Better Health in School and Community" will be presented with Frank Bridges, instructor and coach of University High School at Southern Illinois Normal University, Dr. Marie A. Hinrich, professor and chairman of the University department of physiology and health education, and H. O. Belford, superintendent of the Marion Public Schools, as speakers.

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country and the progress of the war. It is followed by a detailed account of the military operations in the various theaters of war.

The second part of the report deals with the political and economic situation of the country. It discusses the various political parties and their policies, as well as the state of the economy and the measures taken to deal with the war.

The third part of the report deals with the social and cultural situation of the country. It discusses the various social classes and their conditions, as well as the state of the culture and the measures taken to deal with the war.

The fourth part of the report deals with the international situation of the country. It discusses the various international organizations and their policies, as well as the state of the international relations and the measures taken to deal with the war.

The fifth part of the report deals with the future of the country. It discusses the various proposals for the future of the country and the measures taken to deal with the war.

The sixth part of the report deals with the conclusion of the report. It discusses the various conclusions drawn from the report and the measures taken to deal with the war.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Friendship and cooperation of Latin America is worth hundreds of million dollars to the United States in time of war, and an incalculable amount in times of peace, a Southern Illinois Normal University professor told the Carbondale Businessmen's Association here this week.

Dr. Robert D. McNicoll, new associate professor of Latin-American history at the University, pointed out that Latin America is struggling to feel its way toward development of its vast natural resources and toward political maturity, and that it is up to the United States to convince its people that our democratic way of life is adaptable for Latin America.

"Why is Latin America important to us?" he asked. "Because in our growing concept of 'one world,' Latin America is the section of the world that is closest to us.

"It has an area three times the size of the United States, a population roughly corresponding to our own, more unexploited natural resources than any other territory in the world.

"Will it be the United States--its economic, political and cultural thinking--that will dominate this vast region, or some other country?"

Latin America wants to develop its natural resources, he declared, and see its own people benefit from those resources. It wants to get out of the rut of a "colonial economy", in which its chief products--coffee and cocoa--are subject to the fluctuations of a world market over which Latin America has no control. It wants to "come of age politically."

Latin America wants the United States to lend the money for this development, but not at the expense of a "lien of its future." Dr. McNicoll explained that by this he meant that Latin America wants the money on such long-range terms that its repayment will not disrupt the new development just as they are getting started.

Latin America wants people from the United States to come to Latin America, "but not as visitors," investing money in Latin-American enterprises, making a quick fortune, then taking that fortune out of the country.

The factors that make it hard for Latin America to "get along" with the United States, he said, are:

(1) "They don't know enough about us." They think North Americans are money-grubbers, and have no culture. North Americans who visit Latin America usually cannot speak Spanish, and cannot address groups of Latin-American intellectual and business leaders.

(over)

(2) Our cultures are different. That of Latin America stems from Europe, from France and Spain. Latin Americans are not familiar with our background, nor are we with theirs.

The United States wants from Latin America: (1) their friendship and understanding; (2) their admiration and liking for the democratic way of life, which, Dr. McNicoll pointed out, "we honestly believe is the best system in the world for the common man"; (3) their trade.

"Latin America as a whole is not yet entirely friendly to the United States," the historian cautioned. "The people are not yet convinced that our way of life--the democratic way--is a way that is applicable to Latin America.

"Our people haven't sent leaders there who can make themselves felt and understood by the Latin-Americans as other countries have."

To attain Latin America's friendship, her conversion to the democratic way of life, and her trade, Dr. McNicoll advocated the exchange of students, professors, newspaper men, writers, and other leaders--but particularly students.

"Every student who comes to North America for his education is a center for the spread of North American culture and ideas when he returns home," he asserted. "It would cost less to bring 1,000 students from Latin America to study here than it would to build one battleship."

(Recently District 149 of Rotary International established a scholarship fund to bring students from Latin American countries to Southern Illinois Normal University.)

"The Latin-American people are trying to feel their way toward democracy," he concluded. "It's up to us to help them, to give them every chance to understand the American way of life--and they will respond."

###

Carbondale, Ill., July - Robert D. Gallegly of Carbondale has been appointed to the post of chief accountant at Southern Illinois Normal University, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Mr. Gallegly, who has already assumed his duties at the University, will take the place of Mrs. Mabel Howell, chief accountant, who has been granted a leave of absence for next year to continue her advanced work at Washington University in St. Louis.

Mr. Gallegly holds the bachelor of education degree from Southern and has much of his work completed toward the master's degree at the University of Illinois. For the past four years he has been a captain in the ordnance department of the U. S. Army.

###

The first part of the document discusses the general principles of the law of contract, and the second part discusses the law of tort. The law of contract is concerned with the legal consequences of agreements between two or more parties. The law of tort is concerned with the legal consequences of wrongful acts which cause harm to another person.

The law of contract is based on the principle of freedom of contract. This means that parties are free to enter into contracts with each other, and to determine the terms of those contracts. However, this freedom is not absolute. There are certain limitations on the freedom of contract, such as the prohibition against contracts which are illegal or against public policy.

The law of tort is based on the principle of liability. This means that a person who causes harm to another person is liable to compensate that person for the harm. The law of tort is concerned with the legal consequences of wrongful acts which cause harm to another person.

The law of contract and the law of tort are two of the most important branches of the law. They are concerned with the legal consequences of agreements between two or more parties, and with the legal consequences of wrongful acts which cause harm to another person.

The law of contract and the law of tort are two of the most important branches of the law. They are concerned with the legal consequences of agreements between two or more parties, and with the legal consequences of wrongful acts which cause harm to another person.

The law of contract is based on the principle of freedom of contract. This means that parties are free to enter into contracts with each other, and to determine the terms of those contracts. However, this freedom is not absolute. There are certain limitations on the freedom of contract, such as the prohibition against contracts which are illegal or against public policy.

The law of tort is based on the principle of liability. This means that a person who causes harm to another person is liable to compensate that person for the harm. The law of tort is concerned with the legal consequences of wrongful acts which cause harm to another person.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Appointment of an associate professor of physics, an associate professor of English, and an instructor in agriculture at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

These three--Dr. G. M. Wissink in physics, Dr. E. C. Coleman in English, and Alex Reed in agriculture--will report for duty this fall.

Dr. Wissink is a graduate of Hope College (Mich.), has done graduate work at the University of Illinois, and obtained both the master's and doctor's degrees from Iowa State Teachers College. He has had 20 years' experience in the teaching profession, including public schools, junior colleges and universities. He taught for a time at Columbia University and recently has been at Mankato (Minn) State Teachers College. At present he is employed by the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Company.

Dr. Coleman holds the bachelor's and doctor's degrees from the University of Illinois, and the master's degree from the University of Wisconsin. After teaching at the University of Illinois, he has been head of the English department at Sul Ross State Teachers College (Texas) for the past ten years, and chairman of the graduate council for the past two years.

Reed, who has taught for 17 years at Brownstown, Ill., and has served there as principal for the past 14 years, obtained both the bachelor of science and the master of science degrees from the University of Illinois. He has also done advanced graduate work there and at Colorado State College.

In addition to these fall appointments, two summer visiting faculty members have accepted permanent appointments at Southern--Dr. Frank Klingberg as associate professor of government, and Dr. Henry L. Wilson as assistant professor of English.

Dr. Klingberg, who took his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Chicago, came to Southern from Knox College, where he was head of the department of government. Dr. Wilson came from the University of Idaho. He holds the master of arts degree from the University of Colorado and the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Iowa. He has taught at both of these universities and also at Purdue University.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July - Dr. Eleanor Aldworth, health teaching supervisor in Onandaga County, N. Y., has joined the staff of the health education workshop at Southern Illinois Normal University for the last five weeks of the summer term, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Dr. Aldworth has been appointed as visiting associate professor of physiology and health education.

She is a graduate of Teachers College, Columbia University, and received the doctor of public health degree from the University of Michigan. Before going to New York, she taught in the state teachers college at West Chester, Penn.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July - Roy Mertes, United Airlines official, and Horace Gilbert, educational consultant of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, will be the chief speakers at a three-day Aviation Conference at Southern Illinois Normal University here July 10-12.

Mr. Mertes, associate director of United Airlines' school and college service, will speak to the conferees and to the University student body at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, July 11, on the subject, "The Influence of Air Transportation on our Economy," and that evening will give a lecture at the conference dinner on "Social-Economic Implications of Aviation Progress."

Mr. Gilbert will be one of the morning speakers at the opening session on Wednesday, July 10, taking as his subject "The Federal Government and Civilian Aviation."

Designed for teachers in the public schools, the conference will emphasize the opportunities for the use of aviation and aviation materials in the classroom.

On Friday, the conferees will be taken to East St. Louis for an all-day tour and program at the Parks Air College.

#

Faint, illegible text at the top of the page, possibly a title or introductory paragraph.

Main body of faint, illegible text, appearing to be several paragraphs of a letter or report.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or footer.

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Wednesday p. m.

Carbondale, Ill., July 10 -Safety is the No. 1 objective of the Federal government's promotional and regulatory activities for civil aviation, Horace Gilbert, educational consultant for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, told Southern Illinois school administrators and teachers here today.

Gilbert was one of the opening speakers at a three-day Aviation Education Conference jointly sponsored by the C.A.A. and the College of Education at Southern Illinois Normal University.

The conference was opened this morning as conferees were welcomed by University President Chester F. Lay.

Dr. E. R. Fair, dean of the University College of Education, spoke briefly on the purposes of the conference, designed to acquaint teachers and school administrators with the opportunities for incorporating aviation in the school's instructional program.

Ward N. Black, assistant superintendent of public instruction, addressed the conference on "Education for the Air Age."

Gilbert reported that by 1940 there was a total of 1,824 airports of all types in this country, "while today there are 4,028."

"We now have 35,651 miles of lighted airways, making a veritable network of air highways all over our land," he explained, "and 3,839 additional miles are now under construction."

He explained that two Federal agencies--the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Civil Aeronautics Board--carry out the government's promotion and

(more)

1. The first part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged rod of length L and total charge Q . We can do this by using the principle of superposition and integrating the contributions of each infinitesimal charge element dq .

2. The second part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged disk of radius R and total charge Q . We can do this by using the principle of superposition and integrating the contributions of each infinitesimal charge element dq .

3. The third part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged sphere of radius R and total charge Q . We can do this by using Gauss's law and the principle of superposition.

4. The fourth part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged cylinder of length L and total charge Q . We can do this by using Gauss's law and the principle of superposition.

5. The fifth part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged plane of infinite extent and total charge Q . We can do this by using Gauss's law and the principle of superposition.

6. The sixth part of the problem is to find the electric field of a uniformly charged wire of infinite extent and total charge Q . We can do this by using Gauss's law and the principle of superposition.

regulation of civil aviation.

"The Board is concerned principally with economic regulation, the formation of safety regulations, and the investigations of all accidents to civil aircraft," he pointed out.

"The Civil Aeronautics Administration primarily is an operating agency and is a branch of the Department of Commerce.

"The CAA operates seven main services: Federal Airways, Airports, Safety Regulations, Aviation Information Field Operations, Business Management and Aviation Training, in addition to the Washington National Airport and the Standardization Center at Houston, Texas."

Through the Office of Aviation Training, the CAA assists the states with their "air age" programs by helping to conduct such conferences as the one currently under way at Southern.

It also carries on an Inter-American training program, bringing promising young men from Central and South America to the United States, training them to be pilots, mechanics, air-control operators, etc.

The aviation education conference will continue through Thursday and Friday. On Thursday, two addresses will be given by Roy Mertes, associate director of the school and college service of United Airlines, one on "The Influence of Air Transportation on our Economy" at the student assembly hour Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, the other at a dinner session on "Social-Economic Implications of Aviation Progress."

Demonstrations of Army Air Forces training adds will be given during the morning, and in the afternoon group discussions will take place on aviation in the classroom.

On Friday the conference will move to East St. Louis, to spend the day at the Parks Air College.

-

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

1884

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through or a second page.

Carbondale, Ill., July 11 -"The nations of the world are closer than were the thirteen original American colonies--thanks to modern air transportation," said Ray O. Mertes, associate director of school and college service for United Air Lines, during the second day of the Aviation Education Conference being held at Southern Illinois Normal University.

Mertes was one of several speakers at the conference which is jointly sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, and the College of Education at Southern. The three-day affair opened Wednesday, July 10, and will continue through Friday, when the group will travel to East St. Louis to spend the day at the Parks Air College.

"It is necessary that we build over 3,000 new airports and improve over 1,600 of the existing ports to handle the projected air traffic of the future and to realize the goal of having every city of 5,000 population or over enjoying air facilities," he said in his talk on "Social and Economic Implications of Aviation Progress."

Mertes also spoke to the student assembly this morning at 10 o'clock.

He pointed out that the world is growing smaller. "In Ptolemy's time--150 A.D., the entire known world was the Mediterranean ocean. Now, because of the airplane, the world is again about the size of that ocean in terms of travel time. But because of this shrinkage, our social, political, and economic problems have increased many times, and the man from Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia is now out backyard neighbor."

During the first day of the conference, Ward N. Black, assistant superintendent of public instruction, spoke on "Education for the Air Age," in which he discussed both the aims of education for the air age and the reasons why aviation education is important now.

"If children are going to live in an air world, they should have a program of education that is appropriate for an air world," he said. "The success of any program for the schools of tomorrow will depend to a very great extent upon coordination of action on the part of the social, economic, educational, political, and spiritual forces of each community."
#

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Release Friday:

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., July 12 --A state warrant for $12,427 was today paid out by the State of Illinois for the purchase of the first tract of land purchased for Southern Illinois Normal University under its 25-year expansion program.

Warrants totaling $87,836 were released today by Governor Dwight H. Green for Southern's land acquisition program, which will embrace a large acreage of land including ten tracts adjoining the present campus.

In a ceremony in the office of the President, Dr. Chester F. Lay, the first warrant was delivered by Frank G. Thompson, director of the State Department of Registration and Education and chairman of the State Teachers College Board, to Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Colp of Carbondale

This was the first purchase of property actually completed in the land acquisition program for the University's $4,623,373 post-war expansion program.

Present for the ceremony here today were Director Thompson, President Lay, Business Manager Edward V. Miles, Jr., Gen. Robert W. Davis of Carbondale, member of the Teachers College Board and member of the board's advisory committee for Southern, Mr. and Mrs. Colp.

#

Faint header text at the top of the page, possibly including a date or page number.

Main body of faint, illegible text, likely a letter or document, spanning most of the page.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or footer.

Carbondale, Ill., July 17 - State officials, representatives of the Illinois Central Railroad and Southern Illinois Normal University officials met Wednesday afternoon in the office of the University president for a conference concerning the proposed re-routing of Highway 51 through Carbondale in connection with the forthcoming expansion of the University campus.

Present at the session were:

From the Division of Highways--L. J. Hills and E. R. Knight, Springfield, and M. P. Boulden, Carbondale.

From the State Division of Architecture and Engineering--C. Herrick Hammond, State architect; Chance S. Hill, State landscape architect, Oak Park, Ill.; Joseph F. Booton, chief of design, Chicago; Marion Jett, Springfield.

From the State Department of Registration and Education--Frank G. Thompson, director and chairman of the Teachers College Board.

Representing the University--Gen. Robert W. Davis, member of the Teachers College Board and member of the board's advisory committee for Southern; President Chester F. Lay, Business Manager Edward V. Miles, Jr., and Administrative Assistant to the President Charles D. Tenney.

Representing the Illinois Central--C. I. Van Arsdalen and A. A. Logue, Carbondale.

###

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July - A series of eight radio broadcasts in round-table fashion, called "New Frontiers--1946," will be given by Southern Illinois Normal University over radio station WJPF, Herrin (¹³⁴⁰1530-k.c.) beginning Monday, July 15.

The discussions, to be presented each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 3:30-4:00 p.m., July 15-31, will take up important topics in our world today, and will give a new concept of the word "frontier." "New Frontiers--1946" will be a program of opinions by University faculty members, who are experts in their various fields of learning. The topics and speakers scheduled include:

"History Lays the Foundation," July 15--Dr. Harold E. Briggs, professor of history; Dr. Robert E. McNicoll, associate professor of Latin-American history; Dr. William A. Pitkin, associate professor of social sciences.

"New Frontiers in Economics," July 17--Dr. Henry J. Rehn, Dean, College of Vocations and Professions, professor of commerce and business administration; Dr. Ralph R. Pickett, professor of business and economics; Dr. Raymond W. Esworthy, associate professor of business and economics.

"New Frontiers in Government," July 19--Dr. Orville Alexander, professor of government; Dr. Frank L. Klingberg, associate professor of government; Dr. William A. Pitkin, associate professor of social sciences.

"New Frontiers in Science," July 22--Dr. T. W. Abbott, dean, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, professor of chemistry; Dr. Willard M. Gersbacher, associate professor of zoology; Dr. O. B. Young, professor of physics and astronomy.

"New Frontiers in Natural Resources," July 24--Dr. Thomas F. Barton, professor of geography; William J. O'Neil, U. S. Forest Service, Shawnee National Forest, Harrisburg, Ill.; Dr. Conrad White, associate professor of agriculture.

more

First paragraph of faint text.

Second paragraph of faint text.

Third paragraph of faint text.

Fourth paragraph of faint text.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through or a second paragraph.

"New Frontiers in Business and Industry," July 26--Dr. Ralph R. Pickett, professor of business and economics; Dr. Raymond W. Esworthy, associate professor of business and economics; Robert W. English, assistant professor of industrial education.

"New Frontiers in Health," July 29--Dr. Marie A. Hinrichs, director, Health Service, and professor of physiology and health education; Dr. Eleanor Aldworth, associate professor of physiology and health education; Miss Gladys Eaton, first grade teacher, Mt. Carmel Public Schools, Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Delle Buzbec, superintendent of schools, Odin, Ill.

"New Frontiers in Education," July 31--Dr. Chester F. Lay, president, Southern Illinois Normal University; Goffrey Hughes, county superintendent, Franklin County, Benton, Ill.; Dr. E. R. Fair, dean, College of Education, professor of education; Raymond H. Dey, director of extension.

Announcer for the programs will be Bill Holder, University student of Carbondale. Robert D. Faner, associate professor of English, will act as moderator.

Music by a student orchestra of Southern will be directed by John Wharton, instructor of music.

#

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Southern Illinois Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., July -Ralph Boatman/^{Carlinville,} graduate of Southern Illinois Normal University who has been doing post-graduate work here this summer, has been awarded an $1800-per-year fellowship through the State of Illinois for graduate work in public health at the University of North Carolina.

He received one of the two fellowships given by the State and was chosen from among 25 applicants.

The terms of the award specify a stipend of $150 a month, plus tuition, books, and a railroad ticket to and from school. After 12 months of training, Boatman will receive the master's degree in public health. He will work for the succeeding two years, after which he will assume another year of training.

He is the second person from the University department of physiology and health education to receive one of these awards. Mrs. Louise O'Neill Parker was awarded a similar fellowship last fall and has studied this year at the University of Michigan.

Boatman received a Navy discharge in January, after four years in service as a Navy pilot.

#

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
LIBRARY

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Dr. Bruce Welch Merwin, professor of education at Southern Illinois Normal University, has received the high honor of being listed in the 1946-47 edition of Who's Who in America.

Born in Iola, Kansas, 1889, Dr. Merwin received his various degrees at the University of Kansas--the A. B. , 1911; the B. S. in Education, 1911; the A. M., 1924; and the Ph. D. in 1929.

Among the positions as an educator that he has held are : teacher in Paris, Tennessee, and Jerome, Idaho; superintendent of schools at Savonburg and Republic, both in Kansas; curator of the Museum at the University of Philadelphia, 1915-19; and principal of the county high school at Sharon Springs, Kansas.

He was an instructor at the University of Kansas, 1926-27, and came to Southern as instructor in 1927. He became director of the training schools here in 1929, serving until 1944. During that year he served as acting president of the University.

Dr. Merwin is a director and one of the founders of the Jackson County Teachers' Credit Union; is ex-president of the Southern Division of the National Education Association; and is a member of the Illinois State Archaeology Society, the American Association of School Administrators, the Society of College Teachers of Education, the Illinois Schoolmasters' Club, and the Illinois Elementary School Principals' Association. He has contributed articles to a number of magazines, and is co-author of Illinois, Cross-Roads of a Nation, historical reader for elementary schools.

He is the only University faculty member listed in Who's Who at the present time. During 1946-47, Dr. Merwin will take his sabbatical years' leave, and attend as a research fellow the University of California in Berkeley.

#

[Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

* * *

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Dr. W. Neal Phelps, associate professor of education at Southern Illinois Normal University and supervisor of student teaching in social studies for University High School, has been listed in the forthcoming issue of Who's Who in American Education.

Dr. Phelps is a graduate of Southern, and obtained the master's degree from the University of Illinois and the doctor's degree from Greeley State Teachers College.

He has served as athletic director at Pittsburgh (Ill.) high school, and later as city superintendent of Pittsburgh; has taught at Benton Township High School, at Shelbyville High School, and at Mt. Vernon Township High School, all in the field of social studies.

He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Kappa Phi Kappa, the American Association of University Professors, and of the Illinois State Historical Society.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July --Tomatoes, peaches, green beans, beets, apples, hominy, chickens--these food items, and many others now in season, are being processed each day by the Southern Illinois Normal University cannery.

In line with National Home Food Preservation Week, July 15 through July 22, and Governor Dwight H. Green's plea to Illinois citizens to preserve fruits and vegetables as their part in "producing food for themselves and for a hungry world," the University cannery processed a total of 237 cans last week, and expect to double that figure this week, according to Mrs. Mabel Caldwell, instructor.

Canning is done for all within driving distance who bring their food prepared and packed in the cans. The actual cooking and cooling are done at the cannery at 6¢ per tin can, 3¢ per glass jar.

#

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Faint text line below the header.

First main paragraph of text, starting with a faint opening word.

Second main paragraph of text.

Third main paragraph of text.

Fourth main paragraph of text.

Small centered text block, possibly a section separator or a short note.

Fifth main paragraph of text.

Sixth main paragraph of text.

Seventh main paragraph of text.

Small centered text block at the bottom of the page.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., July --Guided by John W. Allen, curator of the Museum at Southern Illinois Normal University, the Southern Illinois Historical Society will sponsor a pilgrimage to the French settlements along the Mississippi on August 3, J. Ward Barnes of Raleigh, president of the society, has announced.

Arrangements for the pilgrimage, which will leave the main gate of the University at 8 a.m., will be made by the Rev. H. J. Funke of Carbondale.

Among the points of interest to be visited are the Logan monument and marker at Murphysboro, Rockwood, Mansker House, Chester, Fort Gage, Prairie Du Rocher, Fort Chartres, New Design, Bellefontaine, Whiteside Station, Columbia and Cahokia.

Picnic luncheon will be eaten at Kaskaskia State Park, and dinner will be served by the ladies of the church at Cahokia, at 5 p.m. In the evening a program will be presented by the Cahokia Historical Society.

A special bus will be provided for those who do not drive their own cars. Reservations must be made with Mr. Allen by July 27.

#

Carbondale, Ill., July --First professional entertainment performance in Chicago was given in a private home in February 1834, when a Mr. Bowers presented impersonations, ventriloquism and legerdomain.

This is but one of the facts about the theatrical history of Chicago turned up by Dr. Harold E. Briggs, professor of history at Southern Illinois Normal University, and his wife, Ernestine B. Briggs, who are writing a book on the history of the frontier theater.

Dr. and Mrs. Briggs have contributed the lead article in the current issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society, entitled, "The Early Theater in Chicago."

The first theater was not established in Chicago until 1837, although the first circus visited there a year earlier. The first impresario was Henry (or Harry) Isherwood, who opened his theater in October, 1837, probably offering "The Stranger" as the first play. The following spring he began construction of a permanent theatrical house, variously called the Rialto, the Chicago, the National, or the People's Theater--and located on the second floor of a wooden building on the west side of Dearborn Street.

Also included in the current issue of the historical journal is a book review by Dr. Briggs.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., July 22 - A veterans housing project to accommodate 105 student veterans and their families, will be erected on West Chautauqua Street, a short distance from the campus of Southern Illinois Normal University, University President Chester F. Lay announced today.

Contract has been signed by University and state officials with the Federal Public Housing Authority to set up the emergency housing project, and steps are being carried forward by the State Department of Architecture and Engineering to award site preparation contracts immediately.

The contract with the FPHA, President Lay explained, calls for bringing in 35 barracks each 100 feet in size and each to be converted into three apartments, a total of 105.

The University is responsible for providing water, gas, sewage, and electrical facilities, as well as roads and walks, which are estimated to cost $84,200. Toward this expense, the FPHA will contribute $5,250.

In addition, the University will maintain and operate the project.

The FPHA will assume costs of dismantling the barracks at their present location, transporting them to Carbondale, and re-erecting them. The FPHA will also pay for certain site improvement costs and contractual expenses. Total costs of the project to the Federal government are estimated at approximately $262,000.

The housing project here embraces 85 family housing units allocated by the FPHA to the University for veteran student families, plus 20 units allocated to the city of Carbondale and transferred with FPHA consent by Carbondale to the University. The latter 20 may be used by the University to house either faculty veterans or student veterans, Dr. Lay pointed out. Faculty housing is also critical, and unless additional faculty can be secured the instruction for incoming veterans may be hampered.

Each of the apartments in the project will provide two bedrooms with a closed in e₂ch, a kitchenette, dining-living room, a linen

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, with some lines appearing as distinct sections or headings. The overall appearance is that of a document page with very low contrast and significant fading.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

closet and bath. Each will be heated by gas and have electricity, and hot and cold water.

Furnishings for the apartments will be supplied by the University, largely by surplus materials from the FPHA.

Site of the new housing project is just west of the University campus, at the intersection of Lake and West Chautauqua streets and adjacent to the University baseball field.

This project is one which President Lay and other University authorities have been working on for many months. Last January the University first filed application for emergency housing with the FPHA, as soon as the State Teachers College Board gave its approval to the enterprise.

First approval from the FPHA came for 55 family housing units, and subsequent allotments brought the University's total to 189, plus the 20 from the City of Carbondale, a grand total of 209.

It was stipulated by the Federal government that housing units allotted to an educational institution must be located at any military or government project within 25 miles of the campus, if such project had been declared surplus. This meant that the housing units allotted to the University must be located at the Illinois Ordnance Plant at Crab Orchard, which is only about 12 miles from the campus.

Later developments revealed considerable doubt as to what parts of the Illinois ordnance plant will be declared surplus. Moreover, family housing units totaling only approximately 104 could be provided at the ordnance plant, and permission was finally given to locate the remainder of the University's 209 units here in Carbondale, Dr. Lay explained.

Negotiations are still going forward in connection with efforts to secure 104 family housing units and dormitory accommodations for 306 single student veterans at the ordnance plant.

University officials declined to commit themselves as to just when the Chautauqua Street housing project would be available for occupancy, but said that awarding of contracts is being pushed forward with all dispatch.

###

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Two new instructors have been appointed to the faculty of Southern Illinois Normal University, effective September 16, according to University President Chester F. Lay.

Chalmer A. Gross, who has taught at the Carbondale Community High School since 1930, has been named instructor in science in the University High School, one of Southern's campus laboratory schools conducted by the College of Education.

Mr. Gross received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Illinois, and has had additional work at the University and at Southern. He taught physics at Southern in the Aviation Cadet Candidate Program during the war.

Alvar T. Berghult has been appointed instructor in music in the College of Vocations and Professions. Mr. Berghult received the bachelor of arts degree at Augustana College and the master of arts degree from the University of Illinois.

A high school band director at East Moline, Mr. Berghult's 150-piece summer concert band was being featured in the Chicago Music Festival and also at Sterling and East Moline.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Mrs. Alice Phillips Rector has been appointed to the staff of Southern Illinois Normal University for the next school year, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Mrs. Rector will serve in the University's student guidance and testing program, in the offices of the dean of men and dean of women.

Holding both the bachelor's and master's degrees from Southern, Mrs. Rector was a graduate assistant in the University High School here last year. She has studied at the University of Illinois, and has had five years' teaching experience in Illinois high schools.

#

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - A meeting of county school leaders of 14 Southern Illinois counties to consider possible legislative suggestions to aid in the process of county school reorganization will be held at Southern Illinois Normal University Sept. 12.

One of a series of such meetings being held throughout the State, this gathering has been called by D. L. Lindstrom, chairman of the Illinois Rural Education Committee.

State representatives and senators from the 14 counties have also been invited.

County superintendents, county survey committee members, and others who expect to attend the session are urged to notify Dr. E. R. Fair, dean of the University College of Education, for luncheon reservations. The meal will be arranged downtown since the University cafeteria is not open between terms.

Counties to be represented at the conference are Alexander, Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Hardin, Jackson, Johnson, Massac, Perry, Pope, Pulaski, Saline, Union, and Williamson.

#

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Radio Stations

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. --One of the most symmetrical and least disturbed Indian mounds in Southern Illinois, south of the highway a short distance west of the point where the highway to Ava leaves Route 13, will be among the sites viewed by the Southern Illinois Historical Society on a historical tour August 3.

Explanations of the historical significance of the places visited on the tour will be given by John W. Allen, curator of the Museum at Southern Illinois Normal University, who will direct the trip. The Rev. H. J. Funke of Carbondale is responsible for local arrangements.

The location of the first commercial coal mine in Illinois, dating back to 1882; the Logan Monument on the grounds of Murphysboro's Township High School; and the Logan Memorial Library in the Logan home are other destination points.

Old Brownsville, the Kaskaskia Indian reservation, Cora, Rockwood, Mancker House, Mary's River, Chester, Covered Bridge, Kaskaskia, Pierre Menard's home and grave, the convent near Prairie du Rocher, Prairie du Rocher itself, Red Bud, New Design, Bellefontaine, Waterloo, and Cahokia will be included, also.

Only earth embankments and a few stones of the old powder magazine now mark the spot where Fort Gage stood, Mr. Allen points out. According to tradition, this site was first fortified by the French during their troubles with the Chickasaw Indians about 1736. From time to time it was repaired. For almost two centuries the hill upon which the fort stood has been known as Garrison Hill.

Chester, founded by Samuel Smith, J. L. Lamb, and Thomas Miacher about 1820 was named for Chester, England. It early assumed an importance as a shipping point for the products of a considerable region. Some of the important products shipped from here were meat, and castor oil. Milling became an important industry, and is still. In earlier days, Chester was an important river port.

#

Journal of Southern Illinois Normal University

Continued from page 100. The first of these is the fact that the normal school is a public institution, and as such is subject to the control of the state. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not subject to such control. The second fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

The third fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

The fourth fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

The fifth fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

The sixth fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

The seventh fact is that the normal school is a school of education, and as such is concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools. This is in contrast to the private normal school, which is not concerned with the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. --Three Conservation Workshops for county school teachers will be conducted by Southern Illinois Normal University during August at three centers in Southern Illinois--Chester, Vienna, and Belleville.

The workshops, sponsored by the geography department of the University, will stress practical conservation of resources such as soil, wild life and water, according to Dr. Thomas F. Barton, professor of geography, who is in charge of the program.

Enrollment in the classes will be limited to 30 students each, and emphasis will be given to a study of the actual conservation work being done in the counties from which the teachers come.

Morning sessions of the workshops will be devoted to lectures, films and discussions, while in the afternoons field trips will be made to inspect local conditions of resources.

Representatives of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, the State Department of Conservation, and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will visit the workshops.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. --Delmar W. Olson, assistant professor of industrial education at Southern Illinois Normal University, has an article on design and construction of mounts for scale model aircraft featured in the August issue of Popular Science Monthly.

A second article by Mr. Olson, describing a test on dimensioning practices in engineering drawing, has been accepted for publication by the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education magazine.

[Faint, illegible text block]

[Faint, illegible text block]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Miss Eva Mirabel, distinguished Indian artist, has been appointed artist-in-residence at Southern Illinois Normal University for the next school year, according to President Chester F. Lay.

Miss Mirabel has already won distinction through her exhibits at the Grafton Galleries in Los Angeles, the Santa Fe Art Museum, the Tulsa Art Center, the Addison Gallery of American Art, the Faulkner Memorial Art Gallery, the Dayton Art Institute, and numerous college and University museums. She also has paintings in numerous private collections.

She comes to Southern from the Women's Army Corps, in which she was a staff sergeant. Throughout her career in the army, she developed her work as an artist by painting memorial plaques for the chapels at Fort Dix Separation Center, and murals at Patterson Field, Ohio.

Miss Mirabel will teach, arrange exhibits of her work, and paint murals at Southern. She is the fourth artist-in-residence brought to the University in recent years, the others being Aaron Bohrod, Raymond Breinen, painters, and Miss May Sarton, poet.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Appointment of Ledford J. Bishof as counselor and tester in the U. S. Veterans Guidance Center at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

Bishof is a graduate of Northern Illinois State Teachers College, and has taught in the Glidden School at DeKalb, the elementary school at Berwyn, and the Morton High School in Cicero.

He was recently discharged from the U. S. Army, in which he held the rank of first lieutenant, and served as psychologist and psychometrist.

#

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal document or report, possibly related to the Information Service mentioned in the header. The content is largely illegible due to the low contrast and blurriness of the scan.]

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Courses in library science for school librarians will again be offered this fall by the College of Education at the Southern Illinois Normal University, Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of the college, has announced.

These courses, which give credit toward College of Education degrees, are planned in accordance with recommendations of the Illinois Library Association Sub-Committee on Library Service to Schools, and the Office of the High School Visitor, according to Dr. Howard E. Bosley, associate professor of education and director of the University library.

They are designed for the purpose of offering training for the teacher-librarian, who is defined as "a person who is trained primarily as a teacher, and qualifying for part-time service in the school library by having completed eight semester hours of library science," Mr. Bosley said.

The school library training curriculum at Southern represents the minimum requirement of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and of the Office of the High School Visitor for the person in charge of the library in a high school enrolling from 200 to 400 students, and in an elementary school enrolling from 200 to 500 pupils.

The beginning course, to be offered starting September 16, stresses an acquaintance with book selection aids for high and elementary schools, the development of good judgment in selecting and recommending books to fit the needs of individual pupils, the guidance and development of pupil reading interests, and the ability to select books, audio-visual materials, etc., necessary in the integrated use of the library in the school.

Students who are interested in either high or elementary school librarianship will be allowed to do special work in the area of their choice. Some attention will be given to the reading interests and needs of the retarded pupil.

A full year of library courses will be offered. Courses for the winter and spring terms will stress the use of reference books and other informational tools, cataloging and classification of the book collection, and the administration of the school library.

Main body of the document containing several paragraphs of text. The text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, likely from an adjacent page or a binding margin. It includes words like 'er', 'nd', 'ar', 'ea', 'lav', 'ha', 'ur', 're', 'of', 'to', 'res', 're', 'th'.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention: Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Football practice will start at Southern Illinois Normal University Sept. 9, Coach Glenn ("Abe") Martin has announced.

Some 50 candidates for squad positions are expected to report, including six lettermen from last year and nearly a dozen returning veterans who lettered in former years as well as several outstanding freshmen straight from high school.

Three first-stringers from last season's team will don their jerseys again for the first practice--Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, end, Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, tackle, and Gene Davidson of Harrisburg. Cabutti and Milosevich won all-conference positions last year.

Carl Birkner, Pinckneyville, who frequently alternated with Davidson at right end, Glen Hamilton of Johnston City, center, and Charles Beatty of Benton, end, will also be back.

Among the veterans of former years expected to report for grid duty are Bill Cosgrove of Benton, Nick Milosevich of Zeigler, Bill O'Brien of Zeigler, Laurence Calufetti of Johnston City, Jay Pierrone of Murphysboro, Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler, Bill and Dave Malinsky of Flora, Don and Roy Ragsdale of Carbondale.

Both Bill Malinsky and Roy Ragsdale reached the campus in time to share in the Maroons' basket ball honors last winter, but will resume their football togs this fall for the first time since their return from the armed forces.

The Maroons' first game of the season falls Sept. 28 against the Kirksville (Mo.) State Teachers College.

#

[The following text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a report or a letter, with several lines of text per paragraph. The text is oriented vertically on the page.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. --If your town doesn't have a kindergarten, and you and other parents of pre-school tots are interested in helping your school system start one, why not search the attic and basement for equipment you can contribute.

A Southern Illinois teacher and a Southern Illinois Normal University senior, both enrolled in a summer workshop at the University dealing with pro-school education spent the summer developing a list of equipment needed for starting a kindergarten.

They were Mabel C. Butler of Elkhart, second grade teacher in the Elkhart schools, and Anna Ruth Rhine of Detroit, Mich., a University senior.

Parents interested in helping establish a kindergarten could donate such items as the following, they point out:

Toy household furniture scaled to children's size, such as stove, cabinet, rocking chairs, doll bed, doll cradle, doll buggy, dolls, doll clothes, broom, dustpan, telephone, ironing board, iron, tub, wash board, toy dishes, toy pans.

Scraps of lumber for making shelves, lockers, tables, easels, steps, ladders, saw horses, blocks, peg cars, folding screens.

Outgrown toys such as trains, boats, tricycles, wagons, puzzles, cars and trucks, blocks, colored beads for stringing, tinker dolls--even if disjointed, spools, balls of all sizes.

Children's books and pictures.

Old magazines.

Miscellaneous items such as flower pots, small pitchers, large crock for using clay, rugs for mats and pieces of rugs for floor, lengths of old oil cloth or linoleum, old automobile tires for swings, large and small baskets, kegs or barrels, old pieces of rope, shoe laces.

Wooden boxes or crates--prune boxes, cigar boxes, orange crates.

#

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal document or report.]

M
L
f
A
V
E
A
V
R
S
e
e

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

(Note to Editor: The names in the following list of graduates are so arranged that you may easily select those from your territory.)

Carbondale, Ill., August --77 students completed work for graduation from Southern Illinois Normal University at the end of the summer term early in August.

They include:

ANNA--Margaret Grant Booth, bachelor of science in education degree..

ATWOOD--Effie Grace Kittle, bachelor of science in education degree.

AVA--Maude Smith Gerlach, bachelor of science in education degree.

BENTON--Martha Jane McAfoos, and Lebern N. Miller, bachelor of science in education degree.

BLUE ISLAND--Thomas Nelson Kias, bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

CAIRO--Mary Kathryn Greaney, bachelor of science in education degree; Margaret Kathryn Henderson, bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; Patricia Schultz Kobler, bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

CARBONDALE--Gary P. Brazier, Pearl Williams Easterly, Scott P. Gill, Betty Ann Grater, William Thomas Holder, Mary Elizabeth Miles, George Clay Ragland, Vivian Vickers, bachelor of science in education; John William Hawkins, Robert E. Stiff, Peggy Wilhelm, bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; Lois Lay, bachelor of science degree from the College of Vocations and Professions; Alice P. Rector, master of science in education degree.

CARLINVILLE--Harry Burke Foltz, bachelor of science in education degree.

CARTERVILLE--Wyatt A. Lindsey, bachelor of science in education degree; Max L. Martin, bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

CENTERVILLE--Ethel V. Maxwell Gilbert, bachelor of science in education degree.

CENTRALIA--James Clarence Greer, Rotha G. Witzel, bachelor of science in education degree.

CHRISTOPHER--Herall Cornelius Largent, Gwyneth Lee Williams, bachelor of science in education degree.

COLP--Gaffney A. Taylor, master of science in education degree.

(more)

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

COULTERVILLE--John T. Fullerton, bachelor of science in education degree.

CYPRESS--Guy J. Hunter, bachelor of science in education degree.

DAHLGREN--Everett C. Parkhill, bachelor of science in education degree.

DIX--Lewis W. Dobbs, bachelor of science in education degree.

DUQUOIN--Dwight Teel, bachelor of science in education degree.

ELDORADO--Paul W. McKinnis, bachelor of science in education degree.

ENFIELD--John O. Erkman, bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

GOLCONDA--Cloman D. George, bachelor of science in education degree.

GRANITE CITY--Vivian Elizabeth Lupardus, bachelor of science in education degree.

GREENVILLE--John E. Loftus, bachelor of arts from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

HARRISBURG--Dorothy Jean Dennis, bachelor of science in education degree; Gerald E. Webb, bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

HERRIN--Helen Mar Schwegman, bachelor of science in education degree.

HURST--Claude J. Rose, bachelor of science in education degree.

JOHNSTON CITY--Marguerite C. Barra, bachelor of science degree from the College of Vocations and Professions.

KELL--Virginia Bernice Heflin, bachelor of science in education degree.

MAKANDA--Virgil N. Wheelles, bachelor of science in education degree.

MARION--Cleo Dorris Carter, bachelor of science in education degree.

MCLEANSBORO--Ernest L. Hood, bachelor of science in education degree.

MT. VERNON--Imogene Iris Clark, bachelor of science in education degree.

MURPHYSBORO--Frances Wilma Burkey, Mary Dorothy Jacobs, Elaine Audrey Miller, James Pleasant, bachelor of science in education degree; Esther Jane Craver, bachelor of science degree from the College of Vocations and Professions.

NASHVILLE--Doris Elva Bowers, bachelor of science in education degree.

NOBLE--Murvin H. Brown, bachelor of science in education degree.

OAK PARK--Edythe Miller Gahan, bachelor of science degree from the College of Vocations and Professions.

OLMSTEAD--Rudelle Edmonds, Arthur E. Newbern, bachelor of science in education degree.

PERCY--Edward A. Martin, bachelor of science in education degree; Lorraine L. Waters, bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

(more)

[The text on this page is extremely faint and illegible. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a letter or a report, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

PINCKNEYVILLE--Gladys Pyatt, master of science in education degree.

RALEIGH--Dwight Karnes, bachelor of science in education degree.

ROYALTON--Evelyn Ann Missavage, bachelor of science in education degree..

SWANWICK--Thelma Estelle Quigley, bachelor of science in education degree.

TRENTON--Bertha Estella Kuhn, bachelor of science in education degree..

WEST FRANKFORT--Velia A. Bartolotti, Phyllis June Hays, Carl B. Kuehn, Pearle M. Tato, bachelor of science in education degree.

WEST SALEM--Clara Pixley, bachelor of science in education degree; Victor Arthur Pixley, bachelor of science degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

WOLF LAKE--Cecil G. Trainer, bachelor of science in education degree.

XENIA--Berthal D. Middleton, master of science in education degree.

ZEIGLER--Don Ray Sheffer, bachelor of science in education degree.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., August --Appointment of Dr. Norman Caldwell as assistant professor of history in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by President Chester F. Lay.

Dr. Caldwell is a graduate of Southern, and holds both the master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Illinois, where he served on the faculty for a time. He has also studied abroad, and, until his recent discharge, was a captain in the U. S. Army during the war.

Dr. Caldwell comes to Southern from the College of the Ozarks, where he has been head of the department of history and political science.

“ “ #

Carbondale, Ill., August --Miss Mary M. Kempe has been appointed instructor at Southern Illinois Normal University and assigned to the staff of the Wheeler Library, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Miss Kempe comes to Southern from the public library at Cape Girardeau, Mo. A graduate of Southwest Missouri State Teachers College, she holds the bachelor of science degree in library science from George Peabody College. She formerly was librarian at Sullins College in Virginia.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill. August --A total of 337 Southern Illinois Normal University students are taking advantage of August courses to continue their education.

Of this number, 291 are veterans.

The August offerings, composed entirely of tutorial, seminar and workshop courses, were arranged primarily to take care of "hardship cases" among veterans.

#

Carbondale, Ill., August --Dr. E. R. Fair, dean of the College of Education at Southern Illinois Normal University, has received notice of his appointment to the sub-committee on scholarship of the American Association of Teachers Colleges' committee on standards.

The committee on standards is one of two standing committees of the association.

One of the objectives of the sub-committee to which Dean Fair has been appointed is to improve the association's efforts to attract well qualified young people to the teaching profession.

President Chester F. Lay and Dean Fair attended the annual meeting of the association in Chautauqua, N. Y., during June.

#

Carbondale, Ill., August --Appointment of Van A. Buboltz, assistant professor of commerce at Southern Illinois Normal University, as supervisor of the veterans housing project on West Chautauqua Street, has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

Work is now going on at the site of the project to level the ground. The Federal Public Housing Authority has announced that it would that it would bring 35 barracks--to be converted into 105 family apartments--here October 5 from a Prisoner of War camp in Oklahoma.

#

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into sections, possibly separated by headings or sub-headings, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., August --If your youngster is about ready to enter the first grade, here are some "Do's and Don't for you, compiled by two Southern Illinois teachers who spent the past summer studying in a pre-school workshop at Southern Illinois Normal University.

The two teacher-students who developed the "Do's and Don'ts" were Anna Maxine Daily of DuQuoin, second grade teacher in the McKinley School, and Kaite Salmo of Colp, who teaches first and fourth grade in the Colp Standard School.

Their suggestions--

Don'ts:

1. Do not scare a pupil about his teacher.
2. Don't continually send your child to bed at a late hour, and expect him to do his best in school the next day.
3. Don't let the child become too dependent upon others for such things as dressing himself, serving himself at mealtimes.
4. Don't send your child to school too early and expect the teacher to take the blame for any accident that might happen.
5. If you teach a child to write, do not teach him to make all capitals, but if possible get a manuscript manual to follow.
6. Don't expect your child to learn to read too quickly since he must first pass through a period of reading readiness.
7. Don't hesitate to consult the teacher in any doubtful situation.
8. Don't send your child to school when he shows signs of general illness, such as temperature, skin rashes, running nose, watery.
9. Don't fail to send a written excuse with your child after he has been absent or tardy.
10. Do not send your child to school without first giving him an adequate breakfast.
11. Don't stay with the child the first day of school. It will cause him to cling to you. Let him get acquainted with the other children and the teacher.

(more)

Do's:

1. Remember the teacher is sincerely interested in your child.
2. Read carefully all notes that are sent home and return the answers quickly.
3. Mark with his name each article of clothing that he takes off in school.
4. Send your child to school clean. Do not ask the other children or the teacher to love a dirty child.
5. Buy rubbers and boots large enough that the child can remove them alone.
6. Teach your child the name and the values of the coins he brings to school.
7. Take your child to the zoo and other places of interest and encourage him to retell his experiences.
8. Join the Parents Teacher Association, and take part in school activities.
9. Talk to him and plan with him as you would an adult.
10. Let your child help with the dishes, to rake the yard etc. This will teach responsibility.
11. If possible give your child the benefits derived from attending kindergarten.
12. Teach your child to keep all foreign objects out of his mouth and nose.
13. Help your child to build up a library of small books. Tell him stories and let him retell them.
14. Help your child to form the habit of being on time and going home immediately.
15. Teach your child to be courteous and respectful.
16. Cooperate with the school in seeing that your child has a physical examination.

#

The first part of the document is a letter from the Secretary of the Board of Education to the Board of Trustees of the University of the State of New York. The letter is dated the 15th day of January, 1892, and is addressed to the Board of Trustees of the University of the State of New York, at Albany. The letter contains a report on the progress of the Board of Education during the year ending on the 31st day of December, 1891.
 The report is divided into two parts, the first of which contains a general statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year, and the second of which contains a detailed statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year. The first part of the report is a general statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year, and the second part of the report is a detailed statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year. The first part of the report is a general statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year, and the second part of the report is a detailed statement of the work of the Board of Education during the year.

pr
 an by fr sh
 Un
 Chi
 Un
 end
 He
 and che in and Sta

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., August -Two appointments to the faculty of Southern Illinois Normal University, Dr. Mary Eileen Barry as assistant professor of foreign languages, and Dr. Lewis A. Maverick of Los Angeles as associate professor of economics, have just been announced by University president, Chester F. Lay.

Dr. Barry will succeed Miss Helen Baldwin, who recently retired from the University after many years of service as a teacher of Latin. She has taught in the University of Chicago and the University of Orego

She received her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Manitoba, and her doctor's degree from the University of Chicago.

Dr. Maverick received his bachelor's degree from Washington University, his doctor of education degree from Harvard University, and his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of California. He has been an assistant in education at Harvard University, registrar and lecturer in education at the University of California, and the chairman of the department of economics at the University of California in Los Angeles.

He is the author of numerous articles in the field of education and economics, and has written three books: Economics and Social Statistics; Time Series Analysis; and China: A Model for Europe.

#

1912

[Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

S
I
e
e
Ph y
the Cit sou bet
of Hal bar his ini pre rea
e car
he

Southern Illinois

Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., August -Twenty three co-eds of Southern Illinois Normal University, members of the Alpha Delta Chapter of the Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority, are attending the sorority's national meeting which is being held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August 20-22.

The group left Sunday by special car from St. Louis, accompanied by another Delta Sig division from Illinois. They will return August 25

Washington, D. C. was the stopping point for the first day, with the remainder of the trip to be divided among Philadelphia, New York City, and Niagara Falls. Sites of interest in Philadelphia which Southern's representatives will see include Independence Hall, the Betsy Ross house, Valley Forge, Franklin Institute, Drexel Institute of Technology, Temple University, University of Pennsylvania, Congress Hall, Girard College, and many other places.

Two of the twenty three students, Miss Florine Schlueter of Carbondale, president of Southern's Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority, and Miss Nell Bradley of Anna, treasurer, are official delegates from the University, and will have their expenses paid by the national organization.

Money for the trip was raised by the girls during the past school year through bridge parties, a hat sale, and cookie sale.

The co-eds are hoping they have a chance for the prize that will be awarded to the girls covering the greatest number of miles, to be computed by multiplying the number of miles for a group's trip by the number of girls in the group.

Approved by the Board of Trustees, August 1922

The purpose of this service is to provide information to the faculty and students of the university. It is a service which is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university.

The service is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university. It is a service which is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university.

The service is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university. It is a service which is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university.

The service is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university. It is a service which is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university.

The service is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university. It is a service which is intended to be of help to all who are interested in the work of the university.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - Two more upper-bracket faculty members have been appointed at Southern Illinois Normal University, to assume their duties at the opening of the fall term, September 16, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

They are Dr. P. Merville Larson as associate professor of speech and Charles M. Behrman as assistant professor of business, both in the College of Vocations and Professions.

Dr. Larson comes to Southern from a position as head of the department of speech at the Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville. Educated at Kansas State College, Colorado State College, the University of Colorado, the University of Denver, and Northwestern University, he obtained the doctor of philosophy degree from Northwestern.

Among the colleges at which he has taught are the Hutchinson (Kan.) State Teachers College, the Moorhead (Minn.) State Teachers College, North Park College, Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, and Southwest Texas State Teachers College.

Mr. Behrman is a graduate of Ball (Ind.) State Teachers College and obtained the master of arts degree from Northwestern University. Before going into the Army, he was employed by the Delco Remy Company for four years.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Aug. - The appointment of Mrs. Margaret Shaw Lynch of Gillespie to serve as faculty assistant at Southern Illinois Normal University beginning September 16 has been announced by University President Chester F. Lay.

Mrs. Lynch, a graduate of Southern, will serve in the physical education department of the College of Education. She has taught at the University High School, in the Elmwood Park High School, and has served as a stewardess for the United Air Lines during the past year.

#

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal report or letter, possibly detailing administrative matters or a specific project. The layout includes several distinct sections separated by horizontal lines, suggesting a structured format. The text is oriented vertically on the page.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention: Sport Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - All high school students will be admitted to Southern Illinois Normal University football games for 40 cents plus tax, providing each presents an activity ticket or an identification letter signed by his high school principal, Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced.

The Maroons' first game will take place on September 28 against Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers in MacAndrew Stadium here in Carbondale. This will be Boy Scout Day and many scouts of the surrounding district are expected to attend.

Southern has an eight-game schedule this season, with five of the contests slated as home affairs. After Kirksville, the Maroons will entertain Southeastern Missouri State Teachers on October 5. Their next home game will be on October 19 against Arkansas State and then on November 2 comes the Homecoming game when Eastern State Teachers will come to town to do battle with the Martin-men. The final contest to take place in Carbondale this season will see Southern taking on Northern State Teachers November 16.

The three out-of-town games will take place on October 12, October 26, and November 9, when Southern will play State Normal at Normal, Western State Teachers at Macomb, and Evansville College at Evansville, Ind., respectively.

The Maroons are expected to have a hard-hitting squad when the men round into shape. At the present, Martin is bothered with injuries and "T" formation inexperience, but with the many lettermen veterans and the influx of high school players, the Carbondale gridders are expected to turn out to be a well balanced squad.

#

Volume 1, No. 1, 1966

The first issue of the International Journal of Psychology was published in 1966. It was the result of a long and fruitful collaboration between the International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP) and the International Association of Experimental Psychology (IAEP). The journal's primary concern is the publication of original research papers in the field of psychology, with particular emphasis on applied and experimental work.

The journal is published quarterly, and each volume contains four issues. The editorial board, consisting of leading psychologists from various countries, oversees the selection and review of manuscripts. The journal's content is broad and interdisciplinary, reflecting the diverse interests of the IAAP and IAEP members.

The International Journal of Psychology is a peer-reviewed journal, and its articles are widely cited in the field of psychology. The journal's focus on applied and experimental research makes it a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners alike. The journal's history is a testament to the international collaboration and shared interests of psychologists worldwide.

The journal's content is broad and interdisciplinary, reflecting the diverse interests of the IAAP and IAEP members. The journal's focus on applied and experimental research makes it a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners alike. The journal's history is a testament to the international collaboration and shared interests of psychologists worldwide.

The journal's content is broad and interdisciplinary, reflecting the diverse interests of the IAAP and IAEP members. The journal's focus on applied and experimental research makes it a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners alike. The journal's history is a testament to the international collaboration and shared interests of psychologists worldwide.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

SPECIAL to Southern Illinois Dailies:

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. --A plea that Southern Illinois Normal University students--2,570 strong--will accept the hardships of over-crowding in good spirit was voiced at the first student assembly of the 1946-47 session by Gen. Robert W. Davis of Carbondale, member of the State Teachers College Board.

General Davis spoke as a member of the board's advisory committee for Southern, which works in close cooperation with the University administration.

He referred particularly to crowded classrooms, shortage of books at the bookstore, food shortages, and difficulties in finding adequate housing.

"With the largest enrollment in the University's history, the accommodations here are taxed far beyond their normal load," he explained.

"You may ask why the University did not foresee this vast increase in enrollment, and prepare for it.

"As a matter of fact, the University administration--President Lay (Dr. Chester F. Lay, president of the University) and other University officials--and the board itself did foresee the demands that would be made on Southern as well as on other colleges and universities throughout the country.

"Every effort humanly possible has been made by the University and the board to make it possible for you to attend Southern. Appropriation of four and two-thirds million dollars for post-war expansion here at Southern was secured from the last general assembly. The money is available--but it is literally impossible to obtain building materials.

(more)

"We can't get additional books for you, because of the critical paper shortage. We can't get additional chairs for your classrooms because of the critical shortage of lumber and other materials.

"We have made every conceivable effort to obtain emergency housing. As you doubtless know, construction is under way on 105 apartments out on Chautauqua Street, west of the campus, to be used for married veterans. This project was obtained by the University through the Federal Public Housing Authority.

"It will not be ready for occupancy as quickly as we had hoped, for we are being held up on priorities for essential materials such as water pipelines, electric lines, etc.

"But University officials have called on the citizens of Carbondale and nearby towns to help meet the housing shortage, by converting all their spare rooms, garages, attics and basements into student accommodations.

"The University has added some 35 faculty members this fall, to help furnish instruction for you, and is still adding more as rapidly as personnel can be found. New class sections have been added, to help you get the courses you want, as far as possible. Faculty members are teaching longer hours, and the classrooms are in use from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening, and often at night.

"So let me assure you that all of us have done everything that could possibly be done to accommodate this big enrollment.

"Won't you, for your part, take the inconveniences and discomforts with a minimum of griping? Be good sports about it, and realize that as rapidly as other steps can be taken to make the situation better, the University administration and the board will take them.

"Southern has a wonderful future ahead of it, and you students will in the years to come have the opportunity of contributing much to its progress and welfare. As loyal, informed students and ex-students, you can do far more than any other individuals or groups to help us make Southern a great regional University."

#

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

TO THE HONORABLE SENATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
I HEREBY RECOMMEND THAT THE FOLLOWING BE APPOINTED
AS ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY
FOR THE YEAR 1921-22
AND THAT HE BE PERMITTED TO HOLD HIS PRESENT POSITION
DURING THE YEAR 1921-22

THE SENATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
HAS THE HONOR TO RECOMMEND THAT THE FOLLOWING BE APPOINTED
AS ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY
FOR THE YEAR 1921-22
AND THAT HE BE PERMITTED TO HOLD HIS PRESENT POSITION
DURING THE YEAR 1921-22

THE SENATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
HAS THE HONOR TO RECOMMEND THAT THE FOLLOWING BE APPOINTED
AS ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY
FOR THE YEAR 1921-22
AND THAT HE BE PERMITTED TO HOLD HIS PRESENT POSITION
DURING THE YEAR 1921-22

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Expansion of industrial education in the College of Vocations and Professions at Southern Illinois Normal University took a step forward this week with the appointment of Dr. W. C. Bicknell as professor of industrial education and chairman of the department, according to President Chester F. Lay.

Dr. Bicknell comes from the University of Missouri, where he has been director of the mechanic arts program.

During the war years Dr. Bicknell has had extensive industrial experience, serving as head of the Testing, Grading, Routing, and Research Program in the Naval Diesel School at the University of Missouri, and as supervisor at the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation, Kansas City.

Before going to the University of Missouri he taught at the State Teachers College, Kearney, Neb., where he served as acting director of the industrial education department and as dean of men.

A graduate of North Texas State Teachers College, he obtained both the master of arts and the doctor of education degrees from the University of Missouri and has also studied at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Dr. Bicknell will assume his new duties here at the opening of the fall term, Sept. 16.

###

1871

General

...

...

...

...

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Unseasonably cool weather predominated in this section of Southern Illinois during August, though rainfall wasn't as heavy as in August a year ago, a Southern Illinois Normal University weather observer reports.

Peak temperature for the month was 95, three degrees cooler than the highest recorded in August a year ago and an even five degrees below July's "hottest day," 100 degrees.

The thermometer went as low as 47 degrees in August, compared to a low of 58 in July and of 51 in August, 1945.

Rainfall last month totaled 4.62 inches, compared to 3.09 in July and 7.20 in August last year.

The readings were taken by the U. S. Airways Weather Station here on the University campus, maintained by Dr. Thomas F. Barton, professor of geography.

###

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Several outstanding grid stars who formerly flashed on Southern Illinois high school football fields last year are expected to report for practice this fall here at Southern Illinois Normal University, Coach Glenn ("Abe") Martin has revealed.

Southern's practice season will start Monday, Sept. 9, a week before the opening of school, with the first game called for Sept. 28, against Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers College.

Among the new talent Martin looks for will be "Shag" Crouch, who played high school football for Community High here in Carbondale and later played a year at the University of Kentucky. The 245-pound Crouch is enrolling at Southern this fall, and Martin rubs his hands with satisfaction as he talks about this prize.

A 200-pounder from Fairfield, the coach's old home town, is another experienced husky whose acquisition pleases Martin. Bob Ethridge is his name. He went into the Air Corps from high school and lettered three years ago with the Iowa Sea Hawks (pre-flight). Martin doesn't yet know whether he'll put Ethridge in the guard spot or at tackle.

Martin is counting up about 50 candidates who've indicated they'll show up for practice next Monday, including several lettermen from last year's conference runner-up team, as well as about a dozen veterans who lettered in former years.

Southern's schedule this year is as follows, with game time for home games moved up to 2:30, instead of the customary 2 o'clock: Sept. 28, Kirksville, here; Oct. 5, Cape Girardeau, here; Oct. 12, Normal, at Normal; Oct. 19, Arkansas State here; Oct. 26, Western, at Macomb; Nov. 2, Eastern, here (Southern's Homecoming); Nov. 9, Evansville (Ind.) College, at Evansville; Nov. 16, Northern, here.

###

Information Service

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly related to the educational department mentioned in the headers. The content is largely illegible due to the low contrast and fading of the original document.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. -To see what Iowa has done with worn-out tenant-run farms, three Southern Illinois Normal University faculty members took a 1,000-mile swing through the neighboring state during the first few days of September--a jaunt that may have far-reaching benefits for Southern Illinois agriculture.

Dr. Henry J. Rohn, dean of the College of Vocations and Professions, Dr. R. C. Cassell, professor and chairman of the agriculture department, and Irving Peithman, manager of the University Farm, made the four-day trip.

They visited nine farms owned by a foundation of the State College of Iowa and operated by tenant farmers.

"It was exciting to see what has been done in the last eight years, since the foundation took over the farms, to rehabilitate them," Dean Rohn reported.

"They were so dilapidated and worn out that the tenants who operated them previously had been losing more money year by year. Now all are making money, not only for the foundation but also for the tenants."

The Iowa State College project came as a result of the gift to the college of the nine run-down farms plus a $100,000 cash endowment from an investment concern which had acquired the farms through foreclosure and failed to make them pay.

Object of the enterprise has been to rehabilitate the farms and make them productive enough to support families.

"The process has been slow," Dean Rohn pointed out, "first because of the suspicion with which the tenants and surrounding farmers regarded the 'long-haired professors' from the college.

"They naturally felt that the college would sink great sums of money into building up 'show places' which would utilize impractical methods and equipment.

"But they have found that the college has followed a policy of spending only small sums similar to those which practical farmers could afford to spend. The idea has been to carry out improvements that are within reach of the farmer next door.

"They found out that the foundation director, W. W. Wallace, had no intention of dictating to the tenant what he should do, but only of suggesting and working with him. In each improvement undertaken, the tenant himself had to pay half the cost, so it was up to him to make the final decision as to what should be done."

(more)

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal document or report.]

The first farm the Southern Illinois men visited was a 160-acre combined dairy- and hog-farm, once pockmarked with deep gulleys, eroded, the soil virtually worthless. Under the Iowa State College management, the gulleys were filled, erosion was stopped, the land was treated with lime and phosphate. Now excellent corn grows on land that was abandoned as farm land 25 years ago.

The tenant himself became interested in improving the looks of the farm, and has planted shrubs, built sheds, remodeled barns, built a milk cooler.

This farm was underlaid by "hard pan" as is some of the soil of Southern Illinois, the University visitors discovered, and they became much interested in the techniques by which the Iowa State College foundation was overcoming this handicap.

"Dr. Cassell and Mr. Peithman, I know, learned a great deal that they will be able to pass on to our agriculture students here at Southern and on to the farmers of Southern Illinois," Dean Rehn declared.

At the second farm the group visited they found gulleys covered, no visible erosion, a good corn crop, fine permanent pasture--and a well-dressed, well-groomed farm wife "as attractive as any city housewife."

The third farm, near Iowa City, was a dairy farm that formerly had 12 head of cattle and now has 30. The tenant sells $700 worth of milk to Iowa City markets each month. Except at haying time, the tenant himself is able to do all the work on this farm and thus keep expenses down and profits up.

A local advisory committee of neighboring farmers acts in a consulting capacity for each farm, under the Iowa plan, Dean Rehn said. This committee pays an official visit to the farm once each year, and is of particular assistance in selecting the best tenant to occupy the farm, when a change is necessary.

"As a matter of fact, some of the tenants get to be such good farmers, and become so prosperous, that they want to buy their own farms," Dean Rehn explained.

"The trip through Iowa was highly profitable for us," he said. "Some of the farming methods that are in use on those farms would be quite satisfactory here in Southern Illinois. They'll have to be tested out, to see whether they will work 'as is' on our land here or whether some variation would be better."

Dr. Cassell, who was formerly on the Southern faculty and who engaged in war research work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture during the war years, will return to the University this fall to head the department of agriculture.

(more)

Faint, illegible text covering the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

"As we rebuild our agriculture department, which became depleted during the war, we are striving to make very sure that it will be of the greatest possible service to the farmers of Southern Illinois," Dean Rehn declared. "This trip through Iowa certainly offered some challenging ways in which a college can serve the farmers."

###

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Indications are that some 2,500 students will enroll at Southern Illinois Normal University here next Monday, Sept. 16, for the opening of the 73rd annual fall term.

Some 1,200 new students have applied for admission, the largest number in history.

More than 1,200 veterans--many of them among the first year students--have indicated that they want to enroll, or to re-enter after having been in school last spring or in the summer. This number is almost double the veteran group here last spring.

A substantially enlarged faculty will be on hand to give instruction to what is expected to be the University's largest student body.

Twenty-one new faculty members have been added to the staff, including four full professors, five associate professors, seven assistant professors, four instructors, and an artist-in-residence. Some of these started their teaching duties in the summer, but twelve of them will make their first appearance at the opening of the fall term.

Five University departments will have new chairmen this fall--agriculture, Dr. Robert C. Cassell; music, Dr. Maurits Kesnar; industrial education, Dr. W.C. Bicknell; speech, Dr. P. Merville Larson, all new appointees to the faculty; and botany, Dr. Walter B. Welch, associate professor, who replaces Dr. William Bailey, professor, who retires this fall.

Of the new faculty members, 13 are men and women who hold the doctor's degree as evidence of their maximum educational preparation for their positions.

Five new faculty assistants and two full-time administrators--a director of extension and placements, a new position, and a chief accountant have also been appointed.

Registration for the fall term will be held Monday, Sept. 16, for upperclassmen and Tuesday, Sept. 17, for freshmen, with classes starting at 8 a. m. Wednesday. Freshmen will spend Monday in an orientation program designed to acquaint them with University life, with particular attention to the differences between college and high school type of study.

###

Faint, illegible text at the top of the page, possibly a header or introductory paragraph.

First main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Second main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Third main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Fourth main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Fifth main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Sixth main paragraph of faint, illegible text.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention: Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 9 - MacAndrew Stadium was a beehive of activity today as more than 85 candidates turned out for the pre-season practice for Southern Illinois Normal University's 1946 football squad.

In line for scrimmage togs were a few familiar faces from last season, such as Gene Stotlar, slingshot tailback who made all-conference, Leedio Cabutti, all-conference left end, Sam Milosevich, all-conference tackle, and Carl Birkner, stellar end of last season.

Many of the men's faces were vaguely familiar to present-day students. They were the star performers of earlier years who have just returned from service in the armed forces. Chief among these were Lawrence Calufetti, former Maroon team captain, Nick Milosevich, Myron Schuster, Jeff Mitchell, Bill O'Brien, and Bill Cosgrove.

The remainder was made up of men who returned too late to play football last season, and incoming freshmen, a number of them with sparkling high school records to their credit.

Today's practice was spent in passing and punting rehearsals, since Head Football Coach Glenn ("Abe") Martin wanted to give his charges time to get into shape after the summer vacation, before doing any heavy scrimmaging.

The Maroons' current season will open on September 28 when they play host to the Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers.

The Maroons finished second in the conference race last year, losing out to Northern 13 to 6 in the final contest of the season.

Faint header text at the top of the page, possibly including a title or date.

Main body of faint, illegible text, likely a letter or document, spanning most of the page.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or footer.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

1500
Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - The ~~1,500~~ 1,500 freshmen students planning to enter Southern Illinois Normal University this fall will report for a one-day orientation session on Monday, Sept. 16, before registering on Tuesday, Miss Helen A. Shuman, dean of women, and Marshall S. Hiskey, acting dean of men, have announced.

An assembly for all new students will be held Monday morning from 9:30 to 10:30, at which President Chester F. Lay will welcome them to Southern, and the deans of the colleges of Education, Liberal Arts and Sciences, and Vocations and Professions will speak briefly on the work available in their fields.

As the first step in the University's student counseling program, each new student will fill in vocational preference blanks and personnel blanks, and will have a conference with an assigned faculty counselor who will assist him in choosing his course of study and will serve as his adviser throughout the year.

In the evening, under the sponsorship of the Student Council, the freshmen class will meet to organize.

On Tuesday, freshmen will register, and will take further orientation tests. A dance will be held on Tuesday evening by the Southern Veterans' organization.

Classes will begin Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock. In the afternoon freshmen women will be honored at a tea given by the Dean of Women, assisted by co-ed counselors, on the lawn back of Old Main Building.

On Thursday evening a Student Fun Night will be sponsored by the YMCA and the YWCA.

Upperclass students will register on Monday, Sept. 16, while freshmen are attending orientation.

###

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

... the ... of ...

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - A strong program of teacher-education, both on and off campus, will be conducted by the College of Education at Southern Illinois Normal University during the long session which starts Monday, Sept. 16.

Freshmen students will report for orientation sessions on Monday. Upperclass students will register on Monday, and freshmen on Tuesday.

This fall, the College of Education will start its second year under the leadership of Dr. Eugene R. Fair. This marks the first full session of operation for Southern as a full-fledged university, with three colleges and a graduate school.

Southern was started 73 years ago as a teachers college, and the new College of Education has taken over the teacher-education functions of what was originally a normal school.

Last spring 850 students were enrolled in the College of Education, an enrollment that climbed to 962 in the summer. In addition, the 101 students enrolled in the Graduate School were also majoring in education, since at present the only graduate degree offered by the University is in this field.

Activities of the College of Education include college-level instruction offered in the department of education, practice teaching for student teachers in the campus laboratory schools and in affiliated off-campus schools, an extensive field service program, and active participation by faculty members in professional educational organizations--regional, state and national.

The department of education, with a faculty of 15, offers graduate work in educational administration and supervision, elementary education, and subject-matter teaching in college and secondary schools, elementary education, secondary education, guidance and counseling, and rural education.

Students in the department take their subject-matter courses in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and in the College of Vocations and Professions, one example of the close interrelation of the three colleges and the Graduate School in the University's organization.

This fall, a course in library science for teachers responsible for public school libraries will be restored to the curriculum, and a new course in "Public Opinion and Propaganda in Education" will be taught for the first time.

(more)

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly related to the information service mentioned in the header. The content is largely illegible due to the quality of the scan.]

Student teachers are required to do three terms of practice teaching before receiving their degrees. To provide opportunities for this teaching under competent supervision, the College of Education maintains two campus laboratory schools--University High School, teaching nearly 200 pupils, and the Allyn Training School, embracing grades one to six, a nursery school and a kindergarten.

Formerly both the high school and the elementary school were under the direction of a superintendent of campus laboratory schools, but as a means of strengthening the practice teaching program, each now has a full-time principal.

Dr. Ted R. Ragsdale, professor of education, is principal of the Allyn Training School, while John D. Mees, formerly a principal of the Harvey, Ill., high school, was brought in this fall as principal of University High School and assistant professor of education.

A staff of 20 teachers and supervisors of student teaching comprises the faculty of University High School and the Allyn Training School has a staff of 13.

As the University has grown through the years, student teaching facilities have become crowded, and additional opportunities for student teaching has been sought in the public schools of Southern Illinois. One Carbondale elementary school and two rural schools, Buckles and Buncombe, in Jackson County are regularly used by student teachers, the University supplying critic teachers to supervise their work. Student teaching is also being resumed at Carterville High School this year, with two critic teachers, Miss Gladys O. Smith and Miss Irene Watson, assigned as supervisors.

For a number of years home economics students have done practice teaching at several off-campus centers, last year working at Dupu, Metropolis and West Frankfort, and arrangements are now being worked out, according to Dean Fair, for similar off-campus work in this field ~~this~~ this year.

A number of new faculty will join the College of Education staff this fall, some of whom started their duties during the summer. Mr. Mees as principal of University High School, for example, began his work during the summer in preparation for the long session.

Other new faculty members include:

Dr. Earl L. Hall, assistant professor of education, substituting for Dr. Bruce Merwin, professor of education, who is spending 1946-47 on a sabbatical leave of absence in study and research at the University of California.

Chalmer A. Gross, instructor in science in University High School, replacing Mrs. Audrey Lindsey, who has resigned to accompany her husband to the University of Illinois, where he is a graduate student and where she will teach in high school.

(more)

Faint, illegible text covering the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is too light to transcribe accurately.

Lynn Holder, instructor, and Walter Masurek, faculty assistant, both in the department of physical education for men. Both of these positions are new.

Mrs. Margaret Shaw Lynch, instructor in physical education for women, replacing Mrs. Dorothy Muzzey, who has been granted a leave of absence for the fall term because of illness.

Mrs. Louise O'Neil Parker, instructor in physiology and health education, a new position.

Miss Theodora H. Kloha, instructor in education, who will fill the position of Miss Florence Wells, English supervisor in University High School, who retires this fall.

Edward L. Allen, faculty assistant and critic teacher at Buncombe School, who replaces Jean Fligor, on leave this year to work toward his doctoral degree at Michigan State College.

Mrs. Bernice Sickman, faculty assistant and assistant critic teacher at Buncombe School, who replaces Mrs. Anne Placko Hedges, who has in turn replaced Mrs. Lucy Fligor as assistant at the Nursery School and Kindergarten. Mrs. Fligor has accompanied her husband to Michigan.

In addition to its instructional program, the College of Education carries on a broad program of field service to teachers. A committee of University educators, headed by Dr. Howard E. Bosley, serves as consultants for Southern Illinois county school reorganization committees.

More than a dozen conferences of Southern Illinois school people--teachers, principals, superintendents, county committees--have been held/ during the past year by the University as have several meetings called by the State Department of Education.

An aviation education conference; workshops in health education, rural education, and nursery school-primary education; a week-long administrator's workshop; four child guidance clinics; a Parent-Teacher conference; and a book exhibit have been held.

Workshops in rural education and conservation were held during August in Southern Illinois communities away from the campus.

To be of particular service to teachers, a large number of extension courses are offered in Southern Illinois communities, and one night class and two Saturday classes are to be given on the campus this year by the College of Education.

###

Note to Newspaper Editors: A one-column mat of Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of the College of Education is enclosed to be used with this story or placed in your files.

Faint, illegible text covering the majority of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.

Fragmentary text visible along the right edge of the page, including characters such as 'c', 'K', 'of', 'se', 'A', 'tr', 'ou', 'le', 'vi', 'So', and 'an'.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 11 - As the Southern Illinois Normal University gridgers swing into their third day of pre-season practice, they are preparing to get down to some serious work. Over 100 men have turned out to date and many of them are reporting for practice in track suits as there are not enough football togs to go around.

So far, all practice has been confined to calisthenics, passing, and punting, but today Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin had the linesmen blocking hard. Later the men will be put into teams for regular practice.

Looking especially good on the line work were Sam Milosevich, Zeigler, all-conference tackle last year, Bill Cosgrove of Benton, and Myron Schuster of Murphysboro. These three men were tutoring the younger men in the arts of offensive and defensive line play.

Working out of a "T" formation and looking fully as capable as he did last season when he made all-conference was tailback Gene Stotlar, Pinckneyville. Alternating with Stotlar was Bill Malinsky, Flora, who is shaping up after a hitch in the armed forces.

The end positions are pretty much of a toss-up as there are 20 candidates out for the coveted positions.

In the kicking department Malinsky and Jack Stevens, West Frankfort, were leading the way, getting off some nice punts.

The Maroons will be without the services of Nick Milosevich, Zeigler, who with his two brothers Sam and Pete, was expected to put on a brother act for Southern. It was learned, however, that Nick is attending Western Michigan. Sam and Petex are on hand and going strong.

###

[The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a report or a letter, with several distinct sections separated by line breaks. The text is oriented vertically on the page.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill. Sept. --Saturday, September 14, will mark a turning point in the life of Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's grid trainees at Southern Illinois Normal University. Heretofore all action has been simulated and plays have been run through on paper, but on Saturday at 2:00 p.m., the men will line up for their first heavy scrimmage.

The "roons have not been too impressive in their drills so far, except for the enthusiasm that they have shown, but that will all be history when the men face each other across the line.

Injuries should not hamper Martin's practice too much because he is able to go about six deep at almost any position.

However, nearly all of his men are question marks as yet. He has some star high school players such as William Wilson and Don Riggs of Fairfield; Harlan Wiley and John Landis of Plano; Joe Trapani, John Ruzich, Jack Orlea, and Bill Hansford of Johnston City; Keith Stonecipher and Tom Cross of Salem; Jim Stoffel of East St. Louis; Don Smith of Flora; Russell Sexton, Wendall Jones, and Charles Heinz of Gillespie; Bret and Gordon McGinnis of Carbondale; Galan Davis and J. Gross of Du Quoin; Joe Franza of Murphysboro; Carol Fletcher and Ralph Cashen of Benton; Charles Fitts and Don Creath of Dupu; M. D. Farmer and George Beltz of Marion; John Catlin of Harrisburg; Bill Bleyer of Carterville--to mention a few, but he cannot tell yet which ones can make the college football level.

On the other hand, he has such lettermen back as Sam Milosevich and Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler; Carl Birkner and Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale; Bill Malinsky of Flora; Myron Schuster and Jay Pieronne of Murphysboro; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; Bill Cosgrove of Benton; and Roy Ragsdale of DeSoto; but he does not know whether they will play their former brand of football or not.

Beginning with scrimmage on Saturday, during which assistant coach L. C. Holder will be standing by with liniment and bandages, Martin should see his pig skin representatives shape up into what he hopes will be a well balanced squad.

[The body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal document or report.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - The gradually increasing tempo of the Southern Illinois Normal University grid program is becoming apparent on the training field.

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin divided his squad into three teams with Bill Malinsky of Flora quarterbacking one; Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville masterminding another; and George Baysinger of Carbondale handling the third.

In all probability, one of these three men will be the chief tailback when the season opens next September against Kirksville Teachers, Mo., and each man is performing exceptionally well.

Malinsky is the biggest of the three and is developing into a very deceptive ball handler; Stotlar is leading the field in deception and speed, which he showed to such good advantage last year when he made all-conference; Baysinger is coming along fast, and although his performances are spotty, at times he looks like the best ball handler of the three.

The line working with Malinsky sounds like an all-star Southern squad of past seasons. Such men as Charles "Shag" Crouch, massive center of Carbondale, Bill Cosgrove of Benton, Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler, Myron Schuster of Murphysboro, Carl Birkner of Pinckneyville, Roy Ragsdale of DeSoto, and Jay Pierrons of Murphysboro.

It was announced that the squad would begin heavy scrimmage Saturday.

#

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Deluged with students, Southern Illinois Normal University has:

(1) set aside a third day for registration and postponed initial meeting of classes until Thursday morning.

(2) started employing more faculty members---about a half dozen new ones were secured today.

(3) opened two score new class sections, many of them to meet during the noon hour, between 3 and 6 p. m., at night, and on Saturdays.

A total of 1,155 upperclass students registered Monday, and 637 freshmen enrolled today, making a total of 1792. Current estimates place final enrollment for the fall term at 2600- 2,800, compared to 1,064 for the fall term last year and 1,531 for the spring term.

About half the freshmen on campus completed registration today and it is believed a large number of upperclassmen are still to register.

The vast increase in registration here is largely attributed to the fact that as yet Southern is one of few colleges and universities in the State which have not limited enrollment by one means or another. Some institutions have fixed a maximum number for freshmen, others have raised admission standards to take only students with a higher-than-usual scholastic average, others have limited out-of-state students

(more)

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

So far, Southern has not placed any barriers before prospective students, but has warned them of the housing shortage, and urged that they find living accommodations before enrolling. Apparently this has not proven too great a handicap, for actual registration has exceeded pre-registration applications by several hundred.

Southern's housing counselor has canvassed the entire city and nearby towns for student housing, and has persuaded scores of citizens to remodel garages, attics, and basements for apartments and rooms. Every faculty member has been solicited to rent spare bedrooms to students.

Housing for new faculty has proven as serious a problem as student housing, but accommodations have been secured for all of the 31 new teachers and staff members who joined the University family this fall, although services of several prospective faculty members were lost because they became discouraged over the housing situation.

The University's committee on admissions, scheduling and registration has been frequently in session this week to consider how best to handle the unprecedented influx of students.

#

Small card out

...

...

...

Main body of text, very faint and illegible.

Bottom section of text, also very faint and illegible.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to dailies

Carbondale, Ill. Sept. -Practice was slowing down to a walk today on the Southern Illinois Normal University football field according to head football coach Glenn "Abe" Martin. Injuries plus freshman registration were responsible for the letdown.

Many of the veterans were sidelined or forced to confine their practice to calisthenics because of foot injuries, and most of the freshmen were taking tests, leaving only a skeleton squad to take the field today to practice passing, punting, and line plays.

The scheduled scrimmage last Saturday was called off because the men were not in good enough shape, Martin said. The mentor is bringing his men along slow in a training program designed to bring the team up to pin-point perfection for the opening game with Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers on Sept. 28.

One of the many headaches suffered by Martin this season is the bad timing shown by his squad. Very few men out this year have had any "T" formation work in college football, and during the practice sessions this is showing up greatly.

The practice sessions should swing back into high gear, however, on Thursday when all the candidates have the registration bugs cleared from their minds and their injuries patched up.

###

Handwritten header text, possibly a title or address, located at the top of the page.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several paragraphs of cursive script.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a closing note.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. -- Five new additions to the faculty at Southern Illinois Normal University have just been made, according to a report from President Chester F. Lay.

For the first time Southern has a full-time journalism instructor, Robert A. Steffes. In previous years journalism courses have been taught part-time by members of the history and English departments.

Mr. Steffes received his bachelor of science degree at South Dakota State College and has done graduate work in journalism at Syracuse University, where he served as graduate assistant. He has taught in South Dakota High Schools, owned and operated the Turton Trumpet at Turton, South Dakota, did editorial work for the Brookings Register and the Redfield Journal Observer, both South Dakota weekly newspapers.

This fall Mr. Steffes will teach two journalism courses, adding others as students become ready for more advanced work.

Harold C. Hines has been appointed instructor in music, and will be responsible for work in band. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Illinois and taught at Atwood, Illinois, high school. He held the rank of Warrant Officer in the Army Air Corps and was bandleader of the Army Air Forces at Minter Field, California.

Clarence L. Vinge will serve as associate professor of geography. His bachelor's degree was taken at Northern Michigan College of Education, his master's and doctor's degrees at the University of Wisconsin, where he taught as an assistant. For ten months he served as business economist for the War Production Board in Washington, D. C. and in the U. S. Army he was photographic officer and combat pilot. He was awarded the distinguished flying cross and the purple heart.

Edward L. Allen has been appointed rural critic and Mrs. Bernice Lafoon Sickman, assistant rural critic, to serve at Buncombe School, off-campus laboratory center for student teachers.

#

The following is a list of the names of the persons who have been employed by the Southern Illinois Normal University during the year 1914-1915. The names are arranged in alphabetical order of the last name.

Adams, J. H.
 Adams, W. H.
 Adams, W. J.
 Adams, W. L.
 Adams, W. M.
 Adams, W. N.
 Adams, W. O.
 Adams, W. P.
 Adams, W. R.
 Adams, W. S.
 Adams, W. T.
 Adams, W. U.
 Adams, W. V.
 Adams, W. W.
 Adams, W. X.
 Adams, W. Y.
 Adams, W. Z.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. -In operation less than a year, the new College of Vocations and Professions at Southern Illinois Normal University, which opens its 73rd annual long session Monday, Sept. 16, is getting into full swing.

Four departments in the college will have new permanent chairmen this fall, according to Dr. Henry J. Rehn, who was brought from Temple University, Philadelphia, last October to serve as dean of the new college.

Each of these four departmental chairmen is a recognized authority in his field, holding the doctor's degree as an academic rating and having an extensive backlog of professional experience.

Four other new faculty members have also been added to the teaching staff of the college this fall--a journalism instructor, a band instructor and director, an associate professor of economics, and an artist-in-residence.

The faculty of the college now numbers 27, and this fall will offer a total of 78 courses in nine fields--agriculture, art, economics, business, industrial education, journalism, music, speech, and home economics.

Journalism is being restored to the curriculum of the University after a lapse of a year, with two courses to be given this fall by Robert A. Steffes, former North Dakota newspaperman who has been doing graduate study at the University of Syracuse School of Journalism this fall. A full degree program in this field is to be opened as rapidly as students become ready for more advanced courses, Dean Rehn said.

Speech is also being expanded with the creation of a speech department and the appointment of Dr. P. Merville Larson as associate professor and department chairman. Dr. Larson for a number of years has been head of the speech department at Texas College of Arts and Industries.

The agriculture, industrial education and music departments ~~will also have~~ ~~new departments~~ will also have new departmental chairmen. Dr. R. C. Cassell, professor of agriculture, was formerly on the Southern faculty but has spent most of the last three years in war research for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He now returns to head Southern's expanding agriculture department.

Dr. Mauritz Kesnar, professor of music and new music department chairman, is a professional violinist and has been a member of several outstanding European orchestras as well as the Minneapolis Synphony and the New York Stadium orchestras. He comes to Southern from Augustana College, where he was director of the school of music.

Another addition to the music department faculty this fall will be Harold Hines, who holds the master's degree from the University of Illinois, as instructor in band and director of the Southern band.

Dr. W. C. Bicknell, who has been director of the mechanic arts program at the University of Missouri, now becomes professor of industrial education and chairman of the industrial education department at Southern. He directed a Navy Diesel School research program at the University of Missouri during the war, and later was a supervisor in a Kansas City aircraft plant.

The other two new faculty members joining the staff this fall are Dr. Lewis A. Maverick, associate professor of economics, who comes to Southern from the University of California, where he was chairman of the economics department, and Miss Eva Mirabal, distinguished Indian painter, as artist-in-residence.

Miss Mirabal, in addition to teaching classes in painting, will maintain a studio here and will permit students to come in for observation and counseling while she is at work.

Two other new faculty members--Conrad White as assistant professor of agriculture and Ben Watkins as assistant professor of art--assumed their duties here during the summer.

Seven new courses will be offered by the College of Vocations and Professions this fall--a freshman agriculture course in Poultry Production; a junior business course in Transcription and a junior course in Financial Management; an Introduction to Home Economics, for freshmen; a freshman industrial education course in Descriptive Geometry; a music course in Keyboard Harmony; and a Journalism Laboratory course.

A wide range of subjects is offered by the various departments in the college, including:

Agriculture--animal husbandry, soils, horticulture.

Art--sculpture, painting, ceramics, weaving, art appreciation.

Business--general business, accounting, secretarial science.

Economics--general and applied.

Home Economics--clothing, nutrition and dietetics, homemaking.

Industrial Education--draftsmanship, machine shop, woodwork.

Music--voice, string, piano, band and orchestra, theory, composition, music appreciation.

Speech--public speaking, acting.

Journalism--reporting, editing.

(more)

Besides its on-campus instructional program, the College of Vocations and Professions will offer two extension courses--Music and Entertainment, taught by D. S. McIntosh, associate professor of music, at Pinckneyville, and Art Education in the Public School, by Miss Lulu D. Roach, assistant professor of art, at Benton.

The home economics department conducts a substantial part of its student-teaching program at high schools of Southern Illinois. Like other departments in the College of Vocations and Professions and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, it teaches subject-matter courses for students in the College of Education, and requires three terms of practice teaching for prospective teachers who are majoring in home economics.

Another phase of practical experience required of home economics students is residence for six weeks in the Practice House, a demonstration home maintained by the department. Here the students put into actual practice in a home environment the things they have learned in class and laboratory--buying, planning meals, cooking, serving, keeping house, budgeting, etc.

Agriculture students likewise receive practical experience on the 72-acre University Farm, adjacent to the campus, where experimental work goes on in soil conservation, crop growing and animal husbandry. Dean Rehn, Dr. Cassell, and Irving Peithman, manager of the University Farm, recently made a four-day tour of experimental farms in Iowa to see what new techniques might be adapted to the needs of students here and farmers of Southern Illinois.

A Cannery is maintained by the College across the street from the University campus. Operated by the University with the aid of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a war food conservation project, it is now run entirely by the University.

Staffed by two instructors, the Cannery has processed 2,700 to 2,800 cans of fruits and vegetables per week this summer, providing this service to housewives of this area at a nominal cost. Technically supervised by the home economics department, it is under the business supervision of Van Buboltz, assistant professor of business.

The College of Vocations and Professions, along with other branches of the University, is cooperating with the University of Illinois and other agencies such as the State Forest Service, the State Geological Survey, and the State Historical Association, in a survey of Southern Illinois resources and potentialities. Dr. Rehn, dean of the college, is a member of the central planning committee for the survey.

One of three under-graduate colleges in Southern's recently expanded organization as a university, the College of Vocations and Professions is designed to afford both four year degree plans and shorter programs of technical, vocational and professional training for the youth and adults of Southern Illinois.

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in approximately 25 horizontal lines.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. -Enrollment at Southern Illinois Normal University reached an alltime high of 2570 students during the third day of registration here.

Classes which had been scheduled for Wednesday were postponed until Thursday to continue freshmen registration, which now stands at 1415. Upperclassmen total 1155. However, additional upperclassmen are expected to register late.

Southern's previous all-high record was in the year 1939-40, with approximately 2100 students. Average enrollment for a number of years before the war was around 1800.

Veteran enrollment has practically doubled, as the figure at present is approximately 1200, compared to about 675 during the summer term. The exact count on veterans will not be available until Monday, the Registrar's Office reported.

###

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

9-23-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies:

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. --Alfred Simpson, former Southern Illinois principal and superintendent, has been appointed instructor in University High School at Southern Illinois Normal University, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Mr. Simpson will handle the work in English formerly taught by Miss Florence A. Wells, who retired from the faculty this fall.

A graduate of Southern, Mr. Simpson holds the master of arts degree from the University of Illinois and has also studied at Illinois State Normal University, Butler University, and Indiana University.

For 14 years he has taught in the public schools of Illinois, and has served as principal and superintendent at Burnt Prairie and Springerton.

He is now on terminal leave from the U. S. Navy, in which he served with the rank of lieutenant commander.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 23 --Because of the vastly increased enrollment of students, the cafeteria at Southern Illinois Normal University has rearranged its schedule, and has been forced to discontinue serving the general public, President Chester F. Lay and Mrs. Lydia Windate, cafeteria director, have announced.

Hereafter the cafeteria will be open Monday through Saturday noon, and will remain closed on Sunday. Service will be limited to students, faculty and educational groups.

The large enrollment--which now stands at 2,650, has made it necessary to schedule more classes on Saturday than ever before, so that the cafeteria will serve the noon meal to accommodate those who remain on campus for classes on Saturday.

"It is with regret that it has become necessary to discontinue serving non-University patrons," President Lay said, "but our first obligation is to our students."

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

9-24-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies:

Carbondale, Illinois, Sept., --Following his plan to bring the 1946 football trainees along slowly, Glenn "Abe" Martin, Southern Illinois Normal University mentor is still holding light scrimmages in getting his charges ready for their first game of the season next Saturday.

The Maroons open here at 2:30 Saturday against Northeast Missouri State Teachers College from Kirksville.

No position was "cinched on the 1946 Maroons as all candidates are being given a fair chance to show "Abe" what they can do.

As the training sessions roll along, the backfield men are developing a bit more finesse in their timing and the line-men are hitting the tackling dummy harder. However, many of the rough edges still have to be rubbed off yet in the remaining days before the season's opener.

Whether good or bad, the team will certainly be in condition as the coaching staff places great emphasis on physical training.

A few of the candidates have dropped from the squad due to injuries but there are still over six teams left from which to choose an opening eleven.

#

1000 11 11 1918

1000 11 11 1918

Main body of faint, illegible text, possibly a list or ledger entries.

Bottom section of faint, illegible text, possibly a summary or footer.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill. Sept., - Fifty men will take the field for Southern Illinois Normal University come next Saturday when the Maroons will meet the Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers in MacAndrew Stadium at 2:30 P.M., Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin announced. There will be nine ends, nine tackles, ten guards, four centers, four fullbacks, 12 halfbacks, and two quarterbacks.

They are: Ends-Leodio Cabutti of Johnston City, John Catlin of Harrisburg, Bob Colburn of Flora, Galan Davis of Du Quoin, Joe Franze of Murphysboro, Ike Hinkle of Jackson City, Mich., Jim Sexton of Gillespie, Gene Davidson of Harrisburg, Quentin Stinson of Eldorado;

Tackles-Jim Lovin of Benton, Leroy Cashen of Benton, Bill Cox of Marion, Chas. Mathew of Eldorado, Chester Mitchell of Mulkeytown, Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, Bill Thompson of Mt. Vernon, Herman Mines of Sparta, John Howden of Wood River;

Guards-Bill Cosgrove of Benton, Bob Etheridge of Fairfield, J.L. Gross of DuQuoin, Clyde Leilich of New Athens, Orm Osborn of Jackson City, Michigan J. Pioron of Murphysboro, W.M. Kozyak of Granite City, Myron Schuster of Murphysboro, Mike Sortal of Zeigler, Joe Trapani of Johnston City;

Centers-Tom Cross of Salem, Chas. "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale, Charlie Heinz of Gillespie, Wendell Jones of Gillespie;

Fullbacks-Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City, John Ruzich of Johnston City, George Sawyer of Wood River, Jack Stephen of W. Frankfort;

Halfbacks-George Beltz of Marion, Don Creath of East St. Louis, Morris Farmer of Marion, Bob Johnson of Royalton, Bill Malinsky of Flora, Bill O'Ericn of Zeigler, Dick Seelman of Flora, Jr. Walker of Zeigler, Don Riggs of Fairfield, W.D. Wilkinson of W. Frankfort, Jack Riddle of Dupo, Roy Ragsdale of DeSoto; Quarterbacks-George Baysinger of Carbondale, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville.

The major change on the squad has been the conversion of Malinsky from quarterback to halfback. This leaves only two "T" formation ball handlers, Baysinger and Stotlar.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 27, -With the weather man promising to hold off with rain, and a capacity crowd expected, the Southern Illinois Normal University 1946 grid hopefuls will make a gala debut tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 pm. in MacAndrew Stadium in Carbondale.

Their opponents will be the Northeastern Missouri State Teachers from Kirksville, who already have one victory under their belt in the comparatively young season, that being an 18-0 whitewash over Iowa Wesleyan.

The Maroons will not look too familiar to the fans of last year except in the "T" formation backfield where all-conference Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville will be directing traffic again this year, and on the left side of the line where Leodio Cabutti of Johnston City, all-conference end and voted most valuable player on the Maroons, and Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, all-conference tackle.

The rest of the starting lineup will find such "oldtimers" as Myron Schuster of Murphysboro at left guard, Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale at center, Bill Cosgrove of Benton at right guard, Jeff Mitchell of Mulkeytown at right tackle, and John Catlin of Harrisburg at right end in the line.

The other backfield performers will include veterans Bill Malinsky of Flora at right half, and Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City at fullback, with freshman Dick Seelman of Flora at left half.

Kirksville is reported to be without the services of their first string fullback, Ollin Drennan, and their first line end, William Clark, both of whom received knee injuries in their first tilt.

The Maroons will be out to stop the Missourian's 195 pound fullback, Stan Sadich, and halfbacks Joe Asperger, 160 pounds, and Bob Evans, 180 pounds.

As a pre-game attraction, boy scouts of the surrounding area will parade before the grandstand between 2 and 2:30 pm.

Tickets for the contest will go on sale at 1:30 pm. at the ticket office in front of MacAndrew Stadium.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. - Southern Illinois Normal University's football squad will open the current season Saturday when the Maroons entertain the Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers in McAndrew Stadium. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Saturday will also be Boy Scout Day at Southern. All scouts and their favorite leaders who plan to attend the game will meet on the lower athletic field at 2 p.m., and they will parade in front of the grandstand in McAndrew Stadium between 2 and 2:30 p.m.

A capacity crowd is expected when the Maroons take on their foes from across the Mississippi. This will be the first game for Southern, Kirksville having defeated Iowa Wesleyan 20-0 last Saturday.

Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has released his tentative starting lineup as follows: LE-Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; LT-Sam Milosevich of Zeigler; LG-Myron Schuster of Murphysboro; C-Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale; RG-Bill Cosgrove of Benton; RT-Chester Mitchell of Mulkeytown; RE-John Catlin of Harrisburg; QB-Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; LH-Dick Seelman of Flora; RH-Bill Malinsky of Flora; FB-Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

The officials for the contest are: Referee-Ted Search (McKendree) of Chester; Umpire-Paul McKennis (George Washington University) of Eldorado; Head Linesman-Chlorus Hubble (McKendree) of Flora.

The Missourians plan to remain in Mt. Vernon on Friday and arrive in Carbondale on Saturday morning.

High school students will be admitted to this game, as well as all other Southern home games, for the admission price of 40 cents plus tax (a total of 60 cents) plus a high school activity ticket or a letter of identification signed by their high school principal. Adult admission will be $1.20, children under 12 will be admitted free, and children over 12 will be charged 60 cents.

All tickets will go on sale in the box office in front of McAndrew Stadium on Saturday at 1:30 p.m., the Business Office has announced.

#

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal report or document, possibly detailing the operations of the Information Service mentioned in the header.]

Southern Illinois

Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. -After being bottled up for three periods, the Southern Illinois Normal University gridgers finally pushed across a lone touchdown for the only score of the game as the Maroons took the measure of the visiting, Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers 6-0 last Saturday in MacAndrew Stadium.

With both teams showing very little power, the game settled into what would have been a very drab affair except for several break-away runs by Kirksville's Joe Aspberger, and some fancy spot passing by Southern's Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville.

Both lines seemed formidable, but both teams were afflicted with the same trouble; that is, neither backfield was fast enough to do the "T" formation justice.

Southern's score came late in the fourth period after Bill Malinsky of Flora connected a long pass to Bob Colborn, also of Flora, on the Missouriian's 10 yard line. The Maroons drove to the five yard line but lost the ball on downs.

Kirksville punted to their own 45 yard line and from there Southern started their touchdown march. With Stotlar mixing short passes with end runs, the Maroons drove down to their foes two yard line. Then Stotlar drove over for paydirt. The attempt for conversion was no good and the contest ended a few minutes later with the Illinoisians once more driving from midfield.

The Maroons lost two scoring opportunities when officials ruled that end Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City stepped out of bounds when he caught a pass on the Kirksville one foot line, and again when Southern drove down to the Missouri five yard line but had the play called back because of unnecessary roughness.

Outstanding linemen for Southern were center Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale, end Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, guard Myron Schuster of Zeigler, end John Catlin of Harrisburg, and guard Bill Cosgrove of Benton.

In the backfield, quarterback George Baysinger of Carbondale, fullback Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City and freshman halfback Dick Seelman of Flora were the mainstays.

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal document or report.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

9-30-46

Release Tuesday, October 1

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies:

Carbondale, Ill.; Oct. --Southern Illinois Normal University is today serving as host to the Southern Illinois School Masters' Club for its fall meeting.

The meeting was held in sections for city superintendents, of which H. E. Pinkstaff of Anna was chairman; high school principals, Paul V. Fegley, Hurst, chairman; and elementary principals, Kenneth McMath, Centralia, chairman.

Chief speakers for the high school principals' meeting were Dr. Neal Phelps of Southern, Raymond Dey, director of the Placements Office at Southern, and Albert Nicholas, Anna.

Speakers for the elementary principals were Eugene V. Morris, Harrisburg; Willis Smith, Mt. Vernon; Oren Gillespie, Centralia; and Harold Hatheway, Mt. Vernon.

General officers for 1946-47 are president, Fred J. Armstrong, Harrisburg; vice-president R. L. McConnell, Harrisburg; and secretary-treasurer, J. Wesley Neville, DuQuoin.

According to the club constitution, its purpose is "to foster good fellowship among its members and to discuss and attempt the solution of Southern Illinois school problems."

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. --"Design and Drawings of a School Typing Desk" by Van A. Buboltz, assistant professor of commerce, and Robert W. English, assistant professor of industrial education, both on the faculty of Southern Illinois Normal University here, has been accepted for publication by the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education magazine.

A previous article by English, titled "Projects for Transients," appeared in the September issue of the magazine.

#

Southern Illinois

Normal University

Carbondale, Illinois

Location of ...

[Faint, illegible text covering the main body of the page]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-2-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 2 --Award by the Federal Public Housing Authority of a construction contract to convert five buildings at the Illinois Ordnance Plant into 104 apartments for Southern Illinois married veterans who are students at Southern Illinois Normal University will soon give the University 209 such apartments, University President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Work on the units at the ordnance plant--to be provided without cost to the University--was scheduled to be started September 30 and to be completed by December 28.

"These apartments should enable us to afford housing for a larger number of graduate students, since many of the veterans in this classification are married and have families," President Lay pointed out.

Under construction on Chautauqua Street, adjacent to the campus here in Carbondale, are 105 family units for married veteran students, being constructed jointly by the University and the FPHA. Almost all of the 35 barracks which are being converted into apartments are already on the site and undergoing remodeling.

Installation of utility facilities is not progressing as rapidly as University authorities desire, however, because of the difficulty of obtaining materials under priority ratings assigned to the University for the project.

Contract awarded by the FPHA to the George L. Cousins Contracting Company of St. Louis for the ordnance plant conversion project includes all work necessary to complete interior remodeling, installation of all utility connections, the provision of individual and approach sidewalks, and grading.

Under the Lanham Act, which authorized the FPHA to provide emergency housing for educational institutions, the schools are required to bear expenses in connection with furnishing suitable sites, rough grading, installation of streets, principal sidewalks and main utility lines, as necessary. Since these facilities are already available at the ordnance plant, the family housing project there is not expected to require any construction costs at University expense.

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into sections, possibly separated by horizontal lines, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-2-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 2 -- Victorious in their first contest, a 6-0 win over Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons settled down to a tough week's grind to iron out the rough spots before entertaining the Cape Girardeau Indians next Saturday, October 5.

The Southern's had to pull the Kirksville contest out of the fire with a fourth period touchdown when the Bulldogs charging line threatened to stalemate the contest into a scoreless tie.

Cape Girardeau will come to Carbondale flushed with last week's 8-0 win over Arkansas State, which is another future opponent of Southern.

Three linemen who shone brightly in last week's tilt were Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale, Orm Osborn of Jackson City, Mich., and Myron Schuster of Zeigler.

Outstanding backfield men were Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, Bill Malinsky of Flora, and George Beltz of Marion.

The Cape Girardeau game will get under way at 2:30 in MacAndrew Stadium, home of all Southern contests.

ii ii ii

The following is a list of the books which have been purchased for the library during the year 1870.
 The books are arranged in the order in which they were received.
 The names of the authors and publishers are given in full.
 The price of each book is also given.
 The books are now on hand in the library.
 The following is a list of the books which have been purchased for the library during the year 1870.

The following is a list of the books which have been purchased for the library during the year 1870.

Southern Illinois

Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-2-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 2 --Homecoming spirit at Southern Illinois University is beginning to grow as Dale Andrews of Mt. Carmel has assumed student chairmanship of the Nov. 1-2 festival by his election by campus organization representatives.

Andrews, a sophomore, is president of the Southern Veterans Organization on campus, and a member of the Student Council. Registered in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, he is majoring in government and economics, and minoring in sociology.

Chairman for the various sub-committees are as follows: finance, Richard Capin, Mt. Carmel; dance, Ralph Myers, Grand Chain; campus decoration, Avis Frank, Carbondale; pep, Ted Cain, Eldorado; publicity, June Ferguson, Herrin; queen's presentation, Malcolm Hamby, Zeigler; dance decorations, Chuck Rust, Cairo; concessions, Julius Swayne, DuQuoin.

Faculty chairman of Homecoming this year is Dr. Orville Alexander, director of alumni services, who served previously in this capacity from 1939 to 1941.

· " " "

2000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

1000/11/10

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-2-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 2 --Twelve outstanding exhibits have been arranged by the art department of Southern Illinois Normal University for the coming year, according to Ben Watkins, assistant professor of art.

"What is Modern Painting," the first exhibit, originated with the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, and is basically a graphic explanation of the meaning of modern painting. The various approaches to art such as surrealism, non-objective, abstract, impressionism, and expressionism, are explained in lucid terms.

Color prints of the paintings of artists representative of these movements are shown.

Exhibits to follow include "The Graphic Arts "; sculptures by Jules Struppeck of Newcomb College, Tulane University; silk screen paintings; paintings of Eva Mirabel, artist in residence at Southern; Latin-American ceramics; American Indian paintings; "Contemporary Trends in Paintings"; University student exhibits; and exhibits of the work of Ben Watkins and Mrs. Dorothea Swan of the Southern faculty.

The exhibits will be displayed in the Little Gallery of Southern and are open to visitors.

#

The first part of the report is devoted to a general description of the country, its climate, and its resources. It is followed by a detailed account of the various tribes and nations which inhabit the region, and of their customs, habits, and modes of life. The author then proceeds to describe the progress of the expedition, and the various adventures which attended it. He concludes with a summary of the results of his travels, and a list of the names of the various places which he visited.

The second part of the report is devoted to a detailed description of the various tribes and nations which inhabit the region. The author describes their customs, habits, and modes of life, and gives a list of the names of the various places which he visited.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies;

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 3 --Number two--that is what the Southern Illinois Normal University's grid Maroons will be gunning for when they face the Southeastern Missouri State Teachers College of Cape Girardeau, at 2:30 p.m. next Saturday afternoon in MacAndrew Stadium.

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's charges did not look too impressive on the offensive when they slipped by the Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers last Saturday in the season's opener, but the rough edges should be rubbed off and the backfield should take on a more machine-like appearance by this week.

Martin has indicated that he will stick by his starting lineup of a week ago. The line will be as follows; left end, Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; left tackle, Sam Milesevich of Zeigler; left guard, Myron Schuster of Zeigler; center, Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale; right guard, Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle, Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler; right end, John Catlin of Harrisburg.

The backfield will be: quarterback, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; left halfback, Dick Seelman of Flora; right halfback, Bill Malinsky of Flora; fullback, Lawrence Calufetti of Zeigler.

A large crowd is expected as many Missouri rooters and the Cape band will make the trip to Carbondale.

Tickets will go on sale at the box office in front of the MacAndrew Stadium at 1:39 p.m.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-7-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Wed. Oct. 9

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 9 --Extension classes conducted by Southern Illinois Normal University this fall have reached the largest group of adults in the history of extension teaching here, Raymond H. Dey, director of Extension and Placements Services, reports.

A total of 880 people are enrolled in off-campus courses conducted by Southern, compared to 599 last fall and the pre-war peak of 824 in the fall of 1940.

The number of courses offered this fall also exceeds that of any previous year, numbering 20. These classes are taught in 18 different counties by regular University faculty members who drive to their weekly class meetings. Some professors travel more than 100 miles to meet their extension classes, and 100 miles back to the campus at Carbondale.

Enrollment in extension courses, added to the 2,700 students currently attending on-campus courses here, gives the University nearly 3,600 students this fall.

Two of this fall's extension offerings are courses given by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, three by the College of Vocations and Professions, and 15 by the College of Education.

Southern's Extension and Placement Services were placed on a full-time basis this summer for the first time, when Mr. Dey became full-time director.

"We are gratified at the growth our extension program is already showing," University President Chester F. Lay declared, "and we hope that under Mr. Dey's leadership Southern can develop an off-campus instructional program that will increasingly meet the educational needs of graduates and other adult citizens of Southern Illinois.

(more)

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-7-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Wed., October 9

Carbondale, Ill., October 7 --Dr. J. W. Neckers, professor and chairman of the chemistry department at Southern Illinois Normal University, has been appointed as a critic and adviser for a national committee which is studying aspects of preparation of future high school teachers.

The committee is the National Committee on Teacher Examinations, set up by the American Council on Education. Dr. Neckers will serve as critic and adviser on examinations used to test subject-matter preparation of prospective high school teachers of physical sciences.

In announcing Dr. Neckers' appointment to this post, Dr. T. W. Abbott, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Southern, declared, "Recognition of this sort is stimulating to all of us because it is a recognition not only to the individual who receives it but to our faculty generally."

#

Carbondale, Ill. Oct. 7 --To regale visitors at Homecoming, November 1, the Little Theater of Southern Illinois Normal University will stage the Hart and Kaufman comedy, "You Can't Take It With You."

Directed by Dr. P. Merville Larson, new chairman of the speech department who came to Southern this fall, the Homecoming play will be selected from well over 100 students who tried out.

#

[The following text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a report or a letter, with several distinct sections separated by lines of text. The content is not discernible.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

"We expect to continue our services to the teachers of this area through our College of Education and the Graduate School, but we also want to expand significantly our off-campus courses given by the new College of Vocations and Professions and the new College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Largest of the extension classes is a course in recreational music and singing games, being conducted at Pinckneyville by D. S. McIntosh, associate professor of music. Seventy-two are enrolled for this class.

Other classes include the following:

At Anna, health education, taught by Mrs. Louise O'Neil Parker, 60 enrolled.

At Belleville, philosophy of education, taught by Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of the College of Education, 35 enrolled.

At Benton, art education, taught by Miss Lula Roach, 38 enrolled.

At Carmi, elementary education, taught by J. Ward Dillow, 36 enrolled.

At Chester, American public education, taught by Dr. Victor Randolph, 56 enrolled.

At East St. Louis, elementary education, taught by Willis E. Malone, 44 enrolled.

At Edwardsville, health education, taught by Mrs. Parker, 65 enrolled.

At Fairfield, grammar for teachers, taught by Dr. W. B. Schneider, 70 enrolled.

At Elizabethtown, safety and first aid, taught by Miss Frances Phillips, 19 enrolled.

At Golconda, elementary education, taught by George Bracewell, 25 enrolled.

At Harrisburg, rural and elementary curriculum, taught by Mr. Bracewell, 23 enrolled.

At Marion, child development, taught by Dr. Sina M. Mott and Miss Helen Narber, 68 enrolled.

At McLeansboro, child psychology, taught by Dr. Mott, 32 enrolled.

At Mt. Vernon, health education and safety, taught by Frank Bridges, 50 enrolled.

At Nashville, child psychology, taught by Dr. H. E. Bosley, 40 enrolled.

At New Shawneetown, rural and elementary curriculum, taught by Mr. Dillow, 36 enrolled.

At Waterloo, American History, taught by Dr. Norman Caldwell, 38 enrolled.

At West Frankfort, elementary education, taught by Mr. Malone, 38 enrolled.

#

Special to Southern Illinois Sports Editors:

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 7 --Taking to the air in the second period, the Southern Illinois Normal Maroons threw a scare into the Southeastern Missouri State Indians before succumbing to them 20 to 13 last Saturday in MacAndrew Stadium.

Webb Halbert and John Griffith were the Missouri big guns, with Halbert counting all three of Cape's markers.

For Southern, little Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville raced 65 yards for the first tally, and Bill Malinsky of Flora passed to Don Creath of East St. Louis who took the toss in the Indians' end zone for the Maroons last score. Bill O'Brien of Zeigler and Jack Stephens of W. Frankfort combined for the conversion.

A near capacity crowd, containing Cape Girardeau's band and many of the Missouri students, witnessed the encounter. This was the first loss for the Maroons, making their record read one win and one loss. The Indians now have a record of two wins and one tie.

Experience and weight told the story in the first half as the Missourians marched up and down the field almost at will while the Maroons couldn't seem to get set.

However, midway in the last period, Southern seemed to catch fire. With Malinsky pitching strikes, the Maroons took the offensive and counted twice before time ran out on them.

Southern's next home game will be October 9, when they take on Arkansas State. Next week, the Maroons will journey to Normal where they will tangle with State Normal in their first Illinois Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference contest.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-8-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Friday, October 11

Carbondale, Ill., October 8 --High school bands of Southern Illinois will be presented in a giant parade through downtown Carbondale and in a pre-game field concert here at Southern Illinois Normal University Nov. 2 as a feature of the University's annual homecoming, Dr. Orville Alexander, homecoming faculty chairman, has announced.

Directed by Dr. Maurits Kesnar, new chairman of the Southern music department, the bands will march downtown Saturday at noon, then back to the University campus to march on the field at MacAndrew Stadium before the kick-off of the Southern-Eastern football game.

Invitations are going out to some 50 high school bands asking them to be on hand for this occasion, and verbal acceptances have already been received from approximately half of this number, Dr. Kesnar said.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 8 --A fifth $200 scholarship to Southern Illinois Normal University will be awarded by the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers to a graduate of a high school affiliated with the ICPT, according to Dr. Vera L. Peacock, chairman of the University committee on standards, honors, and scholarships.

Applications should be made to Dr. Peacock by Oct., 15. Additional requirements for the award are high scholastic standing, sterling character, good health, and lack of means to complete desired training.

The high schools in this area affiliated with the ICPT are Breese, Bunker Hill, Cairo, Carbondale, Chester, Chesterfield, Cobden, Coffeen, Columbia, Edwardsville, Greenville, Hillsboro, Johnston City, Kimmundy, Lebanon, Litchfield, Madison, Mascoutah, Noble, Opdyke, Pinckneyville, Royalton, St. Jacob, Thebes, Waterloo, White Hall, Witt, and Parkersburg.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-8-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Friday, October 11:

Carbondale, Ill., October 8 --Plans for a huge all-Southern Illinois presentation of the oratoria, "The Messiah," were announced today by Southern Illinois Normal University.

The production, to be presented early in December, will be under the direction of Dr. Maurits Kesnar, new chairman of the University's music department.

It is hoped that this production will be the first of an annual series presented by a massed choir and orchestra of Southern Illinois musicians, possibly to be organized as a Southern Illinois Oratorio Society, Dr. Kesnar said,

Every singer in Southern Illinois who is interested in performing in "The Messiah" is urged to attend the first rehearsal on Wednesday evening, October 16, in The Little Theater on the University campus. First mass orchestra rehearsal will be held October 24, in Shryock Auditorium. String musicians of Southern Illinois are invited to attend.

The Egyptian Choir of West Frankfort and the West Frankfort Orchestra have already accepted the invitation to participate, Dr. Kesnar said.

Dr. Kesnar himself will direct the orchestra, while the choir will be directed by Floyd V. Wakeland, associate professor of voice. Rehearsals will be held every Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Outstanding soloists will be engaged for the performance, Dr. Kesnar said, chosen from the concert stage.

This will be Dr. Kesnar's 25th presentation of "The Messiah." Last year while at Augustana College he produced this Handel oratorio with Miss Camille Anderson, Miss Eileen Law, John Toms and James W. McEnery as soloists. The production was broadcast nationally over Mutual Network, by special permission of the American Federation of Musicians.

#

[The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a report or a letter, containing several lines of text per paragraph. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting it might be bleed-through from the reverse side.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-8-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Friday, Oct. 11, or later:

Carbondale, Ill., October 8 --Five delegates from the College of Education of Southern Illinois Normal University attended the national Rural Youth of the United States of America meeting held at Jackson's Mill in West Virginia, October 3-6.

The delegates were Edward L. Allen, critic at the University Buncombe rural training school and sponsor of the Rural Youth Group there; Myrna Lou Presley, senior at University High School; Phoebe Cox, president of the Buncombe Rural Youth Group; Lois Rowland, secretary of the University Rural Life Club, and George Bracewell, associate professor and sponsor of Southern's Rural Life Club.

Mr. Bracewell gave an introductory speech on "How Help People Live Outside My community," which was followed by general group discussion by the young people. After several introductory talks were made by notable speakers, the young people conducted their discussions and presented their own ideas and problems.

Problems of rural youth were approached from the angles of "How can young people best increase their understanding of people in other communities and other countries?", "What are the best ways of extending our relations with and/ to other communities; other states, other nations?", "What can I do?", "What can my club do?"

Miss Cox lead a discussion on "How Help People Live Outside My Community," and Miss Rowland on "How To Help People Live in my Community."

Approximately 300 attended the meeting, representing 21 states. The 22 from Illinois met after the general meeting and reorganized the Illinois Rural Youth Association, which disintegrated during the war. Lois Rowland was elected president. The group will have a state conference in the spring.

#

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly detailing a service or program offered by the university.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-8-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Friday, Oct. 11

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 8 --On Saturday, November 16, Southern Illinois Normal University will play host to the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Cross Country run, Coach Leland P. "Doc" Lingle announced. This meet will be held in conjunction with an invitational open affair, in which all colleges in Illinois are invited to compete.

Southern will attempt to defend it's 1945 I.I.A.C. cross country crown when the harriers take off on the $3\frac{1}{2}$ mile Carbondale hill-and-dale course.

More than thirty men have turned out for cross-country practice to date, Lingle said. However, only one, Bob Smith of Marissa, has a letter from Southern in this event.

Two men who will be remembered from previous year's track service are Allison Golden of Belleville and Louis Pechineno of Christopher.

Leonard Burden of Herrin and Glenn Hamilton of Pinckneyville, track candidates from 1945 are also on hand.

The rest of the men, who are unknown quantities as yet, are: Glen Black of Fairfield; Ray Walker of Ewing; Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville; Don Allman of Granite City; Don Willi of DuQuoin; W. H. Keene of Carrier Mills; Bob Neighbors of Belleville; Bob Etherton of Murphysboro; Bob Bunder of Belleville; Bill Thompson of East St. Louis; Harry Dell of Vienna; William Burns of Chicago; Richard Newby of Ridgfarm; Bill Dorris of Benton; Tom Bryant of Ridgway; Marion Hall of Thompsonville; Edward Bellamy of Vienna; Bill Hayes of Benton; Oscar Stanford of Salem; Gene Harrison of Fairfield; Tom Evans of East St. Louis; Dean Harrison of Fairfield.

The Maroons expect to card two meets before the conference battle, Lingle announced.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-8-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Friday, Oct. 11

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 8 --Looking for the victory trail and also a chance to get off on the right foot in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference gridiron race, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons will journey to Normal, Illinois, on Saturday, October 12, where they will tangle with the Illinois State Normal Red Birds.

So far this season the Maroons have broken even in the win-and-loss column; winning the curtain raiser from Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers 6-0, and dropping the second tilt 20-13 to Southeastern Missouri State.

The Red Birds have took the field three times this season and came away with two impressive victories, one over DePauw, the other over Michigan State. The Birdies dropped their opening contest to Indiana State.

The Southerners have not been too impressive in their two contests so far, but in the last period in the Cape Girardeau game, they seemed to catch fire with a brilliant aerial attack. Bill Malinsky of Flora seemed to take over the passing duties, while Gene Stotlar showed that he could do more than hand the ball off, as he reversed his field and ran 65 yards for a touchdown last Saturday.

A threat that the Southerners must contend with is found in Bloice Bess, veteran halfback, who has already become respected by Normal opponents so far this season.

State Normal will be out to defend their 1945 I.I.A.C. crown against the runner-up Maroons when the two elevens clash on McCormick Field.

Southern's Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has indicated that he will string along with the starting line-up used in the two previous contests. It will be as follows: left end, Sam Milosevich of Zeigler; left tackle, Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler; left guard, Myron Schuster of Zeigler; center, Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale; right guard, Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle, Jim Lovin of Benton; right end, John Catlin of Harrisburg.

In the backfield the Maroons will look like this: quarterback, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; left halfback, Dick Seelman of Flora; right halfback, Bill Malinsky of Flora; full back, Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

#

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly detailing information from the Information Bureau.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release Tuesday

10-14-46

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. - Launching Southern Illinois Normal University's 1946-47 radio broadcasting schedule, University President Chester F. Lay will go on the air Wednesday, Oct. 16, to discuss "Education Looks Ahead," on "The Southern Hour."

"The Southern Hour," a weekly broadcast each Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 3 p. m. over Station WJPF, Herrin, this year will present informative programs on educational trends and sidelights on educational activities in an eight-month series of interviews and round table discussions.

President Lay will discuss broad aspects of education as affected by the large numbers of returning war veterans to the nation's campuses, the impact of atomic energy, and other trends. He will report briefly on Southern's own post-war program.

A second radio series will be beamed from Southern each Friday afternoon over both Station WJPF, Herrin, and Station WEBQ, Harrisburg, at the same time, 2:30 to 3 p. m. As in former years, this program, known as "Education Time," will be directed at the public school classrooms of Southern Illinois. This fall, this series will feature the popular "quiz program" idea, with public school students participating.

"Education Time" will first present Miss Helen Narber, assistant professor in the Allyn Training School at Southern, with a group of her first grade pupils, in a discussion and quiz program entitled "Teaching Is Fun."

Sponsored by the University Information Service, these radio programs will use "live" music furnished by student orchestras.

Dr. P. Merville Larson, associate professor and chairman of the speech department, will direct "The Southern Hour" while Willis E. Malone of the College of Education will continue to direct "Education Time."

###

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly containing dates, names, and descriptive information.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-14-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., October 14 --Getting off on the right foot in the 1946 Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference grid race, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons last Saturday at Normal scored twice in the last period to Illinois State Normal University's once, taking a 13 to 6 decision from the mid-staters.

In a contest that was dominated by Southern much more than the score indicates, the Maroons were not able to cross their foes' goal line until the fourth period, when Bill Malinsky of Flora, flipped a 25-yard pass to Bob Colborn, also of Flora, from the Maroon 20-yard line. Colborn galloped the remaining 55 yards and Southern led 6-0.

A few minutes later Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville passed to Joe Franza of Murphysboro for the Maroons' second touchdown. Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City converted, and it looked as though Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's charges were destined to whitewash the Red Birds 13-0.

However, with four minutes remaining in the fray, Normal tailback Baker handed the ball off on a pass play to his halfback. The pass to the end was complete and as the Maroons were smearing the Red Bird end, he lateraled to Baker who crossed Southern's goal line for Normal's only score of the day.

The Maroons racked up 14 first downs to their opponents' five, and twice the Martin-men made costly fumbles inside Normal's five-yard line that made the final score seem closer than the actual play was.

Next Saturday the Maroons will play host to Arkansas State in a non-conference battle that is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p.m. in MacAndrew Stadium.

#

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal document or report, possibly related to the information service mentioned in the header. It includes what looks like a title, a date, and several paragraphs of descriptive text. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting it might be bleed-through from the reverse side.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-14-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Tuesday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 14-- A new men's lounge has been opened for Southern Illinois Normal University's 1,907 men students this week in a residence across the street from the main campus.

The veterans' lounge, in operation since last spring in the Old Science Building, has been moved to 1010 Thompson Street, to one of the residences purchased in the University's current land acquisition program, and will now be open to all men students.

Two offices are provided in the new lounge, one for Glenn J. McGowan, advisor to president Chester F. Lay, on veterans' affairs, and the other for William R. Winkelmeier, local representative of the Illinois Veterans Commission.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 14 --A new "post office" has been opened this week at Southern Illinois Normal University to serve the expanding faculty and student body.

While not a branch U. S. post office, the new office furnishes mail boxes for all faculty members, and will sort and weigh outgoing mail. Hours are from 8 to 12 and 1 to 4:30 each day that the University is in session. Mrs. Dorothy Hunter is in charge.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 14 --Guest speaker for the student assembly at Southern Illinois Normal University on Thursday, Oct. 17, will be George L. Davis, director of student affairs at Purdue University, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into sections, possibly separated by horizontal lines, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-14-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Release Wednesday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 16 --"Green thumb" experts from all over Southern Illinois are gathered here today as guests of Carbondale's two garden clubs and Southern Illinois Normal University for a "harvest fair" and garden tour.

The gymnasium in the Old Science Building on the University campus is converted into a veritable hothouse, with exhibits of petunias, zinnias, marigolds, asters, snapdragons, dahlias, gladiolas, delphiniums, coxcomb, roses, chrysanthemums, and flower arrangements.

Vegetables--tomatoes, carrots, corn, peppers, potatoes, squash, turnips, pumpkin, onions, beans, parsnips, etc.--are also in display.

Adding variety to the growers' exhibits are arts and crafts, block prints, collections of handiwork and of flowers and vegetables, house plants, wild life, wild flowers, junior weaving, table and mantel displays.

Special exhibits are shown by several University departments--art, agriculture, home economics, botany and zoology.

Present for the occasion are Mrs. Daniel E. Kissam of Glencoe, state president of the garden clubs; Mrs. J. W. Ginsburg of Mt. Vernon, South regional chairman; and other officers. Delegations of garden lovers from other communities of Southern Illinois--some having as many as 30 members--have come to attend the show.

Southern Ill. Normal University Information Service
Lorena Drummond, Editor

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. -It's four to one that the Homecoming Queen at Southern Illinois Normal University this year will be a brunette!

At least, students have chosen as their top five candidates for this honor four brunettes and one honey blond.

Picking these top five from a field of ten nominees, the student body has determined that all five will be in the Queen's Court, but which of the five got the highest number of votes and will be the Queen is the $64 question.

Her identity will not be revealed until the moment of her coronation at the Homecoming Dance Saturday night at 11 o'clock.

The top five: Kathryn Alley of Sparta, president of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority, Little Theater actress, and Homecoming Publicity committee member.

Joan Fairbairn of Harvey, independent, member of the Student Council, member of Girls' Rally, service organization.

Aliene Kauzlarich of Christopher, independent, member of Independent Student Union, member of Girls Rally.

Barbara Melvin of DuQuoin, member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, member of Girls Rally, majorette for the Maroon Band.

Velma McCormick of Johnston City, vice-president of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, member of Pan-Hellenic inter-sorority council, member of Girls Rally.

Also elected by students as junior attendants for the Queen are Elizabeth Bonner of Fairfield and Dorothea Gahan of Flora.

The Queen nominees will be introduced at the Little Theater play on Friday night, will be entertained at a Queen's Breakfast Saturday at 12 o'clock, will be presented before the football crowd just before the kick-off of the Southern-Eastern game.

Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. - Although it was Western's Homecoming football game, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons took over and when the festivities were done, the score board showed a 19-7 Southern win.

The Southern cross-country team finished the half-time run in a 30-30 dead heat with the host harriers while the Monmouth thinly-clads wound up third with 64 points.

Before the largest crowd ever to witness a home football game at Macomb, the Maroons, behind brilliant line play and fancy stepping backs scored once in each of the second, third, and fourth periods to take their second conference game without a loss, and making their season's record show three victories against two defeats.

The Leathernecks delighted the partisan crowd by punching across a touchdown in the middle of the first period and taking a 7-0 lead. However, their joy was shortlived when, on the second play of the second quarter, Bob Johnson of Royalton stepped off 40 yards of fancy broken field running and crossed Western's goal line. The conversion missed and the Leathernecks led 7-6 when the halftime came.

The third period Maroon score broke the hearts of the Homecoming fans, as Bill Malinsky of Flora, playing at quarterback in this contest, shot a 30yard touchdown pass to Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, who has been moved to right halfback. This time Captain Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City kicked the extra point and Southern took a 13-7 lead, never to be headed again.

The Maroons put the game on ice in the fourth quarter when the desperate Westerners took to the air. On a pass play, the Southern line broke through and rushed the passer, and he dropped a short pass into the hands of Stotlar who galloped 25 yards for the score. The conversion missed again, but the Maroons were able to coast in on their 19-7 lead, despite the valiant ~~drive~~ drive put on by the keyed-up Leathernecks in the last seconds of the game.

The harriers were not so fortunate as they were held to a tie for the 3.6 mile hill and dale course. The winning time was a slow 19.44.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs and is mostly illegible due to fading and low contrast.

The thinlyclads finished as follows: first--Green (W); second --Bill Keene of Carrier Mills (S); third--Petit (W); fourth--Glen Hamilton of Pinckneyville (S); fifth--~~Maxix~~ Hemphill (W); sixth--Leonard Burden of Herrin (S); seventh--Dickson (W); eighth--Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville (S); ninth--McCaig (M); tenth--Edward Miller of Carbondale (S); eleventh--Stone (M); twelfth --Leary (M); thirteenth--no finisher; fourteenth--Brown (W); fifteenth--DeMorest (M).

The next southern home football game is scheduled for November 2, when the Maroons meet Eastern in the annual Homecoming game here.

###

Faint, illegible text covering the upper two-thirds of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Faint, illegible text covering the lower third of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

in to
to St ira me
the
So vit
in hav
St Sou
For his Mrs anc
of Pet
the
the
a
a
in

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release Friday p. m.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. - Fielding a team that is shot with injuries, Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin will send his Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons out in quest of their third victory in four starts when they square off against Arkansas State in MacAndrew Stadium at 2:30 p. m. next Saturday in a non-conference football fray.

The Southerners' victory over State Normal last week was a costly one as Galan Davis of DuQuoin, Orm Osborn of Jackson City, Mich, Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale, Bill Malinsky of Flora, Myron Schuster of Murphysboro, and J. Pieron of Murphysboro all turned up with minor injuries and, according to Martin, will be used sparingly in the Arkansas tilt.

The strength of the two teams can be somewhat compared as they have both met and have both been defeated by Southeastern Missouri State College. Arkansas State went down to the tune of 8-0, while Southern lost out by a 20-13 margin.

Arkansas State has a new coach this year in the person of Forrest "Frosty" England, formerly mentor of University City (Mo.) high school, and boasts such Southern Illinois stars as Arthur "Sonny" Kramer of Collinsville, Benny Wilhelm of Taylorville, and Dale Hudson and Jim Jordan of Jacksonville.

The Southern lineup will be as follows: left end, Joe Franza of Murphysboro; left tackle, Jim Lovin of Benton; left guard, Bob Etheridge of Fairfield; center, Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; right guard, Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle, Charles Mathiew of Eldorado, right end, Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; quarterback, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; left halfback, Dick Seelman of Flora; right halfback, Jack Stephens of W. Frankfort; fullback, Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

Arkansas State will start Shearburn and Ledbetter at ends, Wilhelm and Hudson at tackles, Radison and Phelps at guards, Parker at Center, Underwood at quarterback, Atkins and Coleman at halfback, and Bolton at fullback.

Tickets for the game will go on sale at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday in front of MacAndrew Stadium, home of all Southern contests.

###

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. --Twenty-five basketball contests have been carded for the Southern Illinois Normal University 1946-47 schedule, Athletic Director and Basket Ball Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin announced. The Maroons also plan to participate in two tournaments.

The following are the home tilts to be played in MacAndrew Stadium in Carbondale: November 30-Onized Glass and Shefford Cheese; December 3-Meramec Caverns; 18-Arkansas State; 20-Indiana State; January 7-Evansville College; 11-Western Illinois State Teachers; 14-Southeastern Missouri State; 18-Eastern Illinois State Teachers; 20-Milliken University; 25-Northern Illinois State Teachers; February 5-Chicago University; 24-Illinois Normal University.

The Maroons will leave home for these contests: December 6-St. Louis University; 7-Washington University (St. Louis); 9-Western Kentucky (Paducah); 14-Loyola University; January 16-Evansville College; 29-Southeastern Missouri State; February 1-Illinois Normal University; 8-Indiana State; 14-Western Illinois State Teachers; 15-Milliken University; 21-western Illinois State Teachers; 22-Chicago University; March 1-Northern Illinois State Teachers.

In addition to the regular season's card, the Maroons will enter a four-team Christmas holiday tournament to be held at Kansas City on December 27 and 28. Southern, last year's titleholder, will also be automatically entered in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament which will be held in the middle of March, also in Kansas City, Martin said.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. --The Southern Illinois Normal University "D" football squad dropped a 21-0 contest to the St. Louis University reserves on Monday, October 14. The Bills pushed a touchdown and point conversion across in each of the first three periods to down their inexperienced opponents. This was the Maroon "B" eleven's first contest of the season.

#

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the document. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, but the characters are too light to be transcribed accurately.]

Un
da as wet fo
be mos run
in mil can Agr
Agr
Dep

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-16-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Radio Stations
Release Friday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. --The dairy herds at Southern Illinois Normal University are entirely free of the dreaded Bangs Disease, which annually costs dairy farmers of Illinois between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, Conrad White, assistant professor of agriculture, reports proudly.

Blood samples from the Guernsey and Hereford herds on the University Farm were tested recently by Dr. G. V. Keller, deputy state veterinarian, and were found to be disease free.

Milk from cows infected with Bangs Disease causes undulant fever in human beings who drink it, Mr. White explained, adding that this fever is one of the most prolonged and debilitating diseases to which the human body is susceptible running for years.

"In addition to the danger to human beings, there is a great economic loss in livestock production," he declares. "This amounts to between four and five million dollars annually in Illinois."

Findings of Professor Bang of Denmark, who first discovered the germ causing Bangs Disease in 1896, were substantiated in 1910 by the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, Mr. White pointed out.

Today a testing program is being carried on by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, with the cooperation of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, to seek out and control the disease.

This program calls for three optional plans: (1) herd testing and slaughtering of animals reacting positively to the tests; (2) herd testing with slaughter of reacting animals and vaccination of all calves; (3) herd testing with deferred slaughtering of reacting animals and calfhood vaccination.

Only positive safeguard against human infection with undulant fever from Bangs Disease is for each family (1) to make sure that all milk used comes from animals certified to be disease free, and (2) to insist on pasteurized milk.

"There are still a few small dairies which do not pasteurize," Dr. R. C. Cassell, chairman of the University's agriculture department, said. "The public should insist on pasteurization."

Home-produced milk which comes from cows infected with Bang's Disease should be carefully pasteurized by boiling for 30 minutes at 145° F., Mr. White said.

"It is the plan of those in charge of the animal husbandry work at the University farm to continue the disease testing program and to bring to the farm only animals that have a health certificate showing them to be disease-free animals.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-17-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Saturday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 19 -- Southern Illinois Normal University has been selected by the University Christian Missions of the Federal Council of Churches as one of 20 colleges and universities in the nation to hold a Religious Emphasis Week this fall.

Dates for this special week of religious programs have been set for November 3-8.

A full week of evening addresses, open to the public, by nationally known religious leaders; informal discussion groups; meetings with students in their fraternity, sorority, and boarding houses; and talks before classes, will be presented, according to David S. McIntosh, associate professor of music, who is general chairman for Religious Emphasis Week.

Among the authorities in world affairs, sociology, journalism and missions who will be guest speakers for Religious Emphasis Week will be Dr. Clark Ellzey, specialist in marriage and family relations, professor at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo.; Dr. James Nichols, co-editor of "The Journal of Religion" and professor of the history of Christianity at the University of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Mow, formerly missionary to India, now professor of Christian education at Bethany Seminary in Chicago; and the Rev. Bayard Clark, minister at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

This will be the second Religious Emphasis Week held at Southern in the past two years, the first being the occasion of the establishment of the Student Christian Foundation, campus all-denominational religious organization. The 1944 week however, was conducted entirely locally, though with national leaders on its program, many of them the same authorities furnished by the University Christian Missions of the Federal Council of Churches.

The Student Christian Foundation was instrumental in bringing the nationally-sponsored Religious Emphasis Week to the campus this year.

Among the other colleges and universities holding Religious Emphasis Week this year are the state Universities of Oregon, Iowa, North Carolina, Montana, Ohio, and Bethany College in West Virginia.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-17-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 17 --Engagement of Johnny "Scat" Davis and his 17-piece orchestra to play for the Southern Illinois Normal University Homecoming Dance here November 2 has been announced by Ralph Myers of Grand Chain, student chairman of the dance band committee.

Davis and his "sweet-and-swing" band have recently returned from an extended engagement in Reynosa, Mexico, and have an impressive string of triumphs in ballrooms night clubs and theaters of the country to their credit, including Chicago's Aragon, Trianon, Rainbo rooms and the Black Hawk Restaurant.

Featured vocalist for the Homecoming Dance will be Jeff Lane and Nadine Vaughn.

Davis started his orchestra career at the age of 10, played with such well-known bands as Jimmy Joy's, Smith Ballew, Red Nichols, Will Osborne, and finally joined Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians for seven years.

Hiss Hollywood bow was in the motion picture "Varsity Show," followed by "Brother Rat," "Cowboy from Brooklyn," etc. It was in Hollywood in 1939 that he organized his own orchestra, which he has led ever since, except during the war years when his men went into the armed forces and he himself served on the Armed Forces Entertainment Committee. He m.c.'d shows for the 28 Army and Navy receiving hospitals in the San Francisco area, went on tour with camp shows, and played nearly every Army camp and Navy base in the country.

He reorganized his band in August, 1945, and put the big new outfit on the road.

#

1871
1872
1873

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-17-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Saturday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 18 --Three retiring faculty members of Southern Illinois Normal University were honored with a banquet at the cafeteria tonight-- Miss Florence A. Wells and C. C. Logan, both assistant professors at University high school, and William M. Bailey, assistant professor of botany.

Dr. Bailey, chairman of the botany department until the time of his re-tirement received his bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees from Campbell College, and his master of science and doctor degrees at the University of Chicago. He joined the Southern faculty in 1914.

Mr. Logan, who was director of the University film service at the time of his retirement, came in 1923. He is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Miss Wells taught English for many years in University high, having been on the faculty since 1927. She is a graduate of Southern, and took her master of arts degree at the University of Illinois.

Books were presented to each of the three by Miss Evelyn Rieke, assistant professor and dean of girls at University high, Dilla Hall, assistant professor of University high, and Bill Marberry, assistant professor of botany, respectively.

Speaker for the occasion was President Chester F. Lay. Special music for the occasion was arranged by Dr. Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the music department. The banquet was arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, housing counselor.

#

W. H. R. ...

...

...

...

Main body of the document containing several paragraphs of text, which are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan.

Bottom section of the document, possibly a signature block or a concluding paragraph, also containing illegible text.

Fragmentary text visible on the right edge of the page, including words like 'you', 'the', 'from', 'eve', 'vit', 'had', 'shor', 'to', 'for', 'stor', 'toge', 'lat', 'worl'.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-17-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 17 --Colleges and universities should be preparing young people for life in the smaller communities and rural areas, rather than in the crowded metropolitan centers, Southern Illinois Normal University President Chester F. Lay declared in a radio interview this week.

Expressing grave concern at the consequences of the discovery of atomic bomb, he said, "The whole world seems bent on self-destruction, and some people even think it not at all inconceivable that within a lifetime--if indeed not within a very short span of years--the population that remains might be driven back to the caves, to living underground.

"If that is the case, even though it may seem an extreme case, all of us should be learning something about how to exist with nothing but our own hands to keep life together.

"We ought to be learning how to get along with nature, and how to use nature for our own self-preservation."

Dr. Lay expressed the belief that there may yet be "time for the world to stop its headlong rush to self-destruction....time for us all to learn to live together as civilized human beings."

Education has a special obligation in this effort, he asserted.

"Education must leave no stone unturned--in the classroom, on the public platform, in the daily contacts of teachers with the public--to strive for world understanding and to help develop grounds for mutual confidence," the
(more)

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

PHYSICS DEPARTMENT
5712 S. UNIVERSITY AVE.

[Faint, illegible text covering the main body of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.]

the
to
of
the
to wh
ou his lec take comm for he s agri farm shou own in th
to th

University president pointed out.

"We must try to understand the currents of international affairs, and lend our support and convictions to efforts that may yet build world peace. We must train young men and women to take their places in international and domestic affairs who may yet succeed where we have so far failed."

Elaborating on his proposal that colleges and universities should train their students for small-town and rural life, President Lay pointed out that an atomic bomb dropped on St. Louis, 95 miles from the University campus, could "wipe out the very hub of the country's transportation system," and that its effects would be drastically felt on this campus.

"What I am getting at is this--our whole way of life is threatened by the discovery of the atom bomb," he said.

"It becomes increasingly apparent that decentralization of industry and decentralization of population should be carried out, and quickly.

"I think that instead of preparing our students for professions that will take them to the big cities, we should be preparing them to return to the smaller communities, where life may be simpler and opportunities may not be quite so great for financial success, but where existence may be safer--safer from atomic attack."

Asked by what kind of training he would prepare students for such living, he said, "Well, for example, I think there should be a far greater emphasis on agriculture, and more of our students should be encouraged to go into scientific farming.

"More of our girls should be studying home economics. More of our students should be planning to become small businessmen in small towns, working on their own rather than going into large businesses and industries that are concentrated in the metropolitan areas.

"Actually, I think we need to be providing instruction in how to exist close to the earth, and to draw subsistence from the earth if it becomes necessary."

#

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-18-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Weeklies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 18 --Plans for the biggest Homecoming celebration in history are being made at Southern Illinois Normal University as the campus prepares to welcome literally thousands of former students for the two-day alumni reunion Nov. 1-2.

Students last week balloted to nominate ten candidates for the coveted position of Homecoming Queen, and nominated nine freshmen and sophomore girls for the two places of queen's attendants.

The Homecoming dance committee has announced that Johnny "Scat" Davis will bring his 18-piece orchestra to play for the ball on Saturday night, Nov. 1. Dance space will be greatly enlarged to accommodate the huge crowd anticipated.

Southern Maroons will tackle Eastern Illinois State Teachers College on the football field in the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon, starting at 2:30.

On Friday evening, Nov. 1, the Little Theater will produce its annual Homecoming play, this year presenting the hilarious Kaufman and Connelley comedy "You Can't Take It With You."

A second balloting will be held Thursday, Oct. 24, to select the top-ranking favorite among the nominees for Queen, with the two runners-up serving in her court. The Queen's identity will not be known until the moment of her presentation and coronation at the Homecoming Dance, Nov. 1.

Nominated for Queen were the following girls: Barbara Melvin of DuQuoin; Catherine Sullivan of Harrisburg, Marilyn Henderson of Marion, Joan Fairbairn of Harvey, Kathryn Allen of Carbondale, Velma McCormick of Johnston City, Aliene Kauzlarich of Christopher, Eleanor White of Equality, and Phyllis Roy of Gary, Ind.

Nominated for junior attendants, two to be selected, were Erma Douglas of Dongola, Dortha Gahan of Flora, Elizabeth Bonner of Fairfield, Georgie Mircheff of Madison, Marian McKemis of Benton, Billie Lane Hagler of Murphysboro, Nada Kauzlarich of Christopher, Florence Crim of Carbondale, Bessie Mae Ice of West Frankfort.

#

Name

Address

City

State

Grade

Age

Sex

Color

Religion

Occupation of father

Occupation of mother

Number of children in family

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Number of children in class

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Number of children in class

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Number of children in class

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Number of children in class

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Number of children in class

Number of children in school

Number of children in grade

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-18-46

CORRECTION

Note to Editor: In the story mailed you yesterday concerning the dinner given in honor of retiring faculty members Dr. W. M. Bailey, Miss Floreance Wells and Mr. C. C. Logan, Dr. Bailey's title was given as "assistant professor of botany." Dr. Bailey was a full professor until his retirement this fall. We regret this inadvertent error, and hope it may be possible for you to make the correction before publication.

1870

1871

1872

1873

[Faint, illegible text in the main body of the page]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-21-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Wednesday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 23 --Guest speaker for the student assembly this week at Southern Illinois Normal University, Oct. 24 will be Dr. Channing Lien, Korean-born lecturer at many American universities, President Chester F. Lay has announced.

Dr. Lien will speak on Far Eastern affairs in general, and on the problems of Korea in particular.

After studying in the traditional Confucian school, he entered modern Christian schools in China. In 1930 he came to America and studied in Lafayette College, Bucknell University and Princeton University, where he obtained the master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees.

He has served as part-time assistant at the School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton University, and has delivered lectures and conducted forums at many universities.

#

Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 21 --A two-day child guidance clinic will be held at Southern Illinois Normal University Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 23 and 24, Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of Southern's Child Guidance Clinic, has announced.

These special clinics are held each quarter by the University in cooperation with the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research. Consultants for this fall clinic will be Dr. Sophie Schroeder and Mrs. Eadith Morales from Chicago.

Mornings will be devoted to diagnosing individual selected children, with discussions and recommendations being worked out in the afternoon. In addition, two seminars will be held, the Wednesday afternoon one on techniques, procedures and therapy for solving individual cases, the Thursday one on psychiatry.

#

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible. The text appears to be a formal document or report, possibly related to the 'Information Service' mentioned in the header. The layout includes several lines of text, some of which may be headings or sub-sections, but they cannot be discerned due to the low contrast and blurriness of the scan.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-21-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 21 --President Chester F. Lay of Southern Illinois Normal University Monday participated in a "debate" before the University of Chicago Teacher Education Conference on the subject, "Should Teachers Colleges Be State Colleges?"

Dr. Lay joined with President G. W. Diemer of Central Missouri State College in taking the affirmative position on this question, while the negative was upheld by President Walter H. Ryle of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College and President R. W. Fairchild of Illinois State Normal University.

The two-day educational conference centers around the theme "Current Issues Among Teachers Colleges."

Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of Southern's College of Education, and Raymond H. Dey, director of the Extension and Placement Services, also attended the second day's sessions.

#

...

...

...

...

Southern Illinois

Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-21-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 21 --Finding out the hard way that after touchdowns, conversions are important, too, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons went down to a 14-12 defeat at the hands of Arkansas State last Saturday as the Indians made two touchdowns and two place kicks while the Maroons matched their two six-point scores but could not add the extra markers.

Southern hit the jackpot when the game was young as Dick Seelman of Flora dropped a 30-yard pass into the arms of Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City who was standing in the end zone. The place-kick missed and the Maroons led 6-0.

The Indians fought back in the third period, however, and counted twice. Their first score came after they had intercepted a Southern pass. They marched down the field to the Maroon two-yard line, from where Jim Jordan carried it over. Bob Appleby and Tom Uhlmansieck combined for the conversion, with Appleby booting, and the Staters led 7-6.

The Maroons received the kickoff deep in their own territory and when quarterback Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville dropped back to pass, he was rushed, and tossed the ball into the arms of Arkansas end S. T. Johnston, who was downed on the local one yard line.

(more)

...

...

Main body of the document containing several paragraphs of text, mostly illegible due to fading.

Bottom section of the document, possibly a signature or footer, also illegible.

Trying three line plays that failed to gain the necessary yardage, Uhlmansieck passed to Virgil Ledbetter in the end zone to chalk up another six points. Appleby and Uhlmansieck combined once more and the man from Jonesboro, Ark., had a commanding 14-6 lead.

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's charges weren't to be cast aside so easily though, and in the fourth period Bill Malinsky of Flora passed to George Beltz of Marion from a tricky formation on the 26-yard line and Beltz received the toss in the Indian end zone. Once more the conversion failed and Arkansas still led 14-12.

Time ran out before the Maroons could cross the goal line again but the contest ended on a thrilling note. With time left for but one play, Malinsky heaved a desperate pass from his own 46-yard line and Beltz hauled it down on the State four-yard stripe. He was immediately tackled and the officials declared the contest was history.

This was Southern's second loss against as many triumphs. The next home game will be November 2, when the Maroons will entertain Eastern Illinois State Teachers in the annual homecoming contest. Next week the Martin-men will journey to Macomb where the Western Leathernecks will try to derail the Maroon conference-crown drive.

#

Faint, illegible text covering the upper portion of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Faint, illegible text covering the lower portion of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Fragmentary text visible along the right edge of the page, including characters such as 'S', 't', 'A', 'o', 'C', 'a', 'p', 'V', 'F', 'P', 'C', 't', 'H', 'i'.

Southern Illinois

Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-22-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 25 --Vronsky and Babin, Russian two-piano team, will appear at Southern Illinois Normal University in Shryock Auditorium under the auspices of the Community Concert Association on November 6, Mrs. W. A. Thalman, Association chairman, has announced

Vitka Vronsky was born in Kiev and was educated at the Kiev Conservatory. Babin was born in Moscow and entered the conservatory at Riga. The two met in Berlin as students of Artur Schnabel, pianist, and there decided to merge their lives and talents. Vitka Vronsky is Mrs. Babin as well as one member of the team.

They made their American debut at Town Hall, New York, on February 14, 1937. Since then they have soloed with the New York Philharmonic, Philadelphia, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, Hollywood Bowl, Chicago, and other orchestras. Each season they make a transcontinental tour in this country. Both are American citizens.

Programs they have performed with as guest artists include the Ford Hour, Bing Crosby, Rudy Vallee, Andre Kostelanetz, and Hildegarde.

#

Account of the
... ..

... ..

... ..

... ..

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-25-40

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 25 --Two conference wins in a row is what the Southern Illinois Normal Maroons will be shooting for when they invade Macomb, Illinois, next Saturday to do battle with the Western Leathernecks.

The Maroons have one Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference win in their books as they took the measure of the State Normal Redbirds two weeks ago.

Although the Maroons still are plagued by the injury jinx, the Leathernecks should not offer too much trouble, despite the fact that they will be performing before a Homecoming crowd, as they have dropped two conference tilts already,

Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced his starting lineup as follows: left end-Joe Franza of Murphysboro; left tackle-Jim Lovin of Benton; left guard-J. Pieron of Murphysboro; center-Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; right tackle-. Charles Mathiew of Eldorado; right guard-Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right end-Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; quarterback-Bill Malinsky of Flora; left halfback-Dick Seelman of Flora; right halfback-Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; fullback-Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

It is doubtful whether Jack Stephens of West Frankfort, Bob Etheridge of Fairfield, and Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale will make the trip as they have been sidelined because of injuries, Martin said.

One major change in the backfield shows Stotlar moved to a halfback position from his quarterback berth. This was done to capitalize on Stotlar's prowess as a running back, Martin said.

The Maroons have the season's record of two victories against as many defeats. The next home game will be the Homecoming affair against Eastern State Teachers on November 2.

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and difficult to read. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly related to the university's information service. It includes a header section with the university's name and address, followed by several lines of body text. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting it might be a scan of a document with bleed-through or a very low-quality scan.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-23-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 25 --Dr. R. C. Cassell, chairman of the Department of Agriculture, and Conrad White, assistant professor of Agriculture, recently visited the J. T. Allison's Sons Shropshire Sheep Farm near Mattoon, Illinois, to purchase stock for the University farm.

This is one of the oldest nationally known Shropshire sheep flocks in the United States. It was established in 1889 and has won a number of prizes in county, state and national sheep shows.

Two two-year-old ewes and one yearling were selected for the University flock. Two of these ewes are sired by a ram from the George McKerrow flock of Wisconsin, and one ewe is sired by a ram from the W. F. Kenk flock of Wisconsin. Kenk and McKerrow are nationally known Shropshire breeders. These ewes should be an excellent addition to the small but good flock of sheep maintained by the University farm, White pointed out.

The purposes of the sheep flock as well as the other herds and flocks at the University farm are (1) for instruction in the livestock classes in the Department of Agriculture, (2) for experimental and research work and, (3) to provide good breeding stock for the farmers and breeders of Southern Illinois.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 25 --Mrs. Dorothea F. Swan, assistant professor of art at Southern Illinois Normal University, has been notified that the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts has accepted a lithograph of hers, "Birchrunville," for the 44th Annual Philadelphia Water Color and Print Exhibition Oct. 19-Nov. 24.

Mrs. Swan is also exhibiting two oil paintings, "Weeping Willow" and "Lake James Chapel," at the 12th Local Artists Exhibition at the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Art Museum, Nov. 10-Dec. 20.

#

Southern Illinois

State University

Carbondale, Illinois

Information Service
1950-1951

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs and is difficult to decipher.]

S
R

S
t
S

wh
al
th an

th fi
Ca
Gl se
Sp
Ch

2

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-23-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 25 --Coach Leland "Doc" Lingle and his Southern Illinois Normal University cross-country team will join the football squad when they invade Western Teachers at Macomb next Saturday, to perform in the Leathernecks homecoming affair.

The Maroons have one win notched in their only start this season when they took the measure of Eastern State Teachers last Friday. Although two Eastern runners finished in a dead heat for first place, the Southerners managed to rack up third to seventh place inclusively and also an eleventh spot to take the days honors.

The winning time for the 3:45 mile course was 17:40. The thin-clads finished as follows: Slater and Sullivan of Eastern finished in a tie for first place; third (s) William Keene of Carrier Mills; fourth (s) Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville; fifth (s) Glen Hamilton of Pinckneyville; sixth (s) Buddy Miller of Carbondale; seventh (s) Leonard Burden of Herrin; eighth (E) Kickman; ninth (E) Spiller; tenth (E) McCulloch; eleventh (s) Louis Pechineno of Christopher; twelveth (E) Hansen.

The next home meet carded for the Maroons is set for November 2 when the Maroons will meet the Easterners in a return go.

#

1861

1862

1863

1864

1865

[Faint, illegible text in the main body of the page]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-25-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Monday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 28 --"Our Museum," monthly publication dedicated to a more complete understanding of Southern Illinois, made its initial appearance at Southern Illinois Normal University in September, under the direction of John W. Allen, curator of the University museum.

The staff consists of Allen, curator of history and the museum, and three students, Loraine Waters of Percy, editor and artist; Doris Morgan of Sparta, assistant artist; and Verna Lee Shannon of Oraville assistant editor.

A sketch of an old Korenthal Church adorns the cover of the booklet, and inside is a story on the village of Kornthal, Valley of Grain, located two miles south of Jonesboro.

A review of Otto Rothard's book, The Outlaws of Cave-in-Rock, description of the Museum's collection of Indian relics, gathered by Irving Peithman, manager of the University Farm; comments on the Grand Tower Rock; and acknowledgements of gifts that have been made to the museum are included in the selection.

It also contains a feature called "Toadstool or Mushroom" written by Dr. Walter B. Welch, who last week became chairman of Southern's botany department, upon retirement of the former chairman, Dr. William M. Bailey, professor of botany.

" "

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 28 --Twenty lithographs are on display in the Southern Illinois Normal University Art Center, and are complemented in technical and esthetic phases by an exhibit in the Little Gallery, Ben Watkins, assistant professor of art, has announced

The prints are original, limited editions of the work of such artists as Adol'n Dehn, George Biddle, Doris Lee, Boardman Robinson, Edgar Britton, and Arnold Blanch.

According to Watkins, the quality of the work is high and the subject matter is of popular interest. Exhibitions are usually change every month and it is planned to offer a variety of shows for the coming show.

#

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the document. The text is arranged in several paragraphs and is difficult to discern.]

St
H
H
C
be lo
th
fr hi
St wi
wi re
wh
to 19
ch

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-25-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Monday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 28 --Amid the hustle and bustle of campus Homecoming activity at Southern Illinois Normal University, none is more intent than that of the Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin, his assistants, and the football squad.

Aside from being a conference tilt, the game with Eastern to be held here November 2 will probably attract thousands of students, local fans, and many alumni, and the athletic department is doing their utmost to furnish them with an afternoon complete with the fruits of victory.

However, Eastern will play the roll of villian once more in their highly concentrated efforts to make the Maroon fans leave MacAndrew Stadium in an unhappy state of mind. Coach Maynard "Pat" O'Brien will be bringing an eleven to Carbondale that is sprinkled generously with returned veterans and high school stars. The Panther squad is reported to be the largest to turn out in Eastern history.

In the Southern mentor, Martin, is found a quiet character who oozes confidence and is able to impart this quiet confidence to his men. Martin attended Southern and won football letters in 1929, 1930, and 1931. In 1930 he was elected captain and was chosen all-conference left halfback.

(more)

Martin also played professional football for the Chicago Cardinals for one year and then took up high school coaching. He started at Fairfield and then moved to Pontiac. He returned to Southern's campus in 1938 as assistant coach and in 1939 became head coach. In 1945, he was made Athletic Director.

In eastern's case, however, O'Brien is serving his freshman year as head football and is anxious to make a good record. He was recently released from the U. S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant commander. While in service, O'Brien had the good fortune to work under the direction of Bernie Bierman, famous Minnesota mentor, who was directing the Iowa Pre-Flight team. O'Brien attributes much of his football knowledge to this association.

O'Brien, six feet three inches tall and weighing 225 pounds, is a former gridiron star of Illinois Wesleyan of Bloomington, and probably nothing would suit him better than to knock off Southern's Maroons before the Homecoming aggregation.

However, with many of the injured Southerners on the recovery list, the Maroons should be able to field a full strength team against Eastern, and a victory for the Maroon and White should not be too remote.

#

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-29-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Thursday

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 29--Here's a few words of advice for the throngs of Southern Illinois Normal University alumni who are planning to attend the Nov. 1-2 Homecoming at Southern:

(1) Buy your tickets for the Homecoming Play, the Southern-Eastern football game, and the Homecoming Dance in advance to avoid the rush.

(2) If you're "commuting" you might consider bringing a box lunch.

(3) If you will be here overnight, and need assistance in finding rooms, Southern's housing counselor, Mrs. Mabel Pulliam in the Dean of Women's Office, will be glad to help you.

Advance sale tickets for the Homecoming Play will end at noon Thursday, but tickets for the Homecoming Dance will be on sale downtown in six business houses--Varsity, Walgreen's and Clinic Wick Drug Stores, Tom Mcfield's Clothing Store, and Nauman's Studio--at Carter's Cafe in the University community, and at the Alumni Office on the campus Friday afternoon until 8 o'clock.

Tickets for the football game, both regular tickets and tax stubs for complimentary tickets, will be on sale Friday afternoon at the Elite Barber Shop and on sale at the Stadium gate after 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Due to the large student enrollment and to the anticipated record crowd for Homecoming, it is expected that the University Cafeteria and all restaurants of Carbondale and vicinity will be taxed for past capacity, so that those who can conveniently bring box lunches are urged to do so.

Mrs. Pulliam, University housing counselor, reports that she has listings of numerous private rooms which will be available to overnight Homecoming guests.

Homecoming will begin officially Friday morning at 10 a.m. when students will gather at the Stadium--Shryock Auditorium is far too small to accommodate today's 2,700 student body--for a pep session. President Chester F. Lay will dismiss classes for the day as soon as the assembly and pep session have ended.

(more)

1918

RECEIVED BY THE LIBRARY

1918

[The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a list or index of items, possibly books or documents, with several lines of text per entry. The text is oriented vertically on the page.]

At 11 o'clock a giant parade of floats and stunts will leave the campus, headed by convertibles bearing the Queen nominees and attendants, for downtown. When the procession reaches the parking area downtown, a second pep session will be held, and prizes will be awarded for the floats and stunts.

Open house will be held at the President's Office from 2 to 4 Friday afternoon and from 10 to 12 Saturday morning, although President Lay has announced he hopes alumni will call at any time it is convenient.

Students will attend a free movie in the afternoon, and the Little Theater will stage its Homecoming production, "You Can't Take It With You", Friday night at Shryock Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. A pep rally for all students and all alumni will be held on the practice field immediately after the play.

The women's Athletic Association will sponsor its traditional Varsity-Alumni hockey game Saturday morning at 9 a.m. The Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting at 10 a.m. at the Roberts Hotel.

Queen nominees and attendants will be entertained at a breakfast at 11:30 by the Queen's committee, with Miss Gloria Berger of Harrisburg, last year's queen, as an honor guest.

At 1 o'clock 18 Southern Illinois high school and grade school bands will parade from downtown to the stadium, and will present a series of formations and massed band music during the half at the game.

Features at the football game, in addition to the school bands, will include pre game presentation of the Queen nominees, and presentation of the Henry Hinkley Award by Nu Epsilon Alpha to Gen. Milosevich of Zeigler, all-conference tackle on last year's team and a stalwart on this year's line.

This award has been established by the fraternity in memory of one of their former members who lost his life in the war. A plaque will be presented by the fraternity to President Lay which will be placed in the Gymnasium and which will bear the names of successive winners of the award.

Between halves, at the conclusion of the massed band formation, members of the Southern Knights, campus service society which is currently reorganizing after wartime inactivity, will formally present the Sphinx, large model of the school's insignia.

From 8 to 11 p.m. an informal reunion party for all alumni will be held in the Old Gymnasium, while the Homecoming Dance will be held from 9 to 1 o'clock in the new Gymnasium.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Johnny "Scat" Davis and his 16-piece orchestra.

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

[The body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is too light to transcribe accurately.]

The climax of Homecoming will occur at 11 p.m. when the dance will be interrupted for the crowning of Southern's 1946 Queen by Football Team Captain Bill Malinsky of Flora. Master of ceremonies for this event, as well as for the Friday night pep rally and the ceremonies at the game, will be student chairman of Homecoming, Dale Andrews of Mt. Carmel.

Who the queen will be is a closely guarded secret, although she was elected by the student body a week ago. Ballots have been under lock and key, and her identity will not be revealed until the moment of her coronation.

Queen nominees are Kathryn Ailey of Carbondale, Joan Fairbairn of Harvey, Aliene Kauzlarich of Christopher, Barbara McIvan of DuQuoin, and Velma McCormick of Johnston City. Queen's attendants will be Elizabeth Bonner of Fairfield and Dorothea Gahan of Flora.

The football game will be broadcast over Radio Station WJPF, which will also broadcast a half hour program Saturday night, from 10:45 to 11:15 p.m., including dance music and the Queen's coronation.

Among the honor guests for the 1946 Homecoming will be Frank G. Thompson, director of the State Department of Registration and Education and chairman of the State Teachers College Board who is himself an alumnus of Southern, and Dr. Percival Bailey of Chicago, president of the Southern Alumni Association.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

10-30-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 1 --Homecoming got under way today at Southern Illinois Normal University as students met in a giant pep rally in MacAndrew Stadium, staged a parade of bands and floats to the heart of downtown Carbondale, and there held another pep session.

Alumni are already piling in for the two-day celebration, and other thousands are expected for the Southern-Eastern football game tomorrow and the Homecoming dance and Queen's coronation tomorrow night.

A record-breaking crowd is anticipated at the football game, and bleachers have been erected to provide a total seating capacity at the Stadium of some 8,500.

Similarly, the dance space has been enlarged at the Gymnasium for the Homecoming ball on Saturday night, when Johnny "Scat" Davis and his orchestra will play, and Southern's Queen will be crowned.

Tonight the Homecoming crowd will be regaled by the Little Theater's production of "You Can't Take It With You," followed by a huge bonfire and pep rally, at which freshmen will take the Ephebic Oath, Southern pledge of loyalty, and cast their freshman
(more)

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

LIBRARY

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
LIBRARY

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

green ribbons into the flames.

Chief speaker at the bonfire rally will be Dr. Percival Bailey of Chicago, president of Southern's Alumni Association, while Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin will speak briefly about prospects for Saturday's game. University President Chester F. Lay will administer the Epebic Oath to the freshman.

Nineteen Southern Illinois high school and grade school bands will stage a parade from downtown Carbondale to the stadium, beginning at 1 o'clock, and will present a massed band concert and formations during the half.

Both the football game and a half-hour's program from the Gymnasium, 10:45 to 11:15 p.m., including the Queen's coronation, will be broadcast over Station WJPF, Herrin.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Friday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. "Beat Eastern on Homecoming"---that is the cry that is going around the campus of Southern Illinois Normal University this week as the Southern Maroons are making last minute preparations to down the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College eleven when they clash in MacAndrew Stadium at 2:30 p.m. next Saturday, November 2.

The Maroons sport a record of three wins and two defeats for the current season, and two of these victories were over Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic conference foes; therefore, the Maroons will lay their chances to stay in the race for the loop crown on the line in this crucial contest.

The Maroon grid machine should be ready to go in this tilt, as they came through last week's 19-7 win over western State Teachers without any serious injuries. Southern spoiled Western's Homecoming as far as the gridiron activities were concerned, and will be out this week to keep Eastern from returning the deed to them.

Eastern should not be too difficult for the Maroons to solve this week, as Southern is rated a better squad by the experts, and on top of this will be especially keyed up for Homecoming. However, it is a known fact that rival coaches and teams have no greater joy than to whip a favored team in its Homecoming game.

(more)

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

For this game, Southern Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin will send the following team out to defend the Maroon and White: left end--Galan Davis of DuQuoin; left tackle--Jim Lovin of Benton; left guard--Drm Osborn of Jackson City, Mich.; center--Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; right guard--Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle--Sam Milosevich of Zeigler; right end--Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; quarterback--Bill Malinsky of Flora; left halfback--Bob Johnson of Royalton; right halfback--Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; fullback--Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

Eastern will probably look like this as they take the field; ends--L. Cox and Miller; Bujnowski and Hayton; guards--Davisson and Jackson; center--Ingram; halfback--Stabler and McDermott; fullback--Gross; quarterback--Babb.

Southern will be playing under a new team captain as members of the squad have elected Bill Malinsky of Flora as head of the 1946 aggregation.

Tickets for the contest will go on sale at 10 a.m. Saturday in front of MacAndrew Stadium, the business office has announced. A capacity crowd is expected, if the weatherman is on Southern's side, and extra bleachers have been erected to facilitate seating difficulties. This contest will be broadcast over Station WJPF, whose headquarters are in Herrin, Ill.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. All past and present members of the "I" Club, letter athletics' organization at Southern Illinois Normal University, should register at MacAndrew Gymnasium next Saturday, November 2, before or after the football game, Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced. The athletic department desires the name, address, and occupation of the members.

###

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. Over 100 men have reported for basketball practice to Assistant Coach Lynn Holder at Southern Illinois Normal University, the athletic department has announced.

This group does not include six men who were on the first ten last season who are playing football. They are: Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, winner of the Chuck Taylor award at Kansas City last year and also named all-conference quarterback; Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, named all-conference tackle last year; Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, another all-conference star last year; Leedic Cabutti of Johnston City; Bill Malinsky of Flora; Carl Birkner of Pinckneyville.

The Maroons open the season on November 30 when they entertain the semi-pro Onized Glass cagers of Alton.

###

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -Nineteen Southern Illinois school bands will play a prominent part in Southern Illinois Normal University's Homecoming, Nov. 1-2, reports Dr. Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the music department.

The bands will convene Saturday morning at MacAndrew Stadium to practice the formations and music they will present on the field between halves of the Southern-Eastern football game that afternoon. The bands will parade from downtown to the stadium at 1 p.m.

A bandmasters' luncheon will be held at the cafeteria at 12:30 p. m. for which President Chester F. Day and other guests are scheduled to speak.

"The luncheon is being given in appreciation for the great work the bandmasters have done in Southern Illinois," Dr. Kesnar explained.

Following is a list of the Southern Illinois bands to be present: McLeansboro, Belleville, West Frankfort, Mounds, Johnston City, Dongola, DuQuoin, Herrin, Murphysboro, Sesser, Christopher, Zeigler, Carterville, Carbondale Community high school. Grade school bands from Carbondale, Dongola, Christopher and Carterville will also participate.

###

Southern Illinois
Normal University
CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service
LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -With the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown and the National Intercollegiate title to defend, the Southern Illinois Normal University cagers have begun to practice in earnest, Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced.

The Maroons open the season with a tilt here on November 30 against Onized Glass and Shefford Cheese of Alton. Highlights of the 25 game schedule are contests slated against Washington University, St. Louis University, two games with the University of Chicago and Indiana State, besides the regular conference play.

In addition to the regular schedule, Southern will take part in a Christmas holiday tournament in Kansas City, and return to the same city to defend their N.I.T. crown in March.

Injuries have made the race for the first ten positions a wide open affair. Only two members of last year's first five, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville and Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, are out for practice. Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, first string center, will probably be sidelined until after the first of the year with a foot injury, while Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, a starting guard, is hampered by a leg injury suffered in the Northern-Southern football game.

Seven lettermen of previous years have swelled the practice squad. They are Gene Hall of Galatia; Paul Enrietta of West Frankfort; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City; Barney Genisio of Valier; and Ed Alms of Percy.

1946 SCHEDULE

Nov.	30	Onized Glass and Shefford Cheese	Here
Dec.	3	Meramac Caverns	Here
	6	St. Louis University	There
	7	Washington University	There
	9	Western Kentucky	There
	14	Loyola University	There
	18	Arkansas State	Here
	20	Indiana State	Here

(more)

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

[Faint signature or stamp at the bottom of the page]

Jan.	7	Evansville College	Here
	11	Western Illinois State Teachers	Here
	14	Southeastern Missouri State	Here
	16	Evansville College	There
	18	Eastern Illinois State Teachers	Here
	20	Milliken University	Here
	25	Northern Illinois State Teachers	Here
	29	Southeastern Missouri State	There
Feb.	1	Illinois State Normal University	There
	5	Chicago University	Here
	8	Indiana State	There
	14	Western Illinois State Teachers	There
	15	Milliken University	There
	21	Eastern Illinois State Teachers	There
	22	Chicago University	There
	24	Illinois State Normal University	Here
Mar.	1	Northern Illinois State Teachers	There

Invitational tournament at Kansas City, December 27, 28

National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, March 15

#

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Glenn "Abe" Martin, athletic director and football coach at Southern Illinois Normal University, isn't getting much rest even though the football season is over, for he is in almost nightly demand as a guest speaker at football banquets.

Martin spoke Monday night at a banquet at Hoopston in honor of Hoopston's coach, Glenn Brazel, former Southern Maroon football captain, and on Thursday night at a dinner sponsored by the Zeigler Rotary Club in honor of the Zeigler team.

In between, he made a trip to Springfield to address the newly organized Springfield Southern Alumni Club, on Tuesday evening.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Two Southern Illinois Normal University faculty members Thursday attended a meeting in Chicago of a new sub-committee on scholarships of the American Association of Teachers Colleges.

Dr. Eugene R. Fair, dean of Southern's College of Education, is a member of the three-member committee. Accompanying him to the meeting was Jerry Allen of Carbondale, critic teacher at Buncombe School and graduate student, who is doing a research project here on scholarship and is working with the committee on its investigations.

Other members of the committee are President Anspach of Central Michigan College of Education and President Haggerty of the teachers college at Newpaltz, N. Y.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Miss Helen Shuman, dean of women at Southern Illinois Normal University, and Miss Minette Barber, director of Anthony Hall, girls' dormitory, attended the meeting of the State Association of Deans of Women in Peoria Thursday and Friday of this week

#

Resolved, That the Board of Directors do hereby authorize the President to execute and deliver to the Secretary of the State a certificate of incorporation for the purpose of organizing a corporation to be known as the [illegible] Corporation, and to do all such other and lawful acts as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this resolution.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Board of Directors at the City of [illegible] this [illegible] day of [illegible] 1880.

1880

Attest my hand and the seal of the Board of Directors at the City of [illegible] this [illegible] day of [illegible] 1880.

1880

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or additional notes.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Jim Lovin, a freshman veteran from Benton, was elected "the most valuable player" on this year's Southern Illinois Normal University gridiron squad by his teammates, Athletic Director Glenn ("Abe") Martin has announced. Lovin will now compete with the "most valuable players" from the other Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference schools for the William McAndrew Award, which is made annually in memory of Southern's former coach.

Sports letters will be awarded to 27 gridgers and seven cross-country men, the athletic department has also announced.

Men to receive football letters are: George Beltz of Marion; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City; John Catlin of Harrisburg; Bob Colborn of Flora; Bill Cosgrove of Benton; Don Creath of Dupou; Charles "Shag" Crouch of Carbondale; Galan Davis of DuQuoin; Bob Etheridge of Fairfield; Joe Franza of Murphysboro; Jim Lovin of Benton; Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; Bob Johnson of DuQuoin; Bill Malinsky of Flora; Charles Mathiew of Eldorado; Orm Osborn of Jackson City, Mich.; J. Pieron of Murphysboro; Roy Ragsdale of DeSoto; Don Riggs of Fairfield; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Myron Schuster of Murphysboro; Dick Seelman of Flora; Jack Stephens of W. Frankfort; Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; and Bill Thompson of Mt. Vernon.

The harriers, who were entertained by Cross-Country Coach Leland P. "Doc" Lingle at his home last Thursday, will receive their initial letters in this sport as this is the first season that any of them have run cross-country at Southern.

The thinclads who will receive letters are: Leonard Burden of Herrin; Bill Dorris of Benton; Glen Hamilton of Pinckneyville; William Keene of Carrier Mills; Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville; Buddy Miller of Carbondale; Marion Hall of Thompsonville.

The gridgers wound up the current season with four wins against as many defeats and second place in the final loop standings, while the harriers finished the season with two wins and a tie, and also took second place in the conference race.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Four new student members were appointed this week to the Student Publications Council at Southern Illinois Normal University by Dick Avis of Johnston City, president of the Student Council.

These four are Gerald Carr of East St. Louis, freshman representative; Martha McBrayer of Benton, sophomore representative; Fred Armstrong of DuQuoin and Dave Kenney of Carbondale, senior representatives.

Helen Mary Robertson of Vienna, who served as sophomore representative last year, will continue as junior representative this year.

The Student Publications Council, composed of five students and three faculty members, the latter appointed by the University President, is the governing board for all student publications, and has charge of electing editors and declaring policies.

Dr. Harold Briggs, professor of history, has been appointed by University President Chester F. Lay as a new faculty representative, while Miss Susie Ogden, assistant professor of commerce, and Miss Lorena Drummond, director of the Information Service, were reappointed.

At its initial meeting this week, the council authorized calling to the attention of the editor of The Egyptian, student newspaper, regulations adopted by the council last year (a) that all editorials, letters from readers, or articles expressing the writer's opinion must be signed, at least by initials with the full name of the writer available to any person requesting the information, and (b) that any editorial, letter from reader or other article criticizing any person, persons or group may not be published without first giving the person, persons or group an opportunity to reply or make a statement in the same issue of the paper.

The council also voted to suggest to the editor that space be made available in each issue for official announcements or statements from the faculty or administration.

###

Faint, illegible text covering the majority of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Sam Milosevich of Zeigler and Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, first string members of Southern Illinois Normal University's cage squad, have been temporarily sidelined by football injuries, Athletic Director and Head Basket Ball Boach Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced.

Milosevich was injured in the final grid game of the season as the Northern Teachers downed Southern 10-0 to capture the conference grid crown.

Stinson was injured in a mid-season/^{practice}session and will probably be out until after the first of the year.

Only two members of last year's starting quintet are on hand for the pre-season practice, while the other starter, Calvin Collins, is managing a grocery at DuQuoin. The two lettermen from last year's starting string, Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville and Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, will be hard put to keep their old spots as Martin has many former lettermen and freshmen to choose from.

The Maroons won the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title in basket ball last year, then went on to Kansas City to win the National Intercollegiate Tournament there, in which Stotlar carried off the Chuck Taylor Award as the most valuable player in the tournament. They open play here Nov. 30 again Onized Glass.

[The text in this section is extremely faint and illegible. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a report or a letter, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

[The text in this section is also extremely faint and illegible. It appears to be a separate paragraph or a continuation of the text above.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - Dr. Chester F. Lay, president of Southern Illinois Normal University, has been appointed as a member of the committee on education of Governor Dwight H. Green's Highway Traffic Safety Commission.

The commission, of which Gen. William E. Guthner is executive secretary, is composed of four principal committees: engineering, education, enforcement, and legislation.

Paul Hill, Chicago, of the National Safety Council is chairman of the committee on education.

An all-day conference on Highway Traffic Safety will be held by the commission in Springfield Dec. 12. Dr. Lay plans to attend the session.

###

Department of Economics

Professor [Name]

[Address]

[City, State, Zip]

[Phone Number]

[Subject]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Text]

[Faint text at the bottom of the page, likely bleed-through or a second page's content.]

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --A total of 65,511 cataloged items reside in Southern Illinois Normal University's Wheeler library, Dr. Howard E. Bosley, associate professor of education and director of the library, states.

There are 48,742 books, 5,340 documents, and 11,429 bound volumes of magazines. In addition to these, several thousand government documents and other research materials housed are available. The library receives 855 magazines.

Southern has a book collection of high quality and value, according to the North Central Association accrediting organization, says Dr. Bosley. In the association's latest checklist, the quality of Southern's book collection is surpassed by only seven per cent of 127 bachelor degree granting institutions, and less than 20 per cent of the master degree granting institutions in the 14 states of the association.

Five newspapers are received on microfilm. A recordak microfilm reader, ordered for post-war delivery, arrived in August and is now in use.

Two thousand aeronautical and hydrographical charts will be deposited here through the Library of Congress from the aeronautical chart service and the hydrographic office of the U. S. army.

Southern's library was also selected by the army map service to receive 50,000 maps, five shipments of which already have arrived.

A notable acquisition of the past year has been the purchase of 700 doctor's dissertations from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Volume 10, Number 1, 1911

The following is a list of the papers published in this issue:

1. *On the Systematics of the Genus Asplenium L.* by J. S. Burdett.

2. *On the Systematics of the Genus Adiantum L.* by J. S. Burdett.

3. *On the Systematics of the Genus Polypodium L.* by J. S. Burdett.

4. *On the Systematics of the Genus Phlegmaria L.* by J. S. Burdett.

5. *On the Systematics of the Genus Thelypteris L.* by J. S. Burdett.

6. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

7. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

8. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

9. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

10. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

11. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

12. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

13. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

14. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

15. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

16. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

17. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

18. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

19. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

20. *On the Systematics of the Genus Woodsia L.* by J. S. Burdett.

Sp
wi gi
an th
Un con
an
an ac
wi
ch
4. th

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -Southern Illinois Normal University will close Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 28-30, for a Thanksgiving recess; the President's Office has announced.

Classes will be dismissed at the close of the day on Wednesday, and University offices will be closed Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

###

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -Ruth Sprankel of Waterloo has received the $200 PTA scholarship given annually to a Southern Illinois Normal University sophomore, Miss Vera Peacock, chairman of the local committee on scholarships, standards, and honors at Southern, has announced.

The scholarship is awarded by the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers to a University student who was graduated from an accredited high school with a Parent Teacher Association in membership with the Illinois Congress.

Other requirements are high scholastic standing, sterling character, and good health. Miss Sprankel's scholastic average is 4.93 out of a possible 5.0 points.

Her activities include membership in the University band and the Independent Student Union. She is employed in Wheeler library.

###

Geological Survey of the United States
Washington, D.C.

Report of the United States Geological Survey

The following report was prepared by the
Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

Part I

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

The following report was prepared by the Geological Survey of the United States
under the direction of the Chief of the Survey
and is published as a part of the Annual Report of the Survey for the year 1900.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -After five years of operation, the United States airway weather station of Southern Illinois Normal University has received the rating of "secretarial station," Dr. Thomas F. Barton, chairman of the geography department and supervisor of the station, announces.

The advancement came as a result of efficient operation and fine records by student weather observers, Dr. Barton explained. Established in 1941, the station is a cooperative undertaking of the University geography and geology department and the United States Weather Bureau.

At the present time four student weather observers take readings. They are James McGee, Granite City; Edwin Becht, Chicago; Alice Vravick, West Frankfort; and Loren Boatman, Carlinville.

Most of the students who have received training in the past have pursued the subject after leaving Southern. In the order in which they were trained, and the subsequent positions they have held, these students are as follows:

Harry Chester, Anna, meteorologist in the armed forces four years, is employed by the weather bureau at Peoria. James Chandler, Carbondale served as a meteorologist in the Alaska theatre. Ed Barrett, West

(more)

Handwritten text at the top left, possibly a name or title.

Handwritten text at the top right, possibly a date or location.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several paragraphs. The text is very faint and difficult to read.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or closing.

Frankfort, served as a meteorologist in the armed forces. Charles Turner, Eldorado, was graduated from the Institute of Meteorology at the University of Chicago.

Joseph Prelec, Jr., Stanton, received a United States Weather Bureau scholarship, was graduated from the Institute of Meteorology at the University of Chicago, and worked for the weather bureau at the Chicago airport station. In April, 1946, he was transferred to the Atlantic ocean weather patrol base at Boston, where he has done additional studying, and where he is getting weather reading experience,

Other students with only a few months' service in the station who were called to the armed forces were Silas Jerome Gates of DeSoro, Lorel Boatman, who has been reappointed, Elmer Adams of Dongola, Eugene Wells of Salem, and Joseph Restivo of Herrin.

Wells received an appointment to Lakehurst where he studied aerology and became a naval weather reporter.

Restivo first went to Northwestern University, then secured an appointment to the Institute of Meteorology at the Boston Institute of Technology. He was graduated from there in the summer of 1946. At sea, he is getting naval experience in meteorology.

Jamie McGee of Granite City, twin brother of James McGee, was graduated in August, 1946, and is teaching at Granite City. William Reed of Karnak took readings during the summer of 1944. Louis McCullen owns and operates several planes at Cairo.

Dr. Clarence Vinge, a new member of the geography and geology department, will become operator of the station in December.

#

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-4-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 2 --Gene Stotlar, diminutive quarterback of Pinckneyville, sparked the Southern Illinois Normal University gridgers to their third straight Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference win today over the Eastern Illinois State Teachers 29-0, on a rain-drenched field before a large Homecoming crowd.

Stotlar opened the festivities early in the first period when he scouted 75 yards down the sidelines for six points. Bret McGinnis of Carbondale kicked the extra point.

Another 6 points were added by Stotlar in the second quarter when he took a short pass from Bill Malinsky of Flora on the 35-yard line and turned on the speed to the end zone.

Just before the half, Myron Schuster of Murphysboro blocked an Eastern kick in the Panthers end zone for a safety, and at the half, the Southern Maroons led 15-0.

In the third period, Don Riggs of Fairfield climaxed a goal drive for Southern by plunging 10 yards for paydirt. McGinnis converted again and the score was 22-0.

The final Maroon score came in the fourth period when Charles Mathiew of Eldorado blocked an Eastern punt in the end zone and then fell on the ball. McGinnis converted once more, and Southern had 29 points when the game ended.

The Southern Maroons will journey to Evansville next week for a tilt with Evansville College, and will entertain Northern Teachers on November 16 in the final game of the season.

[The main body of the page contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into sections, possibly separated by horizontal lines, but the specific content cannot be discerned.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-4-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Aliene Kauzlarich of Christopher, was crowned queen of Southern at Southern Illinois Normal University's Homecoming dance here Saturday night.

Wearing the crimson robe of royalty, she ascended a throne erected on the bandstand in the Maroon gymnasium, and the crown was placed on her head by Football Captain Bill Malinsky.

Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City handed her the scepter. Crown and scepter were carried by little Miss Johanna Van Lente and Master Wallace Pulliam.

Preceding the queen in the coronation procession were queen nominees Kathryn Alley of Sparta, Joan Fairbairn of Harvey, Velma McCormick of Johnston City, and Barbara Melvin of Duquoin. The queen's attendants were two girls representing the freshman and sophomore classes, Dorothea Gahan of Flora and Elizabeth Bonner of Fairfield.

This year's Homecoming drew one of the largest crowds in Southern's history, despite rainy weather. A capacity crowd attended the Little Theater play Friday night, some six or seven thousand spectators piled into the stadium for the football game, though the crowd later thinned out when rain began to drench the stands, and a capacity crowd thronged the gymnasium for the dance Saturday night.

The reunion of Southern alumni was directed by a large Homecoming committee headed by Dale Andrews of Mt. Carmel, student chairman, and Dr. Orville Alexander, director of alumni services, who served as faculty sponsor for Homecoming.

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs and is difficult to discern.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-4-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Throughout this week students and faculty of Southern Illinois Normal University here are participating in a Religious Emphasis Week under the leadership of several nationally-known religious leaders.

Starting Sunday morning with special services at several Carbondale churches in which Religious Emphasis Week leaders occupied the pulpits, the program embraces daily breakfast sessions, class lectures, prayer services, seminars, faculty luncheons, and evening convocations, as well as discussion groups at organized student houses.

Speaker at the Sunday evening convocation was the Rev. Bayard Clark, minister at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Other leaders here for this week, which is sponsored by the University Christian Missions of the Federal Council of Churches, include Clark Ellsey, specialist in marriage and family relations and professor of Stephens College; Dr. James Nichols, co-editor of The Journal of Religion and University of Chicago professor of Christianity; Mrs. Anna Mow, former missionary to India, now professor of Christian education at Bethany Seminary in Chicago; and Dr. B. Frank Hall, lecturer on international affairs.

Dr. Hall was the speaker at the University's student assembly Tuesday morning at 10 a.m.

A special radio broadcast featuring the Religious Education Week leaders has been arranged over station WJPF for Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 3 o'clock.

" # #

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, which is mostly illegible due to fading.

Horizontal lines and faint text at the top right of the page, possibly indicating a date or page number.

Main body of the page containing several paragraphs of extremely faint, illegible text. The text appears to be organized into sections or paragraphs, but the content is unreadable.

Vertical text along the right edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a margin, including characters like 'c', 's', 'b', 'h', 'i', 'P', 'L', 'K', 'S', 'c', 'A', 't', 'o', 'A', 'B'.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-5-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Despite the stormy weather that caused cancellation of the parade and between-halves massed formation of some 19 Southern Illinois high and grade school bands here last Saturday at Southern Illinois Normal University's Homecoming, the bandmasters of this area were guests of the University for a bandmasters' luncheon at the University cafeteria, Dr. Maurits Kesnar, music department chairman, reports.

"We were all keenly disappointed that the parade and concert had to be called off," Dr. Kesnar said, "but we were delighted to have the bandmasters here."

The luncheon, arranged by Dr. Kesnar, was held in honor of two band directors "who have done so much for the advancement of music in Southern Illinois," he said. These honorees were Theodore Paschedag of West Frankfort and A. T. Atwood of Duquoin.

Speakers at the luncheon, were University President Chester F. Lay, Deans T. W. Abbott, E. R. Fair and Henry J. Rehn, and Dr. Kesnar.

" " "

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Rehearsals are now going forward at Southern Illinois Normal University for a presentation of the oratorio "The Messiah" by a 300-voice choir and a 60-piece orchestra under the direction of Dr. Maurits Kesnar, University professor of music, on December 15.

Singers from many communities of Southern Illinois have joined the choir and are attending regular rehearsals. The University orchestra, augmented by a few outstanding instrumentalists from nearby communities, is also rehearsing regularly.

To sing the leading roles several noted soloists will be engaged, Dr. Kesnar said.

" " "

Southwest

1880

1880

[Faint, illegible text covering the main body of the page]

I
S
K

No
un
Ed

si
Fr
an Un
an on pu sit thr

and
to
the

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-5-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release Thursday p.m.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Properties for Southern Illinois Normal University's expansion program have been purchased or placed under option for a total of $429,750, University Business Manager Edward V. Miles, Jr., reports.

Miles, designated to negotiate for land acquisition to provide sites for Southern's 25-year expansion program, has reported to Frank G. Thompson, director of the State Department of Registration and Education and chairman of the Teachers College Board, and to University President Chester F. Lay, that he has completed purchases and options on 25 tracts of improved property, one business house, one farm house, 11 vacant lots, and 175 acres.

The University has a total appropriation of $737,500 for the purchase of land during the current biennium, Mr. Miles explained.

Other properties will continue to be purchased to complete sites for buildings soon to be built, for closing U. S. Highway 51 through the campus, for closing Harwood Avenue south of the campus and for construction of tunnels from the proposed new power plant to the main campus, for extension of Illinois Avenue south through the campus, and for the proposed Library site.

#

Journal of the

...

...

...

S
I
I
I
W
S
S
19 19
L te na su re
fr id
as
th
Au
ov el le le
of
G
J

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-6-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Going outside the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference next Saturday, the Southern Illinois Normal University gridgers journey eastward to Evansville, Ind., to take on the highly touted Evansville College eleven in what promises to be one of the Maroons' toughest battles of the season.

This tilt will be somewhat of a "rubber" match as the two schools have met twice before and each came off with a victory. In 1940, the Aces downed Southern 13-7, but the Maroons came back in 1941 to blank the Hoosiers 14-0. Football was discontinued at Evansville in 1943 so this will be the first meeting for the two teams since then.

The Maroons are riding on the crest of a two-game winning streak, having downed Western 19-7 and Eastern 29-0 on the last two successive Saturdays bringing Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's charges' record to four wins and two defeats. Martin has reported one injury from last week's tilt. Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City starting fullback, will not be in there for the opening kickoff this week as he turned up with a leg injury after last Saturday's fray.

The Evansville Aces are reported to have a powerful aggregation this year. Highlights from their record show a 20-0 win over Murray College, a 19-6 victory over Illinois Wesleyan, a 13-2 edge over Indiana State, and a scoreless tie with Case Girardeau, the eleven that dropped Southern 13-7 earlier in the season.

Martin has offered the following probable starting lineup:
left end-Galan Davis of Duquoin; left tackle- Jim Lovin of Benton; left guard- Orm Osborn of Jackson City, Mich.; center- Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; right guard- Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle-
Sam Milosevich of Zeigler; right end- Leadio Cabutti of Johnston City; quarterback- Bill Malinsky of Flora; left halfback- Bob Johnson of Duquoin; right halfback- Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; fullback-
(more)

Southey MSS
MS. A. 1. 1. 1.

Information
1811

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, but the characters are too light to transcribe accurately.]

fullback-~~o~~John Ruzich of Johnston City.

The Maroons next home game will be on November 16, when they entertain Northern Teachers in a contest that will probably decide the I.I.A.C. race. This tilt will close Southern's 1946 grid season.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --The Maroon Reserves dropped a new heartbreaking 7-6 decision to Southeastern Missouri State Tuesday afternoon when their try for the extra point after touchdown hit the crossbar of the goal post and bounced away.

The Southern "B" team counted first as Roy Ragsdale of DeSoto completed a 20 yard pass to George Beltz of Marion. Then, as the Maroons tried to convert, Bret McGinnis of Carbondale booted the pigskin just a bit too low and it hit the crossbar.

The Indians pulled the game out of the fire in the last five minutes of play as they intercepted a Southern pass, and ran to paydirt in the next four tries. Their conversion was good and the Maroons "redhots" dropped their second straight contest of the season.

#

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Release on receipt

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 6 - The administration of Southern Illinois Normal University welcomes "and indeed urges" an inquiry by the State Teachers College Board into University operations and achievements, University President Chester F. Lay said Wednesday.

"I am confident," Dr. Lay declared, "that such an inquiry, far from giving substance to the irresponsible and often malicious rumors that have been circulating about the University and its administration, will prove conclusively that we have every reason to be proud--and that the people of Southern Illinois have equal reason to be proud--of our accomplishments here."

The University president said that he understands that the directors of the University Alumni Association last week-end sent a resolution to the State Teachers College Board asking that board to inquire into the causes of the "unfavorable publicity" of recent weeks.

"I am entirely in accord with this reported action of the Alumni Association directors," Dr. Lay said. "In fact, on October 29 I wrote to the president of the Alumni Association and urged that the Alumni board convene in my office and give me the opportunity to furnish them with any information they might desire about the University and its operations."

ad
wh
an ha
An
pr
on Tea rum exc whe bud exp fro
in ins saf

"I feel that the Alumni directors have taken a wise step in addressing their resolution to the State Teachers College Board, which is the agency designated by law to govern this institution, and I shall welcome any inquiry which the Board wishes to make.

"I am not insensible to the fact that many irresponsible rumors have been circulating, and that some wild charges have been voiced. Any person who has the interest of the University at heart should present complaints with any evidence in his possession to the only agency which can legally take cognizance of them--the State Teachers College Board."

President Lay declined to comment further on any of the specific rumors or published attacks upon the University's administration, except to say, "I wonder at what motives must prompt such attacks when the accomplishments are so outstanding."

He mentioned among the ~~recent~~ accomplishments: increased budgets, higher standing with accrediting agencies, strengthened and expanded faculty, ~~obroadened~~ broadened administrative structure, commitments from the Federal government for more student veteran housing in proportion to the size of the University than any other institution in Illinois, and creation of opportunities and the safeguarding of the interests of student veterans.

###

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs across the page.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention: Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill. November -Plenty of seats will be available in MacAndrew Stadium here Saturday for the Southern Illinois Normal University-Northern Illinois State Teacher IIAC crown clash, Maroon Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced.

Bleachers will be installed on the east side of the stadium to boost the arena's capacity to 8,500, Martin said. Game time, he reminded fans, will be 2 p.m.

Last year these same Northern Huskies came down from DeKalb and dealt Southern a 13-7 defeat that knocked the Maroons from the conference lead into second place behind State Normal.

This year, however, both the Huskies and the Maroons are unbeaten and untied in loop play, and this Saturday's fracas will decide the rulers of the 1946 IIAC.

On the books, the Northerners look best, having lost only one contest in season's play, while the Martin-men have won four and lost three. Nevertheless, the Maroons will be playing on their home field, and together with a motive of revenge, are given a fair chance of upsetting the Huskies.

The fans will have "T" served to them all day as both of the title contenders use this deceptive formation. For Southern, Bill Malinsky of Flora will direct operations in the Maroon backfield, with the able assistance of left halfback Bob Johnson of Duquoin, right halfback Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, and fullback Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

The Huskies will counter with Kaczala in the tailback spot, Robinson and Hennigan at halfback, and Lyons at fullback. Northern Coach Chick Evans also has some top-flight linemen in the persons of left tackle Duffield, and left guard Arquilla.

Handwritten text at the top left, possibly a name or title.

Handwritten text at the top right, possibly a date or location.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several paragraphs. The text is very faint and difficult to read.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a margin note.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -Two outstanding soloists have been secured to sing the soprano and contralto leads in Southern Illinois Normal University's production of Handel's "The Messiah" here Dec. 15, Dr. Maurits Kesnar, professor of music and chairman of the music department, has announced.

Miss Camille Anderson, well known in the fields of oratorio, concert, radio and opera, will sing the soprano solo role, while Miss Alla Zopf Woods, St. Louis church and radio singer, will appear as the contralto lead.

"Miss Anderson has won praise of the most exacting critics in each of the fields in which she has sung," Dr. Kesnar pointed out. "As an oratorio singer she has appeared as a soloist with most of the oratorio societies in the Middle West. As a radio artist she has sung on the 'Hymns of All Churches' program. Recognition came to her in 1939, when she won the Young Artist Contest of the Society of American Musicians.

"She has appeared numerous times in recital, most recently in a recital in Kimball Hall, Chicago, Nov. 22."

Miss Woods, Dr. Kesnar said, has appeared numerous times throughout the Middle West and South as an oratorio soloist. She is contralto soloist at the Kings Highway Presbyterial Church, St. Louis, is a member of the KSD Mixed Quartet, and a member of the St. Louis Friday Morning Musicales.

The University will present "The Messiah" Sunday evening, Dec. 15, in Shryock Auditorium on the University campus, with a 250-voice choir composed of singers from all parts of Southern Illinois, and a 60-piece orchestra.

####

The following is a list of the members of the Faculty of the State University of Missouri, Southwest Missouri, for the year 1911-1912. The names are arranged in alphabetical order of their surnames.

Prof. A. B. Baker, President

Prof. C. D. Baker, Vice President

Prof. E. F. Baker, Secretary

Prof. G. H. Baker, Treasurer

Prof. I. J. Baker, Registrar

Prof. K. L. Baker, Librarian

Prof. M. N. Baker, Director of Physical Education

Prof. O. P. Baker, Director of Student Activities

Prof. Q. R. Baker, Director of Extension Work

Prof. S. T. Baker, Director of Research

Prof. U. V. Baker, Director of Public Relations

Prof. W. X. Baker, Director of Alumni Relations

Prof. Y. Z. Baker, Director of International Relations

Prof. A. B. Baker, Director of Community Relations

Prof. C. D. Baker, Director of Parent-Teacher Relations

Prof. E. F. Baker, Director of Student Government

Prof. G. H. Baker, Director of Student Organizations

Prof. I. J. Baker, Director of Student Clubs

Prof. K. L. Baker, Director of Student Societies

Prof. M. N. Baker, Director of Student Associations

Prof. O. P. Baker, Director of Student Unions

Prof. Q. R. Baker, Director of Student Councils

Prof. S. T. Baker, Director of Student Committees

Prof. U. V. Baker, Director of Student Boards

Prof. W. X. Baker, Director of Student Conferences

Prof. Y. Z. Baker, Director of Student Seminars

Prof. A. B. Baker, Director of Student Workshops

Prof. C. D. Baker, Director of Student Symposia

Prof. E. F. Baker, Director of Student Conventions

Prof. G. H. Baker, Director of Student Exhibitions

Prof. I. J. Baker, Director of Student Festivals

Prof. K. L. Baker, Director of Student Celebrations

Prof. M. N. Baker, Director of Student Parades

Prof. O. P. Baker, Director of Student Processions

Prof. Q. R. Baker, Director of Student Demonstrations

Prof. S. T. Baker, Director of Student Performances

Prof. U. V. Baker, Director of Student Lectures

Prof. W. X. Baker, Director of Student Speeches

Prof. Y. Z. Baker, Director of Student Debates

Prof. A. B. Baker, Director of Student Discussions

Prof. C. D. Baker, Director of Student Debates

Prof. E. F. Baker, Director of Student Lectures

Prof. G. H. Baker, Director of Student Speeches

Prof. I. J. Baker, Director of Student Debates

Prof. K. L. Baker, Director of Student Discussions

Prof. M. N. Baker, Director of Student Lectures

Prof. O. P. Baker, Director of Student Speeches

Prof. Q. R. Baker, Director of Student Debates

Prof. S. T. Baker, Director of Student Discussions

Prof. U. V. Baker, Director of Student Lectures

Prof. W. X. Baker, Director of Student Speeches

Prof. Y. Z. Baker, Director of Student Debates

fr
la cu bu me
of Bo
Ji
We
Int cur
Oni

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -The Southern Illinois Normal University freshmen cagers took a 72-43 decision from the Pinckneyville Wonders last Saturday night on the losers' court, as the Maroons opened the current cage season on a keynote of last year's finish.

The Maroon first got off to a slow start, but by the half had built up a commanding 31-19 lead. The contest gave the Southern mentors an idea of what to expect from the beginning cagers.

The following men made the trip for the Maroons: Joe Spagnoli of Hurst; John and Charles Goss of Marion; Vallie West of Pinckneyville; Bob Colborn of Flora; Jackie Long of Flora; Don Riggs of Fairfield; Jim Sexton of Gillespie; John Ruzick of Johnston City; Jack Eaddie of West Frankfort; Galan Davis of Du Quoin; Joe Franza of Murphysboro.

The varsity team National Intercollegiate Tourney and Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown defenders, will open the current season next Saturday night at 8:15 p.m. when they entertain Onized Glass and Shefford Mfg. Co. of Alton in the local Gymnasium.

George Washington
Washington

Washington
Washington

The following is a list of the names of the persons who were present at the meeting held at the residence of the President on the 1st day of January 1800.
The names are as follows:
The President
The Vice President
The Secretary of State
The Secretary of the Treasury
The Secretary of War
The Secretary of the Navy
The Secretary of the Interior
The Secretary of the Agriculture
The Secretary of the Commerce
The Secretary of the Marine
The Secretary of the Fisheries
The Secretary of the Colonies
The Secretary of the Indian Affairs
The Secretary of the Land Office
The Secretary of the Mint
The Secretary of the Post Office
The Secretary of the Penitentiary
The Secretary of the Public Works
The Secretary of the Public Buildings
The Secretary of the Public Printing
The Secretary of the Public Debt
The Secretary of the Public Lands
The Secretary of the Public Works
The Secretary of the Public Buildings
The Secretary of the Public Printing
The Secretary of the Public Debt
The Secretary of the Public Lands

Washington
Washington

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

11-13-46

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --With the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference crown at stake, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons will play host to the Northern Illinois State Teachers in MacAndrew Stadium next Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. Both teams are unbeaten and untied in conference play so far this year.

Southern will be out to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of these same Northern Huskies who knocked the Maroons out of the title race in the final game of the season. However, this year the Huskies have matched the Maroons victory for victory through the conference until next Saturday when the string will run out for one or the other.

As a comparison of the two elevens, Southern defeated Eastern 29-0 while Northern dropped them 26-0. The Maroons beat Western 19-7 while the Huskies slipped by them 14-13. Southern defeated State Normal 13-7, while Northern knocked them off 13-3. The Maroons have scored 61 points in IIAC play while they have been dented for only 14. On the other hand, the Huskies have racked up only 53 markers while allowing 16 against them. Thus the Southerners have a slight edge if past scores mean anything.

Southern Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has intimated that he will stick by his lineup that he has used in the past. They will go in as follows: left end -Galan Davis of Du Quoin; left tackle-Jim Lovin of Benton; left guard-Myron Schuster of Murphysboro; center-Charlie Heinz of Gillespie; right guard-Bill Cosgrove of Benton; right tackle-Sam Milosevich of Zeigler; right end-Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; quarterback-Bill Malinsky of Flora; left halfback-Bob Johnson of DuQuoin; right halfback-Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville; fullback-Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City.

Gametime is set for 2 p.m. instead of the usual 2:30 p.m., Martin has announced.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-14-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --A new lavishly-illustrated booklet, "Kindergartens for Illinois," has been issued by the Illinois State Association for Childhood Education, Dr. Sina M. Kott, director of the kindergarten and nursery school at Southern Illinois Normal University here, announced.

The booklet was written with the cooperation of the National Association for Childhood Education, the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Illinois Education Association, and the Office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Using actual photographs submitted by various kindergarten groups throughout the State, the booklet graphically demonstrates the work which is carried on in a typical kindergarten.

The material is presented in three sections: (1) "Why do I send my child to kindergarten?", answered by parents; (2) "Why do I believe in kindergartens?", answered by some of the well-known leaders in primary education; and (3) "Studies in relation to Kindergarten Experience."

The booklet was prepared for distribution to parents, school superintendents, teachers, and school boards. Copies may be obtained for a nominal sum (25 cents) from the student chapter of the Association for Childhood Education here at the University.

Assoc

" "

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

11-14-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Appointment of a new physician at Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by President Chester F. Lay.

The new man is Dr. Victor H. Bienenke, who will report December 1 as assistant professor and associate physician in the University Health Service.

A graduate of Illinois College at Jacksonville, Dr. Bienenke holds the doctor of medicine degree from the University of Cincinnati. He externed three years at the Catherine Booth Maternity Hospital, and had nine months' rotating internship at the Evangelical Hospital in Chicago. During the war he served in the Army Medical Corps, commanding the Sixth Medical Battalion in combat and occupation duty in Korea.

Dr. Bienenke is married and his home is in Stanton, Ill.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --A group of school children from Brush School in Carbondale, appeared today (Friday, Nov. 15) on Southern Illinois Normal University's radio program, "Education Time", over Stations WJPF, Herrin, and WEBQ, Harrisburg.

The program the youngsters presented was entitled "Do You Have a Hobby?" and was directed by Willis E. Malone of the University's College of Education.

#

1870

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. - With the public schools of Georgia as a "guinea pig," educators from some 35 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Czechoslovakia held a week-long clinic November 3-8 to consider current problems in teacher education, Dr. Ted E. Ragsdale, professor of education at Southern Illinois Normal University, reports.

Dr. Ragsdale, who is director of the Allyn Training School, a campus laboratory school for student teachers at the University, was one of five representatives from the State of Illinois, who attended the clinic in Atlanta, Ga.

"Many Southern states are known to have low education standards," Dr. Ragsdale stated, "but Georgia has made noticeable improvement in the past few years. She offered to act as guinea pig in the study of county and city supervisory education in teacher education.

"We visited Georgia schools for two days and spend the remainder of our time in evaluation of the program we observed in action, and in discussion of problems prevalent in teacher education today.

"One of these problems is improveing the standards of teacher recruitment, which were lowered during the war by issuance of teacher certificates. Georgia has raised her teaching level by requiring four years to obtain the bachelor degree for both Negro and white teachers, better salaries, similar for Negro and white teachers, certified standards, and a supervisory setup that is in close contact with the state department of education."

Among the consultants and organization representatives present were Dr. Karl W. Bigelow, Teachers College, Columbia University; Benjamin W. Frazier, U. S. Office of Education; Dean W. E. Peik, College of Education, University of Minn.; Dean M. R. Trabue, State College, Penn.; Dr. Maurice Troyer, Syracuse University, N. Y.; Dr. Clifford Woody, University of Mich.; Dr. Laurence D. Haskew, Emory University, Ga.

"The clinic was favorably received," concluded Dr. Ragsdale, "and I believe that its reception will merit holding similar clinics in the future."

In

A

wh

C

li sa

wa

il

no

co

un

b

wa

vi

of fir

exp

fro

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Attention: Sports Editors

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Six schools will be represented when the starting gun for the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and Invitational Cross-Country Meet sounds at the starting line on the hill and dale course at Southern Illinois Normal University, Saturday morning.

Besides the regular conference members--Southern, Northern, Western, Eastern, and State Normal--two other colleges, Wheaton and Illinois Tech, will send delegates to the meet. Wheaton and State Normal are favored in this meet, according to Southern cross-country coach Leland P. "Doc" Lingle, but the Maroons of Carbondale are unbeaten in season's play so far this year, although they were tied by Western in an earlier meet, and should give their guests a hard way to go.

The Maroons sextet will consist of Glen Hamilton of Pinckneyville, Leonard Turden of Herrin, Bill Dorris of Herrin, Edward Miller of Carbondale, William Keene of Carrier Mills, and Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville. Candidate for Southern's individual honors is expected to be Louis Pechineno of Christopher.

The barriers will get away at 11 a.m., to avoid interference from the football game which will start at 2 p.m.

#

1. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function $\psi(x, t)$ is given by

$$\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$$

where $\sigma^2 = \frac{\hbar^2}{2m\omega}$ and $\omega = \sqrt{k/m}$. Calculate the probability density $|\psi(x, t)|^2$ and show that it is independent of time. What is the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t ?

2. Consider a particle in a one-dimensional infinite potential well of width a . The wave function is given by $\psi(x) = \sqrt{\frac{2}{a}} \sin\left(\frac{n\pi x}{a}\right)$ for $0 < x < a$ and zero elsewhere. Calculate the expectation values of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ for the n th stationary state.

3. A particle of mass m is in a state $\psi(x, 0) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2a}} \left[\exp\left(-\frac{x}{a}\right) + \exp\left(-\frac{x}{2a}\right) \right]$ for $x > 0$ and zero elsewhere. Calculate the probability of finding the particle in the ground state of a one-dimensional infinite potential well of width a at $t = 0$.

4. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

5. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

6. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

7. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

8. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

9. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

10. A particle of mass m moves in a potential $V(x) = \frac{1}{2}kx^2$. The wave function is given by $\psi(x, t) = \frac{1}{\sqrt{2\pi\sigma^2}} \exp\left[-\frac{x^2}{2\sigma^2} + i\left(\frac{1}{2}kx^2 - Et\right)\right]$. Calculate the expectation value of the position $\langle x \rangle$ and the momentum $\langle p \rangle$ at any time t .

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill. Nov. Saturday, November 16, will go down in history of Southern Illinois Normal University as a sad date, as the cross-country team were dethroned as IIAU champions by the State Normal Harriers in the morning, while Northern Illinois State Teachers powerful grid machine knocked Southern's hopes for the football loop crown abunder by a 10-0 drubbing in the afternoon.

Five teams entered the cross-country affair, which was both conference and invitational, and Wheaton College, the non-member of the loop coached by Gil Dodds, wound up in first place as their star, Bob Buker, crossed the finish line in 19:50.5.

The schools wound up as follows in the invitational: first-Wheaton (26 points); second-State Normal (51); third-Southern (77); fourth-Western (91); fifth-Eastern (93).

In the conference race, which was won by Louis DePrimo of Normal in 20:50.5, the members finished as follows: first-State Normal (29); second-Southern (51); third-Western (66); fourth-Eastern (74).

Southern's representatives finished thus: William Keene of Carrier Mills-12; Leonard Burden of Herrin-14; Glen Hamilton of Pinckneyville-15; Bob Lunneman of Pinckneyville-16; Buddy Miller of Carbondale-21; Bill Dorris of Benton-27.

In MacAndrew Stadium, the Northern Huskies, who came to town tied with the Maroons for the conference lead, ran their behemoth lines in and out of the game, stifling Southern's ground attack, and their halfback Minnehan, almost single-handedly broke up the Maroon's passing attack as he intercepted two Maroon tosses, one of which was turned into a touchdown drive by Hennigan for Northern.

In the second period, Southern Quarterback Bill Malinsky of Flora, attempted to hit right end Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City with a fairly long toss, but Minnehan came down with the ball, and carried it from his own 48 to Southern's 18.

The Huskies cracked over in six plays, as halfback Harry Hennigan bulled his way across from the two-yard line. Hennigan also booted the extra point and Northern led 7-0 at the half.

With neither team seemingly able to score in the third and fourth down, Hennigan booted a perfect strike between the crossbars for

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Three points, to ice up the contest and the conference crown.

Southern's biggest threat came in the second period when they drove down to the Northern nine yard line, but were turned back by the Huskies. This was the last game of the 1946 football season for Southern.

#

Journal of the Board of Directors

1880

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 1st day of January 1880, the following business was transacted:

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Resolved that the following report be received and the same be read and approved:

Report of the Treasurer, J. H. [Name], showing a balance of $ [Amount] on hand and [Amount] due and payable.

Resolved that the same be received and approved.

Resolved that the following report be received and the same be read and approved:

Report of the Secretary, [Name], showing a balance of $ [Amount] on hand and [Amount] due and payable.

Resolved that the same be received and approved.

Resolved that the following report be received and the same be read and approved:

Report of the [Name], showing a balance of $ [Amount] on hand and [Amount] due and payable.

Resolved that the same be received and approved.

Resolved that the following report be received and the same be read and approved:

Report of the [Name], showing a balance of $ [Amount] on hand and [Amount] due and payable.

Resolved that the same be received and approved.

Resolved that the following report be received and the same be read and approved:

Report of the [Name], showing a balance of $ [Amount] on hand and [Amount] due and payable.

Resolved that the same be received and approved.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies
Release on receipt.

Carbondale, Ill. Nov. Although defeated 21-7 last Saturday by a powerful Evansville eleven, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons will go into this week's crucial contest against Northern Illinois State Teachers College undefeated in conference play, and the IIAO crown will hinge on the outcome.

The Maroons, coached by Glenn "Ace" Martin, were bewildered by an Indiana team that could shift into just about any offensive formation and dropped behind in the first period when the Aces climaxed a long drive with a three-yard smash by halfback Bailey to take a six point lead. Hawkins converted and the scoring activities were ended in the first period.

The Martin-men seemed to snap out of their lethargy in the second quarter when John Kuzich of Johnston City intercepted an Ace pass in Evansville's 45-yard stripe and, with the help of a block by Bob Johnson of Du Quoin, raced the 55 yards for a touchdown. Bret McGinnis of Carbondale threw fear into the hearts of local fans as he booted a strike through the crossbars and Southern tied the score 7-7.

It was a fairly even battle during the third period as neither eleven could dent the other's goal line. However, in the last quarter Evansville climaxed another power drive with a ten-yard run by Ossenberg to cross the Maroons goal line for the second time. The point was added by Hawkins and Evansville led 14-7.

The last Hoosier counter came when the Aces worked the sleeper play. The Maroons were wise to the play but Halfback Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville slipped and fell as he tried to break it up, and Bailey completed his pass at his right end for the score. Hawkins converted for the final score of the day.

The Southern tackling was off and the Evansville backs usually went five or ten yards after being hit. Stellar line play was shown by Jim Lovin of Benton and Charlie Heinz of Gillespie for the Maroons, while Johnson broke off the prettiest peice of broken field running of the day for the Southerners.

8. William Pitt

1759 - 1806

Information Service

[The main body of the page contains extremely faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, but the characters are too light to be transcribed accurately.]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. --Dr. B. F. Hall has been secured as speaker for the Religious Emphasis Week student convocation in Shryock Auditorium Tuesday morning, Rev. Douglas MacNaughton, director of the University Student Christian Foundation, has announced.

Dr. Hall received his bachelor of arts degree at Davidson College and his bachelor of divinity degree at Union Theological Seminary, Va. The master of theology and doctor of theology degrees were taken in 1933 and 1937 respectively. He received an honorary degree of doctor of divinity in 1942 in Fulton, Mo.

Among his positions have been those of pastor in Morehead City, N. C., pastor of Central Presbyterian church, St. Louis, president of the Metropolitan Church Federation of St. Louis, and vice president of the Missouri Council of Churches.

Dr. Hall has lectured and written extensively on international affairs.

Religious Emphasis Week at Southern is being sponsored by the University Christian Mission of the Federal Council of Churches. Four other religious leaders who will be on campus for the week are Clark Ellzey, teacher of education for marriage in the division of home and family at Stephens College; Dr. J. H. Nichols, assistant professor of history of Christianity at the University of Chicago; Mrs. Anna Now, teacher in the religious education department of Bethany Biblical Institute, Chicago; and Bayard S. Clark, rector of Christ Church in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

#

[illegible]

[illegible text]

R
S
C
P M
h
A
B
m ba be st g wi
ar pl di fo
th in au
su
ve
No

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release Tuesday

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 27 -A realignment of coaching power at Southern Illinois Normal University effective immediately placed Lynn C. Holder, instructor in physical education and assistant coach, in the position of head basket ball coach, Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin announced today.

Martin himself has been coaching basket ball and last year took his charges to the championship of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and to the title at the Kansas City Intercollegiate Basket Ball Tournament.

"Holder was brought here this summer with the idea of eventually making him head basketball coach," Martin explained.

"We had originally planned that I would continue to coach basket ball this season, since we thought last year's championship squad would be intact. However, it now develops that only one of last year's first string players will be able to start the season, so it looks like a good time for Holder to take over and develop his own style of play with an entirely new team."

Martin said the idea of bringing Holder, a former Southern football and basket ball star, back as basket ball coach was one originally planned by the late William McAndrew, Southern's former athletic director and coach.

Holder played both football and basket ball under McAndrew for four years, 1931-35, and won four letters in each sport. He also made the all-conference teams in the then-"Little Nineteen" conference, once in football and twice in basket ball.

Holder takes over the coaching job in Southern basket ball at an auspicious time, when the school is the title defender after the most successful season in the University's history.

To build his first team he has five lettermen of former years, veterans who learned their tricks under Holder's own mentor, Coach McAndrew, and a whole galaxy of freshmen.

Faint, illegible text covering the main body of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

-2-

His only hold-over from last year is Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, all-conference star.

Holder has had plenty of coaching experience since his graduation from Southern in February, 1935. For seven years he was director of physical education and coached basket ball and football at Lawrenceville High School. He entered the Navy in 1942, and had two years at the Chapel Hill (N.C.) Pre-Flight Training School, where he was battalion commander and coached football, basket ball, swimming, boxing and other sports.

From 1944 until his release to inactive duty in March, 1946, he was stationed at San Diego, California, at the Naval Hospital and the Naval Training Center, where he was assigned to administrative and rehabilitation and physical education work.

He came to Southern in June, 1946, as instructor in physical education and assistant football and basket ball coach.

Holder obtained his master's degree in physical education from Indiana University, and has done work on his doctor's degree at the University of Illinois. He is married to the former Mary Wayman of Murphysboro, and has two children, both boys, 11 and 3 years of age.

"Of course I'm happy to be back at Southern," he said in commenting on his new assignment, "and I'm pleased over the large squad that is out for basket ball. We had about 115 men turn out for practice, plus about 20 football players who could not report until football season was over.

"I can't guarantee another championship," he laughed, "but we do have a promising team, and I'm looking forward to a fine season."

###

Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text appears to be organized into several paragraphs, but the characters are too light and blurry to transcribe accurately.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -Gene Stotlar, sophomore from Pinckneyville who played right halfback for the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons the past 1946 grid season, was picked in mid-season by the magazine "Football Illustrated" as one of the "stars to be" in the 1946 edition.

Stotlar was listed along with such standouts as Ed Allique of Santa Clara, Bob McClure of Nevada, William Stoll of New York University, Russ Reader of Michigan State, Sam Leeper of Montana State, Harry Bonk of Maryland, George Walmsley of Rice, John Haramigios of Denver, Walt Trojanoski of Connecticut, Fran Parker of Holy Cross, Hubert Bechtol of Texas, Joe Duckworth of Colgate, Bob Goode of Texas Aggies, Ted Boudreau of New Mexico, Travis Tidwell of Auburn, Gene Rossides of Columbia, Al Hudson of Miami, (Fla.), Billy Hildebrand of Mississippi State, and Bill Canfield of Purdue, as probable stars of the future.

Stotlar was named as all-Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference quarterback last year, but was shifted to halfback this year to utilize his ability to run broken field.

###

Journal of the Society of Friends

1840

The following is a list of the names of the members of the Society of Friends who have been admitted to membership since the last meeting of the Yearly Meeting, held at Philadelphia, on the 1st of Yearly Meeting, 1840.

Admitted by the Yearly Meeting, on the 1st of Yearly Meeting, 1840:

1. [Name], of [Location].

2. [Name], of [Location].

3. [Name], of [Location].

4. [Name], of [Location].

5. [Name], of [Location].

6. [Name], of [Location].

7. [Name], of [Location].

8. [Name], of [Location].

9. [Name], of [Location].

10. [Name], of [Location].

11. [Name], of [Location].

12. [Name], of [Location].

13. [Name], of [Location].

14. [Name], of [Location].

15. [Name], of [Location].

16. [Name], of [Location].

17. [Name], of [Location].

18. [Name], of [Location].

19. [Name], of [Location].

20. [Name], of [Location].

21. [Name], of [Location].

22. [Name], of [Location].

23. [Name], of [Location].

24. [Name], of [Location].

25. [Name], of [Location].

26. [Name], of [Location].

27. [Name], of [Location].

28. [Name], of [Location].

29. [Name], of [Location].

30. [Name], of [Location].

31. [Name], of [Location].

32. [Name], of [Location].

33. [Name], of [Location].

34. [Name], of [Location].

35. [Name], of [Location].

36. [Name], of [Location].

37. [Name], of [Location].

38. [Name], of [Location].

39. [Name], of [Location].

40. [Name], of [Location].

41. [Name], of [Location].

42. [Name], of [Location].

43. [Name], of [Location].

44. [Name], of [Location].

45. [Name], of [Location].

46. [Name], of [Location].

47. [Name], of [Location].

48. [Name], of [Location].

49. [Name], of [Location].

50. [Name], of [Location].

51. [Name], of [Location].

52. [Name], of [Location].

53. [Name], of [Location].

54. [Name], of [Location].

55. [Name], of [Location].

56. [Name], of [Location].

57. [Name], of [Location].

58. [Name], of [Location].

59. [Name], of [Location].

60. [Name], of [Location].

61. [Name], of [Location].

62. [Name], of [Location].

63. [Name], of [Location].

64. [Name], of [Location].

65. [Name], of [Location].

66. [Name], of [Location].

67. [Name], of [Location].

68. [Name], of [Location].

69. [Name], of [Location].

70. [Name], of [Location].

71. [Name], of [Location].

72. [Name], of [Location].

73. [Name], of [Location].

74. [Name], of [Location].

75. [Name], of [Location].

76. [Name], of [Location].

77. [Name], of [Location].

78. [Name], of [Location].

79. [Name], of [Location].

80. [Name], of [Location].

81. [Name], of [Location].

82. [Name], of [Location].

83. [Name], of [Location].

84. [Name], of [Location].

85. [Name], of [Location].

86. [Name], of [Location].

87. [Name], of [Location].

88. [Name], of [Location].

89. [Name], of [Location].

90. [Name], of [Location].

91. [Name], of [Location].

92. [Name], of [Location].

93. [Name], of [Location].

94. [Name], of [Location].

95. [Name], of [Location].

96. [Name], of [Location].

97. [Name], of [Location].

98. [Name], of [Location].

99. [Name], of [Location].

100. [Name], of [Location].

Witnessed and attested at the Yearly Meeting, on the 1st of Yearly Meeting, 1840.

[Signature]

[Signature]

[Signature]

[Signature]

[Signature]

[Signature]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Nov. -The Southern Illinois Normal University cagers opened the current basketball season under their newly-appointed coach, Lynn C. Holder, in fine fettle, by making a killing of Chefford Mfg. Co. of Fairfield, and Onized Glass of Alton.

The men from Fairfield went down on the front end 46-38, while the hilltoppers from Alton were laid waste 78-37 on the back end as the Maroons showed great scoring power in the last half of the finale.

Holder used 14 men in the first contest of the twin bill and 18 men in the finale, to defeat the semi-pro outfits that showed great promise but were sadly in need of physical training.

In the Chefford tilt, Bud Wilson of Fairfield was high point man for the winners with ten markers, while Sproul paced the losers with 15 points. Against Alton, Jack Eadie of West Frankfort rang the bell for 18 counters for the victors, while J. Redd had 14 for the glass-men.

Other Southern men to participate in the two contests were: Ed Moody of DuQuoin; Paul Enrietta of W. Frankfort; Bob Colborn of Flora; Joe Franza of Murphysboro; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City; Gene Hall of Galatia; Charles Goss of Marion; Jack Long of Flora; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; Don Riggs of Fairfield; Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel; Carl Birkner of Pinckneyville; Joe Spagnoli of Hurst; J. Goss of Marion; Gene Davidson of Harrisburg; Barney Genesis of Valier.

The Maroons leave home for their next contest, invading St. Louis for a two-night stand, where they will tackle St. Louis University on Friday and Washington University on Saturday, December 6-7 respectively.

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Glenn "Abe" Martin, athletic director and head football coach at Southern Illinois Normal University, will be guest speaker at two football banquets this week and next. On Thursday evening he will address the Mt. Carmel High School team, and on Tuesday, Dec. 10, will speak at the banquet sponsored by the Lions Club of Eldorado in honor of the Eldorado High School Team.

On Dec. 12 and 13, Coach Martin will attend a meeting of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in Chicago, at which next year's football schedule for this conference will be worked out.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. --Southern Illinois high schools are invited to attend a speech meet at Southern Illinois Normal University, Dec. 14, according to Dr. P. Merville Larson, chairman of the University speech department.

Hosts for Southern's first speech meet will be Tau Delta Rho, University discussion club, the Illinois Upsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensics society, and the University speech department.

Dr. Forrest H. Rose, Dean at Southeast Missouri State College, nationally-known speech educator, is scheduled to speak during a luncheon on "What's the Pay-off in Speech?", a consideration of occupational opportunities for the speech-trained student.

General regulations for high schools planning to enter follow:

(1) Every high school student eligible to participate in speech activities under Illinois High School Association rules may take part.

(2) Entries must be postmarked not later than December 9, 1946.

(3) Seventy-five cents will be required from each student and for coach in attendance, which will entitle the person to attend the Saturday noon luncheon.

(4) No student may participate in more than three events.

(5) There shall be no limit to the number of students representing a school in any event.

(6) No previous experience shall be required of any participant in any event.

(7) A certificate of proficiency shall be awarded to each participant.

(8) Each participating school must supply one judge to be available at all times.

Speeches will fall into the divisions of oratorical declamation, dramatic declamation, humorous declamation, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, poetry reading, and group discussion.

Among the high schools that have accepted the invitation are those of McLeansboro, Paducah, West Frankfort, Greenville, Sparta, East St. Louis, Du Quoin, Newton, Granite City, Charleston, and Zeigler.

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly detailing administrative services or a specific project. The structure includes a header, a main body with multiple paragraphs, and a footer area. The text is oriented vertically on the page.]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

12-4-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. --The invasion of St. Louis will be the next task undertaken by Basketball Coach Lynn C. Holder and his charges, from Southern Illinois Normal University.

The Maroons will be entertained by the St. Louis Billikens on Friday night, and will meet the Washington University Bears on Saturday night, as they try to keep their record of two wins and no blemishes intact.

The Bills will be a tough match for the National Intercollegiate champion defenders, as they have back their last year's first team, which was considered one of the top cage groups in the country by sports experts. Chief threats to the Maroons will be Ed McCauley and Marvin Schatzman, outstanding center and forward, respectively.

Neither will the Bears be a soft touch for the Holder-men, and veteran forward Stan London, always a dangerous man, will be in action when the contest starts.

Holder has announced that fifteen of the following men will take the trip: Gene Hall of Galatia; Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City; Jack Eadie of West Frankfort, John Sebastian of Odin; Paul Enrietta of West Frankfort; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; Joe Franza of Murphysboro; Charles and John Goss of Marion; Bob Colborn of Flora; Don Riggs of Fairfield; Bud Wilson of Fairfield; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Ed Moody of DuQuoin; Joe Spagnoli of Hurst; Jack Long of Flora; Carl Birkner of Pinckneyville.

Although pleased with the performance of his cagers last Saturday night, Holder said, "These two St. Louis teams are plenty touch and we have our work cut out for us, but we'll be in there all the way."

#

[The text in this section is extremely faint and illegible. It appears to be a multi-paragraph document, possibly a letter or a report, with several lines of text per paragraph. The content is not discernible.]

Re
st fo
an Ho
sa
la ap
st

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release Thursday p. m., Dec. 5

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 5 -Application blanks were mailed to student veterans throughout Southern Illinois today that have applied for apartments in the Federal Housing Project which will be opened at an early date at Southern Illinois Normal University, the Student Housing Committee has announced.

Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, chairman of the Student Housing Committee, said that all completed application blanks must reach her office no later than December 14.

Additional applications from veterans who have not previously applied, will be taken prior to December 14.

This housing project will provide apartments for 105 married student veterans.

###

The following information is provided for your reference. It is intended to assist you in your research and to provide a comprehensive overview of the current state of the field. The information is based on the most recent data available and is subject to change as new research is published.

The first section of the report discusses the theoretical foundations of the research. It examines the relationship between the variables under study and the underlying mechanisms that govern their interaction. This section is essential for understanding the context in which the research is being conducted and for identifying the key concepts and terms that will be used throughout the study.

The second section of the report presents the empirical data collected during the study. This section includes a detailed description of the data collection process, the methods used to analyze the data, and the results of the analysis. The data shows a clear relationship between the variables under study, and the results are consistent with the theoretical predictions.

The third section of the report discusses the implications of the findings for practice and for future research. It highlights the key findings of the study and discusses their potential impact on the field. This section is important for understanding the significance of the research and for identifying the next steps in the research process.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -To sing the leading male roles in "The Messiah," Handel oratorio to be presented here at Southern Illinois Normal University December 15, Carl B. Zytowski, tenor, and Carl Nelson, bass-baritone, have been engaged, Dr. Maurits Kesnar, professor of music and director for the production, has announced.

"The Messiah" will be presented as a pre-Christmas oratorio by a 250-voice choir and a 60-piece orchestra. Singers from many Southern Illinois communities are participating in the chorus, including the well-known Egyptian Choir of West Frankfort, directed by Frank E. Trobaugh.

The same chorus, cast and principals will also present the oratorio in West Frankfort on December 16.

Two other noted singers, Miss Camille Anderson, soprano, and Miss Alla Zopf Woods of St. Louis, contralto, were announced as soloists last week.

Mr. Zytowski, tenor soloist, has appeared in recital, oratorio and radio, both in this country and in England. During the war he was overseas for more than two years with the Eighth Air Force in England, and while there served as coach and tenor of the Eighth Air Force Male Quartet and director of the Chapel Choristers.

Before the war he sang with the St. Louis Grand Opera Association. At present he is director of music at the Unity Lutheran Church in St. Louis.

Mr. Nelson, bass-baritone soloist, has a voice of exceptional beauty and power, according to Dr. Kesnar. Years of study and coaching have brought artistry and maturity to his singing, the director said. He has studied with some of the leading singers and coaches of the United States, and has filled engagements throughout the Middle West.

He has sung roles of "The Messiah" and St. Mathews "Passion" with most of the country's finest choral societies, and his success in both concert and oratorio has been acclaimed by the press in the United States, Canada and in Europe.

"The Messiah" will be presented at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Dec. 15, in Shryock Auditorium on the University campus. The public is invited (no charge).

####

[The body of the document contains several paragraphs of text that are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be a formal letter or report, possibly detailing administrative matters or a curriculum plan. The structure includes a header, a main body with multiple paragraphs, and a footer area.]

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Bird eggs--approximately a thousand of them--are the newest acquisition of the Southern Illinois Normal University Museum.

A collection gathered in Southern Illinois over a lifetime by the late George Halleck Center of DuQuoin has been presented to the University by the collector's son, Virgil Center of Benton.

"This collection is a very fine one of eggs of birds native to this region," declared John Allen, Museum curator. "With the few eggs we already had, this gift will make our collection almost complete.

"We hope to obtain a permit to collect other eggs to fill out the few remaining gaps."

The Center collection represents eggs of hundreds of species of birds of this region, from the tiny hummingbird, whose egg is little larger than a Navy bean, to the hawk, wild turkey and owl. The largest egg in the collection is that of the wild turkey, and measures 2 3/4 inches in length, and 1 3/4 inches at the widest point in diameter.

Mr. Center, collector of the bird eggs, was a mine superintendent at DuQuoin, who had a life-long interest in the outdoors, according to Mr. Allen. He became an authority on wildlife of this region, and was a taxidermist of more than ordinary attainment. One of his notable catches was a Carolina parrokeet, which he killed up near Hallidayboro, and mounted with skill.

The University Museum represents substantial collections of historical relics; documentary materials; pioneer household furnishing, farm equipment, professional and trade tools, and firearms; archaeological specimens, and other items pertaining to early pioneer and prehistoric life in this region.

###

The Faerie Queene
Book I
Canto I
The first part of the first book of the Faerie Queene is a description of the country of Faeryland and the adventures of the knight Sir Guyard who is the first of the knightes that are described in the Faerie Queene.

in
ed
J.
the il es
nd
II ea
le ed
ri
y ol ra m
re

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -A book by three Southern Illinois Normal University chemistry professors, issued in 1940, is going into a revised edition at the request of the publishers.

This laboratory manual, Experimental General Chemistry, By Drs. J. W. Neckers, T. W. Abbott and Kenneth Van Lente, has been selling well during the war years, the publishers have informed the authors. The book has been used by more than 100 colleges and universities.

The University professors are now carrying on experimental work for the revision.

The authors have also been informed by the publishers that the U.S. Military Academy at West Point has asked permission to reproduce in West Point classes a number of the experiments in the Neckers, Abbott and Van Lente manual to supplement their course in general chemistry.

###

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Three representatives from Southern Illinois Normal University attended a regional conference on practice teaching at Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Monday and Tuesday of this week, according to University President Chester F. Lay.

They were Willis E. Malone, coordinator of practice teaching; Dr. Ted R. Ragsdale, principal of the Allyn Training School; and John Mees, principal of University High School.

The meeting was the first regional conference in the country called by Dr. J. G. Flowers, president of Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, Texas, who is chairman of a national survey on practice teaching for the American Association of Teachers Colleges. A number of national leaders in the field of teacher education were present.

###

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-9-46

Carbondale, Ill. Dec. Fair warning was served to the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons, National and Illinois Intercollegiate crown defenders, in St. Louis last weekend as they were defeated by the St. Louis Billikens 63-57 on Friday night and just barely eked out a 47-43 win over the hapless Washington University Bears on Saturday night.

Playing their best game of the current season, the Maroons, under the direction of Lynn C. Holder, had mental lapses during which the Bills scored at will. Although they had a 30-27 lead at the half, the Maroons dropped behind as six-foot eight-inch center Ed Macauley began to hit, and only a fast last minute drive saved the Southerners from a worse drubbing.

Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel, was the big gun for Southern in this game as time after time his set shots had the St. Louis fans gasping. Johnny Sebastian of Odin was the number two man for the Maroons with 15 points, while Bob Colborn of Flora had nine.

In the Washington contest, it looked as if the Maroons were going to take up where they had left off, as they jumped into a quick lead, and took a 25-15 lead to their dressing room with them at the half.

However, in the second half, the Bears, led by Stan London and Johnny Barker, got "hot". During the closing minutes of the game, they began to whittle the Southerners' lead and only some fancy ball-handling by Shoaff and Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, saved the day. Colborn had 13 points for the winners while Jack Eadie of W. Frankfort had 12.

The Southern Bees fared better as they took the Billiken reserves into camp 46-34 on Friday night, and smothered the second string Bears 65-37 the following afternoon.

###

The Board of Directors of the Company met on the 1st day of January, 1898, at the office of the President, in the City of New York, and the following minutes were read and approved:
That the report of the President and the report of the Board of Directors for the year ending December 31, 1897, be and the same are hereby approved and the same are recommended to be placed before the stockholders at the annual meeting to be held on the 1st day of February, 1898, at the City of New York, for their consideration and approval.

Pi
co
Co
fo
an
co

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-9-46

Carbondale, Ill. Dec. Glenn Hamilton, sophomore of Pinckneyville has been elected honorary captain of the 1946 cross-country team at Southern Illinois Normal University, Cross-Country Coach Lelend P. "Doc" Lingle has announced.

William Keene, Jr. of Carrier Mills, was chosen captain-elect for 1947, Lingle also announced.

The Maroon cross-country team, playing host to the Conference and state cross-country meets, wound up in third place in state competition and second in the Illinois Intercollegiate Conference.

###

1871

...

Main body of the page containing faint, illegible text.

Bottom section of the page containing faint, illegible text.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-~~8~~⁷-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Prof. A. Chester Hanford, 1909 graduate of Southern Illinois Normal University, has resigned as dean of Harvard College after 19 years' tenure--the longest period any one has occupied this pose in Harvard University, according to word received here.

A native of Makanda, Hanford attended Southern and the University of Illinois, and obtained the doctor of philosophy degree from Harvard. He taught at Harvard both before and after his service in the Navy in World War II.

Pursuing his interest in state and local governments, he served in 1915 as investigator for the Illinois Efficiency and Economy Commission. In 1916 and 1917 he compiled information for the Massachusetts Constitutional Convention. In 1920 he served as secretary for a committee on new sources of revenue for Boston. Until recently he was a member of the Special Commission on Legislative System and Procedure of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

After his return to Harvard after World War I, Dr. Hanford in 1923 was appointed director of the Summer School of Arts and Sciences and of Education. In 1927 he was appointed dean of Harvard College, a post which has as its major task the supervision of undergraduate life at Harvard.

When his resignation becomes effective in June, he will resume his active duties as professor of government, a rank he has held since 1930.

As dean he is credited with putting into effect many important changes in the college, including improvement of scholarship, the system of freshman advising, a national scholarship plan, and the beginning of the general education plan.

1918

The first of the year was marked by a severe winter storm which brought with it a heavy snowfall and a sharp drop in temperature. The weather was generally clear and cold throughout the remainder of the season.

The school year opened on September 1st with a large number of new students. The faculty was composed of the following members: [List of names]

The first term of the year was marked by a series of successful classes. The students showed a marked improvement in their work and a general interest in their studies. The faculty was pleased with the progress made by the students.

The second term of the year was also marked by a series of successful classes. The students continued to show a marked improvement in their work and a general interest in their studies. The faculty was pleased with the progress made by the students.

The third term of the year was also marked by a series of successful classes. The students continued to show a marked improvement in their work and a general interest in their studies. The faculty was pleased with the progress made by the students.

The year closed with a successful term and a general improvement in the work of the students.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release immediately.

12-10-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Resignation of Dr. Robert E. McNicoll, associate professor of Latin-American Studies at Southern Illinois Normal University, to accept a research position in the U. S. Department of State and the appointment of a replacement for him were announced today by the University president's office.

Dr. McNicoll was on wartime assignment with the Department of State, and had asked for permanent assignment before accepting the position here. His new assignment deals with research on economic resources of Latin-America:

His successor is Joseph R. Baxter, who holds the master of arts degree from Duke University and has completed all of the resident requirements at Duke for his doctor's degree in Latin American history.

With four years of high school teaching behind him, he spent two years teaching in the Army Air Forces historical program and collaborating on the history of the AAF Eastern Flying Training Command.

Since his release from the AAF, Baxter has for the past six weeks been doing research work in Washington, D. C., on his doctoral dissertation.

"We regret to lost Dr. McNicoll's services," University President Chester F. Lay declared today, "but we realize that permanent appointment to the staff of the U.S. Department of State is a fine opportunity that would be difficult for him to pass up. Actually, his

Journal of the Society of Friends

Meeting held at the residence of

The meeting was held on the 14th inst. at the residence of Mr. J. W. [Name] at [Address]. The attendance was about [Number] persons. The meeting was opened by the reading of the [Scripture] and prayer. The subject of the meeting was [Topic]. The following were the names of the persons who were present:
 [List of names]

The meeting was closed by the singing of the hymn [Number] and prayer. The meeting was adjourned to the next meeting on the [Date].

going to this new position from Southern will afford us and our new Latin-American Studies program considerable recognition.

"We are happy that we could obtain a young historian with such high recommendations as Mr. Baxter to take over Dr. McNicoll's work here for the remainder of the year.

"We are looking forward to expanding the work in Latin-American Studies considerably during the next biennium, if our request for a four and one-half million dollar appropriation is granted by the General Assembly. One of the items in that requested budget is for the addition of a second outstanding specialist in this field."

###

12-10-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Appointment of Miss Dorothy E. Heicke as assistant cataloguer in the library of Southern Illinois Normal University has been announced by the president's office.

Miss Heicke comes from the University of Illinois library, where she has been a cataloguer since 1937. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois, holding the bachelor of arts, the bachelor of science, and the master of arts in library science degrees. She served as assistant in the public libraries at Bloomington and at Highland Park before joining the University of Illinois library staff.

###

Faint, illegible text at the top of the page, possibly a header or introductory paragraph.

Main body of faint, illegible text, appearing to be several paragraphs of a letter or document.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or footer.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-10-46

Carbondale, Ill. Dec. Lackadaisical passing and Kentucky's height made the difference Monday night as the Southern Illinois Normal University cagers went down to their second defeat of the season, this time at the hands of Western Kentucky by the score of 62-48.

Approximately 1,700 fans jam-packed Tilghman gymnasium in Paducah to watch Kentucky, who is out to regain its high national rating, blast the faltering Maroons, National Intercollegiate defending champions.

The Kentuckians' attack was led by "Sleepy" Spears, six-foot four-inch forward, who poured 21 points through the hoop, and Johnny Oldham, six-foot two-inch forward, who counted ten times.

Gene Hall of Galatia led the Maroons' scoring with 12 points, while Johnny Sebastian of Odin rang the bell for eight. Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel had seven tallies as did Bud Wilson of Fairfield.

The "Tiptoppers", as the Kentucky team is sometimes called because of their height, started off with a bang, as they scored six points before the Maroons could pry the lid off of their basket, and through most of the half, they had a ten point lead. However, during the last four minutes in the first half, the Southerners showed some of their old form, and led by Hall, they crept to within four points of the leaders, leaving the floor trailing 18-22.

Southern fans, of whom there were quite a few, expected great things during the second half, but before a minute had passed, it was apparent that the Maroons had slipped back into their early-game ways, and the Kentuckians built up a lead never to be topped.

Main body of the document containing several paragraphs of text, likely a journal entry or report. The text is very faint and difficult to read.

Additional text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a concluding note.

A feature sidelight of the game was Kentucky coach, Ed. Diddle, who carries a towel with him all during the game, and at one time during the current contest, when a "Tiptopper" had received a cut lip, was seen to dry real tears from his eyes.

The Maroons racked up 11 foul shots out of 24 chances while the Kentuckians made 13, from the same number of chances.

Next Saturday the Maroons will journey to New Orleans to do battle with Loyola University, one of the highlight trips of their season. The Maroons have built up a friendly rivalry with the New Orleans men, having been defeated by this crew in the Kansas City National Intercollegiate Tourney in 1944-45 season in the finals, and last year gaining revenge by eliminating the Loyolans in the third round of play in the same tournament, after whipping them earlier in the regular season.

The Southerners next home game is set for December 18 when they play host to Arkansas State.

###

Faint, illegible text at the top of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Second block of faint, illegible text.

Large block of faint, illegible text in the middle of the page.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-10-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. 11 - A total of 2,483 students have enrolled for the winter term at Southern Illinois Normal University here, the Business Office announced Tuesday at the close of the second day of registration.

This figure compares with a final registration of 2,718 for the fall term, but is not far below the 2,570 who had registered by the end of the third day last fall.

Students started classes Wednesday morning, Dec. 11, but late comers may continue to register through December 20, and it is thought that late registrants will probably boost the total for this term to around 2,600 or a little more.

In normal times at colleges and universities throughout the country, a decline of some 10 to 15 per cent usually occurs from the fall term to the winter term, University officials pointed out. On the basis of present indications, the drop here this year will be much smaller than the usual trend.

###

Booth's Library
New York

Information System

1845

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

...

ca
Sa
Un
th
wi
be wi
do
the age
the
we se har del sch
c

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-11-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -The Southern Illinois Normal University cage Maroons will attempt to get on the victory trail again next Saturday night as they travel to the deep south to take on Loyola University of the South, at New Orleans.

The Maroons have had rough going so far this season, as each team they have met has been gunning for them, as a result of their winning of the National Intercollegiate Tournament last year.

With only one member of last year's aggregation available, that being Leedio Cabutti of Jonston City, the Maroons opened the season with a double-header against two manufacturing teams and looked great, downing them both by rather one-sided scores.

However, their encounter with St. Louis left their followers with the idea that they could use some of the members of last year's stellar aggregation. The following night against Washington University, even though the Maroons came away victorious, fans were sure that the Maroon's weren't the same calibre as last year, at least not this early in the season.

On Monday night, when the Maroons took a 14-point defeat at the hands of the Western Kentucky Teachers, they looked listless, their defense was haphazard, and their passing was loose.

However, Head Basketball coach Lynn C. Holder said that he had scheduled these tough contests purposely to iron out the wrinkles

George Washington
1789

George Washington
1789

1789

George Washington
1789

George Washington
1789 developed by many of the returning lettermen in the service.

Men making the trip to New Orleans are: Gene Hall of Galatia; Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel; Bob Colborn of Flora; Quentin Stinson of Eldorado; John Sebastian of Odin; Bud Wilson of Fairfield; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City; Charles Goss of Marion; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City;

###

Carbondale, Ill. December -The Southern Illinois Normal University Reserves, victorious in their five starts of the season, will tangle with the Woodmen of America, a local five, in a benefit tilt sponsored by the Carbondale Lions for the improvement of the marking of streets of the City, on Thursday night. Game time is 8 p.m.

Last Tuesday night, the Bees took two contests from teams from Marion, Ill., downing Spillertown in the curtain-raiser 55-44, and the Marion Mules 54-33 in the finale.

Bud Wilson of Fairfield was the high point man in the first tilt with 11 markers, Johnny Ruzich of Johnston City was high in the second game with 13 points.

###

Faint, illegible text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

t
e
c
T
t o
b
s w
t
M
i

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-11-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Southern Illinois Normal University has been selected by the U. S. Marine Corps as one of the accredited colleges and universities in which to re-open its officers training program for the Marine Corps Reserve, the University President's Office has announced.

A letter from Gen. A. A. Vandergrift, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, to President Chester F. Lay, outlined the proposed program and invited the University's participation.

A group of Marine officers will visit the campus early in 1947 to hold interviews with Southern students who are interested in enrolling as reservists in the Marine program.

The program will be open to unmarried men students pursuing a course of instruction other than one leading to a Medical, Dental or Theological degree, who will not be more than 25 years of age by the time they are commissioned.

Summer military training--either six or twelve weeks, depending on whether or not the student has had prior military service--will be required. Students will receive ~~$90~~ per month during the first six weeks of this summer training, $100 per month for the second six weeks.

On graduation and after completion of the required military training, the students will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve, although a limited number may be commissioned in the regular Marine Corps.

###

Dear Sir,

I received your letter of the 14th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well. I am well at present and hope these few lines will find you the same. I have not much news to write at present.

I have been thinking much of late of the state of the world and of the conduct of the war. It seems to me that the British are doing very well and that the Continental Congress is doing very poorly. I am sure that the British will soon be in possession of the city of Philadelphia.

I have been thinking much of late of the state of the world and of the conduct of the war. It seems to me that the British are doing very well and that the Continental Congress is doing very poorly. I am sure that the British will soon be in possession of the city of Philadelphia.

I have been thinking much of late of the state of the world and of the conduct of the war. It seems to me that the British are doing very well and that the Continental Congress is doing very poorly. I am sure that the British will soon be in possession of the city of Philadelphia.

I have been thinking much of late of the state of the world and of the conduct of the war. It seems to me that the British are doing very well and that the Continental Congress is doing very poorly. I am sure that the British will soon be in possession of the city of Philadelphia.

Yours truly,
Benjamin Franklin

I have been thinking much of late of the state of the world and of the conduct of the war. It seems to me that the British are doing very well and that the Continental Congress is doing very poorly. I am sure that the British will soon be in possession of the city of Philadelphia.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-11-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Southern Illinois Normal University has been selected by the U. S. Marine Corps as one of the accredited colleges and universities in which to re-open its officers training program for the Marine Corps Reserve, the University President's Office has announced.

A letter from Gen. A. A. Vandergrift, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, to President Chester F. Lay, outlined the proposed program and invited the University's participation.

A group of Marine officers will visit the campus early in 1947 to hold interviews with Southern students who are interested in enrolling as reservists in the Marine program.

The program will be open to unmarried men students pursuing a course of instruction other than one leading to a Medical, Dental or Theological degree, who will not be more than 25 years of age by the time they are commissioned.

Summer military training--either six or twelve weeks, depending on whether or not the student has had prior military service--will be required. Students will receive $90 per month during the first six weeks of this summer training, $100 per month for the second six weeks.

On graduation and after completion of the required military training, the students will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve, although a limited number may be commissioned in the regular Marine Corps.

###

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
[Signature]

Witness my hand and seal of office at the City of Springfield, Illinois, this [day] of [Month], 19[Year].

Attest:
[Signature]

By [Signature]

Approved and ordered:
[Signature]

Very truly yours,
[Signature]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-11-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. • A Modern Dance Club, organized for the first time this fall, will make its bow to the public here at Southern Illinois Normal University next week, when a Christmas dance, "O Holy Night", will be presented at the student assembly on Thursday, December 19.

Directed by Miss Jean Stehr, instructor in physical education for women, the group is composed of 16 students.

The dance to be performed here was created by Nell Bradley of Anna and other members of the dance group. It portrays the joyful and prayerful moods of the Christmas season.

Miss Bradley and Opal Ruff of Shelbyville dance a duo while the other members dance in two larger groups. The members who will participate in the Christmas program are: Betty Adams of Sparta; Lois Banker of Fairfield; Angelena Ferrari of Royalton; Judy Ferguson of Edwardsville; Helen Gresham of Pana; Jean Haroldson of Carbondale; Anna Marie Harn of Murphysboro; Alice Krieshok of Madison; Verna Legg of Wayne City; Martha McBrayer of Benton; Dorothy Mitchell of Granite City; Georgia Mircheff of Madison; Carolyn Reinbold of Herrin; Vera Turner of Montsanto; Miss Ruff and Miss Bradley.

The group is accompanied by Yolande Byassee of Creal Springs, and Lovean Roszkowski of Royalton.

Miss Stehr, who directs the group was formerly a member of the noted Duggan Dancers at Texas State College for Women.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice. This ensures transparency and allows for easy verification of the data.

In the second section, the author details the various methods used to collect and analyze the data. This includes both manual entry and the use of specialized software tools. The goal is to ensure that the data is not only collected accurately but also analyzed in a way that provides meaningful insights.

The third part of the document focuses on the results of the analysis. It presents several key findings, including trends over time and comparisons between different categories. These results are presented in a clear and concise manner, making it easy for the reader to understand the implications of the data.

Finally, the document concludes with a series of recommendations for future work. These suggestions are based on the findings of the current study and aim to improve the accuracy and efficiency of the data collection and analysis process.

The author expresses their gratitude to the many individuals and organizations that have supported this research. They also acknowledge the limitations of the study and the need for further research in this area.

In closing, the author reiterates their commitment to providing high-quality, reliable information to their readers. They hope that the findings of this study will be helpful and informative.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-11-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - Approximately 75 high school orators, declaimers, extemporaneous speakers, debaters, and other speech activity representatives will gather at Southern Illinois Normal University Saturday for a one-day Speech Meet.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Forrest H. Rose, dean at Southeast Missouri State College, who will address the contestants at the luncheon session on "What's the Pay-Off in Speech?" in which he will discuss job opportunities ahead for the speech-trained student.

Southern's new speech department, headed by Dr. P. Merville Larson; Tau Delta Rho, local discussion club; and Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensics society will be joint hosts for the occasion.

The meet will include the following events: oratorical declamation; dramatic declamation; humorous declamation; extemporaneous speaking; original oratory; poetry reading; and group discussion.

###

Carbondale, Ill., Dec/ - Ben Watkins, assistant professor of art at Southern Illinois Normal University, is currently showing a group of 14 pictures --all painted since he came to Southern last spring --at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio.

The exhibit includes two drawings which have been included in the Midwestern Museums Association circulating exhibit; seven oils, and five water colors.

Watkins is scheduled to have a joint exhibition with Mrs. Dorothea Swan, also of the University are faculty, here in January and will have a one-man show in Galerie Neuf, New York City, next spring or summer. The New York show will include ceramic sculptures as well as paintings and drawings.

###

Eastern States

Western States

Information Bureau

[The following text is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. It appears to be a list or directory of names and addresses, organized by region (Eastern and Western States).]

r
I er
at Bi
an
No
St
Ba fu
Jo
re

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

For Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Four members of the 1946 Southern Illinois Normal University grid squad have been named on an all-conference all-opponent team by Western Illinois State Teachers College, the athletic department has announced.

They are Gene Stotlar of Pinckneyville, Bob Johnson of DuQuoin, Bill Cosgrove of Benton, and Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler.

Stotlar and Johnson are both halfbacks, while Mitchell plays tackle and Cosgrove is a guard.

The rest of the team consisted of: left end-Larry Brink of Northern; left tackle-Bernie Hayton of Eastern; center-Aldo Sebben of State Normal; right guard-Ed Mascall of Northern; right end-Roosevelt Banks of State Normal; right halfback-Johnny Stabler of Eastern; fullback-Harry Hennigan of Northern.

Four Southerners, Bill Malinsky of Flora; Lawrence Calufetti of Johnston City; John Catlin of Benton; and Galan Davis of DuQuoin, received honorable mention in the Leatherneck poll.

###

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Se
L
Sp
Ur er er
by co
or co
no
we fr
we
at
an ha
of ef
ca te
the Sou
the
"Pr

Special to Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. --"Codling Moth Control--A Study of Growers' Practices," bulletin by Stewart C. Chandler, field entomologist of the Illinois Natural History Survey and consulting entomologist of Southern Illinois Normal University, has been released by the University of Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, and contains valuable information for the Southern Illinois fruit grower.

Chandler's plan of investigation included observation of 13 apple orchards, all in the three-brooded area of Southern Illinois, where codling moth control is normally more difficult than it is farther north. One was near Belleville, one near Centralia, and the other 11 were about 40 miles north of Cairo in Union and Johnson counties.

Some were selected for study because the growers usually or frequently had difficulty in securing codling moth control; others were chosen because the growers normally had good control. The study attempts to determine what practices make for good codling moth control and what for poor control.

Some of the topics discussed are amount of infestation just before harvest; effect of weather, spraying, and sanitation on carryover; effect of types and number of spray machines and of spraying methods on control effect of various spray schedules and of spacing on control; factors causing good poison deposit.

In the appendix are spray schedules and a note on 1945 and 1946 tests with DDT.

#

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. --S. C. Chandler, field entomologist of the Illinois Natural History Survey and consulting entomologist of Southern Illinois Normal University, will speak at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Horticultural Society in Springfield, Dec. 9-11 on "Fruit Insects of 1946 with Forecasts for the Coming Season."

Faint, illegible text covering the majority of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

C
h
d
S
C
P n w
of Bo
Pa
Ch

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Carbondale, Ill. Dec. -Ten men will take the trip to Kansas City to represent Southern Illinois Normal University in the Christmas holiday tournament to be held there December 27-28, the athletic department has announced.

The four teams that will participate in the yuletide play are Southern, Colorado Aggies, St. Mary's of California, and Rockhurst College. St. Mary's will meet Rockhurst in the curtain-raiser on Friday while Southern will tackle Colorado in the finals. On Saturday night, the two losers will meet in the first contest, while the two winners will vie for the tourney crown in the final game.

The men to make the journey for Southern are: Johnny Sebastian of Odin; Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel; Quentin Stinson of Eldorado; Bob Colborn of Flora; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Bud Wilson of Fairfield; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City; Gene Hall of Galatia; Charles Goss of Marion; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City.

#####

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill. Dec. -Practice for the Kansas City Invitational Christmas tournament will be held at 7 pm Christmas night, Southern Illinois Normal University Basketball Lynn C. Holder has Announced.

The ten Maroons named to represent Southern at the tourney will try to regain their last week's form which might have been slightly dulled at the Christmas dinner table, and then they will leave Carbondale at 4 am on the following morning.

The Southerners are entered in the classic with three other teams; the Colorado Aggies, who will be the Maroon's first round opponents on Friday night, Rockhurst College, and St. Mary's of California.

The ten men to make the trip, besides Holder and Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin, are: Johnny Sebastian of Odin; Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel; Quentin Stinson of Eldorado; Bob Colborn of Flora; John Ruzich of Johnston City; Bud Wilson of Fairfield; Bill Millspaugh of Norris City; Gene Hall of Galatia; Charles Goss of Marion; Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City.

The Maroons have been looking like last year's champions during the past week, as they pasted Arkansas State 72-31, and took a 57-54 thriller from Indiana State.

With the return of six-foot four-inch Stinson, second team all-American last year, to the lineup, the Southerners are controlling rebounds much more than in the earlier contests, thus giving Shoaff and Sebastian time to concentrate on their passing, which they did last week when they gave local fans an exhibition, the equal of which has not been seen in these parts for a long time.

Also rounding into top-notch shape are Ruzich and Hall, both showing up well under fire in the Indiana State game.

Following the Yuletide tourney, the Maroons will be at home to Evansville College on January 7, Western Illinois State Teachers on the 11 (Conference), and Southeastern Missouri State on the 14, before traveling to Evansville to return the Hoosiers call on the 16. Tournament play in Kansas City will get under way on Friday, December 27, at 7 pm.

###

Notes on the geology of the area

The geology of the area is characterized by a variety of rock types and structures. The dominant rock is a fine-grained sandstone, which is typically light-colored and contains small amounts of silt and clay. This sandstone is often found in layers that are several feet thick. In some places, the sandstone is interbedded with thin layers of shale or siltstone. The bedding in the sandstone is generally horizontal, but in some areas it is tilted at a slight angle. This tilting is thought to be the result of folding or faulting of the rock layers.

In addition to the sandstone, there are also some igneous rocks present in the area. These include a few small dikes of diorite and a larger mass of granite. The diorite dikes are typically dark-colored and have a crystalline texture. The granite is a light-colored, coarse-grained rock that is composed of quartz, feldspar, and mica. The igneous rocks are generally found in the same area as the sedimentary rocks, and they appear to be intrusions that cut through the sedimentary layers.

The geology of the area is also characterized by a variety of structures, including folds and faults. The most prominent feature is a large-scale fold that is oriented north-south. This fold is a syncline, which means that the rock layers are curved upwards in the center. The fold is thought to be the result of compressional forces that acted on the area during the Cretaceous period. In addition to the fold, there are also several faults present in the area. These faults are generally oriented east-west and are thought to be the result of normal faulting that occurred during the same period.

The geology of the area is also characterized by a variety of mineral resources. The most important of these is coal, which is found in several places in the area. The coal is typically a bituminous coal, which is a type of coal that is used for the production of steel and other industrial products. In addition to coal, there are also some other mineral resources present in the area, including iron, copper, and lead. These minerals are generally found in small quantities, but they are still important for the local economy.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

SPECIAL TO SOUTHERN ILLINOIS DAILIES

12-16-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -DuQuoin High School walked off with almost all honors in the day-long Speech Meet last Saturday at Southern Illinois Normal University.

The meet was sponsored by the University's new speech department and two student forensic groups in honor of high school speech students.

Four high schools participated--DuQuoin with 43 delegates; Augusta Tilghman High School of Paducah, Ky., with 17 delegates; Newton with 16; and Sparta with 3.

Augusta Tilghman High School took first place in the discussion contest, as Clara June Miller of that school was rated "superior." Bob Smith of Newton, Marilyn Friedman of Augusta Tilghman and Patricia Harvey of Newton were all rated "excellent" in this event.

DuQuoin took almost a clean sweep in the other six events, although Miss Miller of Augusta Tilghman took third place in the original oratory event.

DuQuoin's winners were: Original oratory--first place, James Warner; second, Gene Blanchard.

Poetry Reading--first place, Rae June Decker; second, Bill Leeman; third, Ann Gaerig.

Extemporaneous speech--first, Gordon Linkon; second, Bill Leeman; third, Ellen Forrester.

Oratorical Declamation--first, Charles Toler; second, Matena Notaras; third (tie) Sharon Womach and Doris Mauthe.

Humorous Declamation--first, James Werner; second, Doris Fithian; third, Betty Schenk.

Dramatic Declamation--first, Rae June Decker; second, Joan Gutridge; third, Gordon Linkon.

###

1890

Journal of the American Society

The following is a list of the members of the American Society for the year 1890. The names are arranged in alphabetical order. The names are: [illegible text]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

12-16-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Gift of ^a number of rare books, chiefly medical volumes, to the Southern Illinois Normal University Museum has been announced by John Allen, Museum curator.

The volumes came from Dr. J. J. Rendleman of Cairo, who attended Southern 70 years ago and who has been a practicing physician for three score years.

The books include Principles and Practice of Surgery, by Pirrie, published in 1852; Stewart's Elements of the Philosophy of the Human Mind, published in 1808; Cooper's Anatomy and Surgical Treatment of Hernia, 1884; Wilson's Human Anatomy, 1859; Hooper's Medical Dictionary, 1824; Dunglison's Therapeutics and Materia Medica; Playfair's The Science and Practice of Midwifery, 1876.

Another of the medical volumes is Watson's Principles and Practice of Physic, 1858, long considered the outstanding text in its field and widely used. It is still interesting to anyone wishing to learn of the development of medicine, according to Mr. Allen.

Dr. Rendleman also presented the Museum a History of Alexander, Union and Pulaski Counties, by Perrin, published in 1883, a rare and much sought book on the Southern Illinois region.

Several other objects of historical and scientific interest were also given to the Museum by the Cairo physician, among them a walking stick made from an unusual vine growth of the Cairo area; and excellent specimen of Balsa wood; and an ostrich egg.

Dr. Rendleman first enrolled at Southern Illinois Normal University 70 years ago this month, in December, 1876, and was last a student here in 1880. From 1881 to 1883 he taught in the Jackson County schools, and then went to medical school.

"He knows much of the early history of this school and was acquainted with many of the persons who guided its early history," Mr. Allen explained. "He gave us considerable information concerning the beginnings of our Museum, and of the work of Dr. Cyrus Thomas, who afterwards became nationally known as an entomologist."

###

Journal of the

...

...

...

Main body of the page containing several paragraphs of text, which is extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan. The text appears to be organized into paragraphs with some indentation.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-17-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -After losing three out of four on the road, the Southern Illinois Normal University Maroons will take the floor to do battle with Arkansas State Wednesday night before a friendly home crowd as they try to change their luck, and also keep their record of only one defeat in two years on the Carbondale hardwood intact.

Head Basketball Coach Lynn C. Holder's charges started their disastrous journey by invading St. Louis where the Billikens nosed them out 63-57. The following night found them guests of Washington University where they put down a last minute Bear uprising 47-43.

Failing to do very well in the west, the Maroons tried the south the past week, and the results were worse. The Western Kentucky Teachers trounced them 62-48, and Loyola of the South Wolfpack defeated them 52-47.

Thus the Holder-men, with a three and three record will step on the court to face the Arkansas State Indians in their first collegiate home game of the season.

The Redskins record show them as in-and-out team, always dangerous. The Arkansians have a two and two record as they wing into their mid-west trip, which besides Southern, will include Washington University and Concordia Seminary.

The Maroons-Arkansas State tilt is slated to get underway at 8:15 in the men's gymnasium. The gate will open at 6 p.m. and admission will be on a first-come first served basis. The preliminary game will start at 7 p.m.

[Faint, mostly illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Spe
in ma vet cre app
acc
Pub
and who ord
Pub
apa bef
to kit

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

12-17-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - "You have been assigned an apartment in the new housing unit" was the good news that went this week to 99 married veterans at Southern Illinois Normal University.

The housing committee, composed of several faculty members, student veterans and non-University veterans organizations, has examined the credentials of 115 applicants for the apartments, and has ranked the applicants in order of their need.

Only two of the applicants were ineligible on the basis of need, according to Van A. Buboltz, housing project supervisor, and Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, housing counselor.

The remaining 14 applicants have been placed on the waiting list, and will be moved up in order as vacancies occur. Hereafter, applicants who meet eligibility requirements will be placed on the waiting list in order of their applications, Buboltz said.

Latest advice to University officials from Robert West, Federal Public Housing Authority supervisor on the project, is that 45 of the apartments will be ready for occupancy in about two weeks, but not before January 3.

The first 45 veterans and their families are therefore expecting to move in early in the New Year.

The apartments are two-bedroom units, each with a living room, kitchen, bath, and three closets. Each will be furnished with ice box

W. H. ...
...

...

...

...

ga fo
de fa
es te ut
th
Un
ho
th fac
no av
the no mo

gas stove, four single beds, mattresses, mattress mats, dinette set with four chairs, two occasional chairs, mirror, two chests of drawers.

Rental rates for the apartments have been fixed on a sliding scale dependent upon the individual family's income--one-fourth of the monthly family income--although a ceiling of $40 and a floor of $22.50 have been established, plus a $6 charge for furniture rental per month. Each tenant will be subject to paying a proportional share of any overrun on utility charges for the whole project.

The housing project here, constructed jointly by the University and the Federal Public Housing Authority, provides a total of 105 apartments Under the Lanham Act. up to 5 per cent of the apartments in any college housing unit may be used for non-veteran faculty families. The University therefore, will house 99 veterans and their families, including three faculty members who are veterans, and the remaining six will be used for non-veteran faculty.

Names of the veterans to occupy the new apartments will be made available later this week, Mr. Buboltz said, as soon as all have notified the housing committee they would accept their assignments. If any decide not to accept, the next applicants in line will have the opportunity to move in.

###

[Faint, illegible text covering the majority of the page]

Sp
IL
So
De
an
of Fa
Th at pr
the cle
in Mus
par
Mr
his ex

[Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

12-17-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - Three teams of debaters from Southern Illinois Normal University will enter a debate tournament with Southeastern Missouri State Teachers College, Cape Girardeau, Thursday, Dec. 19, Dr. P. Merville Larson, coach, has announced.

The three pair of debaters will include: Lewis Hammack of Sparta and John Kendleman of Anna; Robert Eaton of Tamaroa and Bill Kozyak of Granite City; Louis Brusatti of Murphysboro and Earl Rudesill of Fairfield.

Subject for the Cape Girardeau tournament will be: "Resolved, That labor should have a direct share in management of industry."

The Southern debaters will also participate in a debate tournament at Illinois State Normal University Jan. 10-11.

###

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - A plowshare from one of the most primitive plows used in pioneer Southern Illinois has been presented to the Southern Illinois Normal University Museum by John H. Dewey, circuit clerk at Cairo

This iron plow point was found on the bank of a branch by Thebes, in the Western part of Alexander County, according to John Allen, Museum curator, who plans to reconstruct the long-disintegrated wooden parts from existing drawings of this type of implement.

"I have seen only one like it, and that was in Henry Ford's Museum," Mr. Allen said.

Mr. Dewey, who has held office for many years and knows much of the history of Alexander County, also gave the University museum and an excellent specimen of "petrified" wood.

Handwritten text at the top left, possibly a name or address, including the word "London".

Handwritten text at the top right, possibly a date or reference number, including the word "1850".

Main body of the page containing several paragraphs of extremely faint, illegible handwritten text.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a margin note.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Dailies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. -Research, one of the distinguishing functions of a university, is getting under way at Southern Illinois University.

Six research projects to be conducted by faculty members have been approved by President Chester F. Lay, who authorized grants ranging from $15 to $400 to enable the investigators to secure materials, student assistants, and in some cases to travel over the area.

The projects include (1) study of practical effects of a new peach tree spray; (2) survey of the clays of Southern Illinois with a view to their use in development of a ceramics industry; (3) collection of Southern Illinois proverbs; (4) a survey of the educational resources of Southern Illinois; (5) a compilation of the history of the colorful "showboats", many of which have plied the Mississippi; and (6) a research project on 20th century drama.

To encourage research, the University has during the past two years allocated funds to provide materials and assistance for faculty members who wished to conduct original investigations.

During the next biennium, if the University's request for a four and one-half million dollar appropriation is approved by the General Assembly, larger quantities of money will be available for regional and other research, President Lay said. Among the contemplated new fields for investigation are horticulture, anthropology and archaeology, botany, museum materials of all kinds. It is proposed to secure research specialists in these subjects if funds can be obtained.

Research projects authorized this week will be carried on by Dr. Walter B. Welch, associate professor and chairman of the botany department; Ben P. Watkins, assistant professor of art; Miss Frances Barbour, associate professor of English; Dr. Douglas E. Lawson, professor of English; Dr. Harold E. Briggs, professor and chairman of the history department; and Miss Winifred Burns, assistant professor of English.

Dr. Welch will study the effect of naphthaleneacetic acid and its

Account of the ...

... ..

... ..

... ..

Main body of the document containing multiple paragraphs of text, which are extremely faint and illegible due to the quality of the scan.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a binding artifact. Visible characters include: t, w, h, r, t, I, e, s, t, m, n, i, s, t.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

-2-

socium salt on the flowering of peaches. He has already twice applied the acid to three plots of trees in three orchards at different localities from Belleville to Metropolis, and plans to make two more applications.

Watkins will test specimen samples of Southern Illinois clays to determine their suitability for casting, pressing and other methods of fabrication into pottery and other ceramic forms; their firing characteristics; adaptability for glazes and other finishes; creative and industrial possibilities. He proposes to compile the material he accumulates into several articles and a book.

Miss Barbour will collect folklore expressions that are indigenous to this area for inclusion in a Dictionary of American Proverbial Lore which is being compiled by the American Dialect Society.

Dr. Lawson, with Dr. Robert Browne of the University of Illinois, has been assigned the work of surveying and reporting on the educational resources of the lower 16 counties of Southern Illinois as a part of the cooperative study of Southern Illinois being conducted by Southern Illinois Normal University and the University of Illinois.

Dr. Briggs, who has already written extensively on the history of early theatrical ventures in this country, will compile a history of showboats, a subject that has never before been attempted. He explains that Southern is ideally located for the conduct of such a study, since many of the showboats have traveled up and down the Mississippi River near here.

Miss Burns will conduct an investigation into the sources of inspiration for the playwright Pinero's women characters, the material she acquires to be written as an article for publication in a scholarly periodical.

12/15/11

1870

1871

1872

1873

1874

1875

1876

1877

1878

1879

1880

1881

1882

1883

1884

1885

1886

1887

1888

1889

1890

1891

1892

1893

1894

1895

1896

1897

1898

1899

S
I
t
S
C
A
G
C
E
M
i
C
J
o

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-19-46

Special to Dailies and Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - Fifteen students at Southern Illinois Normal University have been notified of their inclusion in the 1946-47 edition of the National Publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

They are: Kathryn Alley of Sparta, Charles Beatty of Carbondale, Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City, Ted Cain of Eldorado, Avis Frank of Carbondale, June Fulkerson of Carbondale, Imogene Gray of Granite City, Jean Holmes of E. St. Louis, David Kenney of Carbondale, Bill Malinsky of Flora, Barbara Melvin of DuQuoin, Evelyn Parker of Bluford, Catherine Sullivan of Harrisburg, John Mulkin of Herrin, and Julius Swayne of DuQuoin.

Six other students named in last year's edition who are still in school will automatically be included: Richard Avis of Johnston City, Helen DeRuntz of Granite City, Dick Harmon of Granite City, James McGee of Granite City, Sam Milosevich of Zeigler, and Opal Ruff of Shelbyville.

###

Handwritten text at the top left, possibly a name or address, including the number '11'.

Handwritten text at the top right, possibly a name or address.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several lines of cursive script, likely a letter or document.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a binding margin, including words like 'S', 't', 'L', 'at', 'p', 'Un', 'to', 'pr', 'va', 'Mo', 'la', 'ch', 'fe', 'Th', 'ro', 'su', 'wh', 'Un', 'an', 'ou', 'al', 'act', 'pre', 'int'.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

12-19-46

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies & Weeklies

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. - A new radio series, broadcast five times a week, has been set up by Southern Illinois Normal University to be aired over Station WCIL, Carbondale, starting January 6, Miss Lorena Drummond, director of the University Information Service, has announced.

The new program series will place heavy emphasis on student personalities and student activities.

Scheduled each Monday through Friday every week that the University is in session, the programs will be broadcast from 2:15 to 2:30 p. m.

Students from speech classes will serve as announcers for all programs, a new group taking the assignment each month.

To be known as "University Time," the series will provide a variety of entertainment and informational programs including: Mondays, "Music Is Yours," presented by the music department and largely featuring student groups such as the band, orchestra and chorus; Tuesdays, student newscast; Wednesdays, "Campus Chatter," featuring student activities and organizations; Thursdays, "Little Theater," a radio play; Fridays, "Meet the Faculty," informal talks, round table discussions and interviews featuring faculty members on subjects of timely interest.

"We are happy to launch this new series of programs on a station which reaches the entire area of Southern Illinois which the University serves," Miss Drummond said. "This series will afford us an excellent opportunity to show the parents of University students, our alumni and other friends of the University how students are getting along, what they are learning in the classroom and in extracurricular activities.

"In the Friday programs, 'Meet the Faculty,' we propose to present informative discussions which will be of real value and interest to the people of this area."

###

...

...

...

...

...

...

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Release Wednesday

Carbondale, Ill., Jan. -A return engagement with Southeastern Missouri State University is on the docket for Southern Illinois Normal University Wednesday night as they travel down to Cape Girardeau to give the Indians a chance to even the season's count.

The Maroons and the Redskins tangled previously this year, with the Illinoisians taking a thrilling 42-39 victory before local fans.

Coach Lynn Holder's Maroons are now sole possessors of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference lead, after defeating Northern Illinois Normal last Saturday night 62-53, and will need this Cape game to keep them in peak form to take on State Normal next Saturday night at Normal.

Holder will probably throw at the Indians his five usual mainstays Johnny Sebastian of Odin and Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel at forward, Quentin Stinson of Eldorado at center, and Bob Colborn of Flora and Gene Hall of Galatia at guard.

The play-by-play account of this game will be carried by radio station WJPF of Herrin, with Les Thrasher describing the action.

The Maroons next home game will be on February 5, when they play host to the University of Chicago five in a non-conference contest.

###

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

[Faint, illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page]

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

from

Information Service

Southern Illinois Normal University

Southern Railway
Atlantic City

Atlantic City

Atlantic City

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side.

Southern Illinois
Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

12-23-46

Carbondale, Ill., Dec. --Prairie Du Rocher's famous La-Gui-Annee celebration on New Year's Eve this year will be permanently and completely recorded in pictures and on records by John W. Allen, curator of the museum of Southern Illinois Normal University.

The La-Gui-Annee ceremony has been observed in Prairie du Rocher since 1722, and for several years has been led by Captain Noah Duclos. As the custom has been carried on in America on New Year's Eve in the oldest French settlements up to the present date, a band of masqueraders composed of the young men of the town gather at sunset in some secret place dressed in grotesque costumes, and from there, steal upon the homes to surprise the residents by their serenading.

The song, La-Gui-Annee, is repeated to the accompaniment of fiddles until they are invited in and served with refreshments. Before midnight the townspeople have joined the band, and all gather in the town hall where the ball is opened by selection of the masqueraders of partners from the ladies in the audience, which is a great honor. This dancing and feasting is carried on until the bells ring for early mass celebration on New Year's Day.

(more)

1984

Volume 1, Number 1

Journal of Southern Illinois State University

The Journal of Southern Illinois State University is a peer-reviewed journal of research and scholarship in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. It is published quarterly by the University of Southern Illinois, Carbondale.

The journal is published by the University of Southern Illinois, Carbondale, and is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries. It is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries and is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries. The journal is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries and is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries.

The journal is published by the University of Southern Illinois, Carbondale, and is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries. It is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries and is a member of the Association of College and University Libraries.

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

-2

The origin of the ancient song La-Gui-Annee dates back to the history of the druids in Brittany, and was brought to America by the first emigrants from France. While the druidical worship dominated, Brittany people performed the practice at the end of each year of gathering gui, or mistletoe, for the New Year, the druid priests singing as they discharged this sacred duty in groves of oak trees. Hence came the name Gui-Annee, from gui-de-l'an-neuf, meaning mistle--of--the year--new.

Allen, museum curator, says that the University already has one recording of the song sung by the 80-year-old father of Percy Clerc of Prairie du Rocher, made by Allen, and David McIntosh, associate professor of music at Southern.

On the trip which Allen will make to the old French settlement this week, he will make arrangements for complete sound recording and pictures of the entire celebration. He will be assisted by Julius Swayne, University student from Du Quoin who is Allen's assistant in the museum.

#

The purpose of this service is to provide information to the public regarding the activities of the Southern Illinois Normal University. This information is being provided to the public in order to ensure that the public is kept informed of the university's progress and activities. The information is being provided to the public in order to ensure that the public is kept informed of the university's progress and activities.

1918

The information provided in this service is intended to be a general overview of the university's activities. It is not intended to be a comprehensive report on the university's activities. The information is being provided to the public in order to ensure that the public is kept informed of the university's progress and activities.

Southern Illinois Normal University

CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS

Information Service

LORENA DRUMMOND, ED.

Special to Southern Illinois Dailies

Carbondale, Ill. December -On the morning of December 26, while everyone else is sleeping off the effects of a hearty Christmas, Basketball Coach Lynn C. Holder and his Southern Illinois Normal University cagers will embarking on a journey that will take them to Kansas City, where they will make up one-fourth of the entries in the annual Yuletide tournament held there.

Although this is the first entry for the Maroons in this particular tourney, they are sure to receive a warm reception in the twin cities, as they captured the fancy of the fans last March by their fast breaking type of play as they won the National Inter-collegiate crown.

Southern will, more or less, be representing the east in this classic as the three other teams, Rockhurst College, Colorado A. & M., and St. Mary's, are from Kansas City, Hesperus, Colorado, and Los Angeles, respectively.

St. Mary's and Rockhurst will open the festivities on Friday night at 7 pm., while Southern and Colorado will vie in the later contest. On Saturday, the two losers will meet in the curtain-raiser, while the two first round victors will tangle for the tournament championship.

Holder has announced that he will take ten men to represent the Maroons and White. They are Johnny Sebastian, of Odin, Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel, Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, Bud Wilson of Fairfield, Bill Millspaugh of Norris City, Bob Colborn of Flora, John Kuzich of Johnston City, Gene Hall of Galatia, Charles Goss of Marion, and Leedio Cabutti of Johnston City.

The Maroons are currently riding on the crest of a two game winning streak, their season's record being five wins and three defeats. Their victories were over Onized Glass, Chefford Manufacturers, Washington University, Arkansas State, and Indiana State, while they have been knocked off by St. Louis University, Loyola University of the South, and Western Kentucky State Teachers

Local fans will have a chance to see the Southerners in action again on January 7, when they play host to Evansville College of Evansville, Indiana. Game time is set for 8:15 pm.

